Mayor Weeks Warns Against Growing Tendency To Rely On Federal Government For Aid

Solution of Local Problems Is Local Action—Advocates Ward Line Changes and Recommends Other Action in Address

"The government of the City of Newton for 1934, which is inaugurated today, renews its own fight against the evils of the general economic depression in order that our citizens shall not suffer from privation nor be obliged to bear intolerable tax burdens, so common in some municipalities. I have again been charged with the duties of the office of Mayor, and I consider it incumbent upon me at this time to express my appreciation of the honor thus conferred upon me, and my acknowledgment of the obligations and responsibilities which the office carries with it. These obligations and responsibilities, burdensome as present conditions make them, I shall endeavor to fulfill to the limit of my ability.

"Associated with me in the government of the city for the coming year are 23 members of the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee, 25 of whom are veterans in the service of the city, acquainted with the problems before us, all eager to do their share in solving them. The three new men are well qualified to take their places in the ranks, and to participate in the difficult work that is ahead of us. It becomes my pleasure at this time therefore, to welcome them as members of this city government. They will, I feel sure, soon discover—if not already acquainted with the fact—that we have had passed down to us in this city a heritage of honest and efficient government, not surpassed, in my opinion, in any other city;—the kind of government of which we are proud, and whose standards we are constantly striving not only to maintain but to bring to an ever increasing degree of perfection. I am confident that they will do their part with this ideal in mind, to the end that we may pass on to our successors an even better city government than that which has been handed over to us.

"The worst year of the depression is behind us. Definite indications of general improvement in business are noticeable and we can look to 1934 with greater hope. A year ago banks throughout the land were closing with distressing regularity; factories, shops and stores were failing in great numbers. Much of that has now changed. Millions then unemployed are back at work. Such improvement is effective not only in Newton, but throughout the United States. It is, in my opinion, a real sign of better days.

"I only wish at this time that I might honestly tell you, that, in my opinion, our troubles are over, and the future is filled with sunshine.

Such, however, I cannot do, for the 'last pull before the catch'—the 'final drive before the touchdown' is often the hardest. Before general prosperity returns to Newton and to the rest of the state and nation, there still remain many difficult problems to be solved—much more hard work to perform.

"I have, of course, no criticism to offer of the present program being followed by the Federal government, but I am forced to reiterate my belief that government as well as individual budgets must be balanced, and to remind the people of the city, whose government I head, that the millions and billions presently being expended by the Federal government must sometime be paid for, and that the people of this city, by and large, will be called upon to come forward with their share and more in meeting these obligations. One result of the program of our National government, however, gives me real concern. I think I see developing on the part of cities and towns and even states, a growing spirit of dependency, of 'lying down' on our government at Washington. It seems to me to be causing local government to break away from the spirit which has previously characterized these units and to bode ill for the future unless checked and kept within bounds. The City of Newton, and I believe all local government should strive to look after its own problems, to maintain a spirit of independence and self reliance, and to realize that the solution of our difficulties lies mainly in our own actions, and not in dependence upon the paternalism of our National government.

"Before proceeding with some suggestions, and recommendations, which I have in mind, it seems to me proper to say just a few words concerning the present condition of our city. Finance still constitute the keystone of every governmental structure, and it is gratifying to be able to say that Newton's credit is sound, and that it meets its obligations on time, and without the slightest difficulty. Our net debt as of January 1, 1934 is $6,093,809; a reduction of $443,559 from the net debt of one year ago. Furthermore, our borrowing capacity is $721,915, an increase of $229,064 from the comparative figure of January 1, 1933. When we have occasion to borrow money, we do so without difficulty, and at the lowest prevailing rates. The figures for the city surplus are not at present available. The surplus account as a whole, however, should compare favorably with that standing on our books 12 months ago, although the general Excess and Deficiency Account will be substantially lower due to heavy drains incurred during the latter part of 1933, by the demands of Public Welfare and necessary local expenses in connection with the Federal Civil Works program.

"Assuming the valuations as placed by our Board of Assessors to be fair, which I believe they are, the tax payers primary interest is the tax rate, which is, of course, the medium through which they determine their contribution to the cost of government in this city. At the present time our tax rate stands at $24.80—$8.90 lower than the average rate for the 39 cities of the state, and $3.20 lower than the next lowest municipal tax rate. Believing as I do that the cost of government in Newton should be kept as low as possible, I feel it incumbent on me to point out that strict economy in the operations of our various departments continues to be, in my judgment, necessary if we are to maintain the enviable position which we have established here in this city. In this connection, and to illustrate my (Continued on Page 7)

Rare and Lovely Costumes to Be Used In Benefit Show

Musical Fantasy To Be Presented in Aid of Mother's Rest

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Larz Anderson the Newton Dramatic Club will have the use of the rare and beautiful costumes and scenery used in the professional production, when they present on Saturday, Jan. 13th the musical fantasy "Princess Marina" in the Newton High School auditorium. Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Moses Gulesian co-authors of the play will be present. The theme is the love of a mermaid for a Prince. The three acts are very varied.

The first is a lovely vision of underseas with rich coloring of lights and exquisite effects of blue green background against which the ballets and soloists of the act develop the plot. The oriental garden of the Prince for whose love Marina seeks a land life is the setting of the next act with a large, richly colored monarch's tent and palace environment.

The deck of a ship is the third setting with flags and pennants flying, pirates in the rigging and gypsies dancing on the deck. In the play the prominent parts are the sea king and sea queen acted and sung by Edward Hale, Jr. and Elizabeth Cushman; the sea witch interpreted by Mrs. Allen Hubbard; the high priest by Mr. Hoyt Weston; the foreign envoy by Mr. Stanbrough Fernald. The gypsy queen will be Mrs. Frederick Knight. The leading dancer is Miriam Catheron who plays the part of the oriental bride. Mrs. Farrar Cobb will dance the exotic gypsy solo and other dancing soloists will be Nathalie Phenoff, Olivia Bigelow and Gwendolyn Guile.

A chorus of fifteen men and fifteen women have been selected for their excellent voices and are in training for the very many chorus songs. The leading parts are taken by the beautiful nineteen year old girl Marie Timmons who has a charming coloratura soprano voice and by John Tulloch, Jr. whose work as a tenor has had widespread success.

The dances of the Blue Waves group, of the Lotus Land, girls of the Sighs, the gypsy ballet and the Daughters of the Air and the Water Babies are under intensive rehearsal by the Mistress of the Dance Mrs. Hazel Sands Welch.

Bolton Wilder and his assistants will have the difficult task of lighting and stage management. Mrs. Earle Tilton is advertising manager. Mrs. H. R. Place is in charge of the tickets. Mrs. Austin Benton and Mrs. E. W. Varney are in charge of publicity.

So worthy is the charity that cares for poor mothers and children through the efforts of the Mothers' Rest Association that the greatest co-operation is found and a capacity audience is expected.

'Can Europe Avoid War' Lecture Topic

Sisley Huddleston will be the lecturer next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, in the course being given at the First Unitarian Church in West Newton. His subject will be "Can Europe Avoid War?"

Mr. Huddleston is famous on both sides of the Atlantic as diplomat, author and lecturer. He was formerly Paris correspondent for the London Times and is now political representative of the Christian Science Monitor. He is one of the most picturesque figures on the lecture platform and is universally acclaimed as one of the greatest living authorities on France in particular, Europe in general, and on Anglo-American relations. British by birth he is an American by adoption and French by virtue of residence. He combines politics with travel, authorship with fruit growing, profound study with jovial Bohemianism. He is one of those rare individuals who mingles humor and human understanding with essential seriousness. The biographer of Poincare and author of the stimulating study "Those Europeans," Mr. Huddleston has some eighteen volumes to his credit on a very wide range of subjects. On international matters he speaks with authority and in compelling fashion. A half-hour organ recital by William Ellis Weston, at 7:30, will precede the lecture which is open to the public.

Alvin R. Bailey, G. A. R. Veteran, Passes Away

Eighty-Eight Year Old Newton Man Was Prominent

Alvin R. Bailey of 16 Marlboro st., Newton, one of the city's best known residents, died on December 31st at the Newton Hospital of pneumonia. He was born in Charlestown on February 13, 1846 of Colonial ancestry. He moved to Somerville when a boy and graduated from the High School in that town. In 1864 he enlisted in the 5th Mass. Infantry and served in the Civil War. In 1884 he married Anna Leland of Somerville and shortly afterwards moved to Newton where he took an active part in social and civic affairs. He served in the Newton Common Council and was one of the original members of the Hunne Club. He was a member of many social and military organizations, including Abraham Lincoln Post, G. A. R. of Charlestown and the Ancient & Honorable Artillery. He was associated for many years with the Franklin Mining Company and was active in business until six months ago.

Slender and athletic, Mr. Bailey was vigorous up to his final illness. He was a prominent figure in parades, always walking the entire length of march. He had been active in the affairs of the Appalachian Mountain Club. His wife, who was prominent in women's organizations, died 19 years ago. He is survived by one sister, Miss Martha Bailey of Dedham; and by several nephews and nieces.

Funeral service was held at Cinnamon Church, Newton on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Cole officiated. Mr. Bailey was the oldest member of this church. Delegations were present from the G. A. R., the Ancient and Honorable Artillery, V. F. W., and other organizations. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Lt. Gov. Bacon to Speak at Highlands

The next meeting of the Men's Club of Newton Highlands will take place in the Congregational Church, Newton Highlands, on January 11th. As usual, dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock, following which Lieutenant Governor Gaspar G. Bacon will speak.

Seated at the head table, with President G. Harry Adalian, of the Men's Club, will be the following notables: Lieutenant Governor Gaspar G. Bacon, Mayor Sinclair Weeks, Speaker of the House of Representatives Leverett Saltonstall, General Daniel Needham, Senator Arthur W. Hollis, Representative William B. Baker and Representative Clarence S. Luitwieler.

Mayor Weeks will, it is expected, give a brief talk, and will then introduce the Lieutenant Governor, whose address will cover matters of great public interest.

There will be music during the dinner and again at the conclusion of Lieutenant Governor Bacon's speech, when the Countess Ruth Shaljian, who has an extremely beautiful voice, will sing. Altogether the program for the evening of January 11th promises to be outstanding and a very large attendance is assured.

Newton Police Win Honor as Marksmen

In the revolver matches recently concluded between competing teams from police departments of the New England States the team of the Newton Police Department made a very creditable showing, advancing during the year from the third class to the first class. Seventy-six teams competed in the matches; of this number seventeen teams acquired sufficient proficiency to be rated in the first division. The Newton team was composed of Patrolmen Dave Dalton, John McGrath, Joseph Smith and Daniel Keating.

Dalton and McGrath displayed especial skill, ranking among the leaders in the hundreds of police marksmen. Dalton was sixth in the list of the three perfect scores made during the contests, Dalton made one and McGrath another. The team has been coached by Richard Dwyer, Treasurer of the Newton Buick Company, who is prominent in the activities of the Massachusetts Rifle Association.

Gunmen Hold Up Newton Ctr. Store

Benjamin Brower of 84 Devon st., Roxbury conducts a market at 554 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre. He did not keep this market closed on New Year's Day and the result was not a "Happy New Year" for Mr. Brower. Brower and two of his employees, David Goldstein of Dorchester and Robert Corbett of Brookline were working at the market on Monday taking stock. The place was also open for sales of food. About 4 in the afternoon two young men entered the store and purchased a pound of butter. Fifteen minutes later the pair returned, forced Brower and his clerks at gun point to retreat into a back room, looted the cash register, and then made their escape in an automobile which had been parked near the market with a third man at the wheel of the car.

Many Weddings, Engagements in Holiday Season

Newton Young People United In Marriage or Announce Betrothal

The marriage of Miss Miriam Louise Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. Wm. T. A. Fitzgerald, Register of Deeds, and Mrs. Fitzgerald, of Boston, to Herbert William Reinhard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Reinhard of 257 Cabot st., Newtonville, took place on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 27th, at St. Anne's Church, Boston. The ceremony took place at four o'clock and was performed by Rev. Fr. Cart of St. Cecilia's Church, Back Bay.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father wore a gown of white satin trimmed with a yoke of lace and a long tulle veil held in place by bands of pearls. Her sister, Mrs. Robert J. Boyd, as matron of honor, wore midnight blue crepe with hat to match.

Mr. Joseph Hennessey of Brookline was the best man. The ushers were William B. Fitzgerald, brother of the bride, Robert J. Bond, Donald Mitsch and Herbert F. Reinhard, cousin of the groom of New York.

A reception and dinner for about sixty-five guests were given at the Copley-Plaza Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Reinhard will make their home in Chicago where he is a representative of a New England concern.

Mrs. Reinhard attended Boston University and is a member of the Sigma Delta Phi Sorority. Mr. Reinhard is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and during the World War served as a lieutenant in the Ordnance Department.

RICHARDS—LEIGHTON

Mrs. Eugene Wilson Leighton of Newtonville announces the marriage of her daughter, Elizabeth, to Mr. Greenough T. Richards, son of Mrs. and the late Prof. Theodore W. Richards of Cambridge. The ceremony took place on January first at eight o'clock in the evening at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville. Rev. Randolph S. Merrill performed the ceremony.

The bride wore ivory satin with a tulle veil and coronet of duchesse lace. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids.

Miss Leighton was given in marriage by her mother and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Winthrop S. Clapp of Auburndale, matron of honor, and Miss Ruth Stuart of Danvers as maid of honor. The bride's attendants were gowned in turquoise blue crepe, hats of silver, and bouquets of yellow roses. Mr. Ross M. Cunningham of Belmont was Mr. Richards' best man.

The ushers were Prof. William T. Richards of Princeton, New Jersey, Mr. James H. Barr of Cambridge, Mr. Alexander Hawes of Washington, D. C. and Mr. Otis M. Whitney of Concord. Budle and white chrysanthemums were used for decorations in the chancel.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of Mrs. Frederic W. Clapp in Auburndale.

After a short wedding trip the young couple will reside in Concord.

MACDONALD—HUNTING

Miss Ruth Lincoln Hunting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Hunting of 28 Champa ave., Newton Upper Falls and Mr. Russell Loring MacDonald son of Mr. and Mrs. George MacDonald of Southboro, Mass., were married at the home of the bride's parents on Wednesday evening, December 27 at 7 p. m.

Rev. G. Vaughan Shedd pastor of the First M. E. Church officiated in the presence of relatives and intimate friends.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Hope L. Hunting and the groom's attendant was Mr. Whitman T. Kempton of Elliot st., Upper Falls. Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald will reside in Natick.

BARRETT—LAWSON

Mrs. Edith Kenney Lawson of Brookline was married to Harry Wyman Barrett of West Newton on December 30th at the Harvard Church, Brookline. Rev. Dr. Ashley Day Leavitt performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Walter Barton Leach was the bride's attendant and Mr. George H. Dresser was the best man. Mr. and Mrs. Barrett spend the New Year in New York City going later to Quebec, and on their return will make their home at 1445 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton.

ROGERS—BOARDMAN

Miss Mary Boardman, niece of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wogan of 314 Kendrick st., Newton was married to Arthur Clark Rogers of Chicago, Illinois on Friday evening, December 29th, at seventy-three in St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville. Rev. Raymond Lang performed the ceremony. Mrs. Wogan was the matron of honor and Robert Sheridan of Boston was the best man.

A dinner and dance at the Brae Burn Country Club followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers will make their home in Chicago, where Mr. Rogers is in the employ of a large insurance company. Mrs. Rogers was formerly a resident of Lowell, Mass.

Mayor Weeks and Other City Officials Take Oath Of Office At Inauguration

Is First In New City Hall—Few Changes From Last Year—Committees of Aldermen Are Named

In the beautiful aldermanic chamber at Newton's new city hall last Monday afternoon the inauguration of the 1934 city government was held. Mayor Sinclair Weeks was inducted into office for a third time, fourteen aldermen and two members elect of the School Committee took the oath of office. The inaugural ceremonies were witnessed by a gathering of about 125 citizens.

The meeting of the new Board of Aldermen was called to order at 3 o'clock by City Clerk Grant. Alderman John Gordon, as senior member of the Board, was chosen temporary chairman. The City Clerk then read the roll call of the members. Mr. Gordon then appointed a committee to escort Mayor Weeks into the aldermanic chamber. The committee was comprised of Aldermen Holden, Howlett and Murray. The Mayor was accompanied by Judge William F. Bacon, Rev. Herbert Hitchen and Hon. Charles E. Hatfield. Rev. Mr. Hitchen, who is minister of the First Unitarian Church, West Newton, delivered the invocation and the oath of office was then administered to the Mayor by Judge Bacon.

The Mayor then delivered his inaugural address. In addition to his prepared address, Mayor Weeks stated that the CWA program may be extended beyond February 13th, and that if this is the case, the aldermen should study new projects on which the men obtaining employment through the CWA may find work.

The Mayor also referred to the new incinerator which will be built by means of a loan of $200,000 received from the P.W.A. He said the purpose of this incinerator is for the disposal of garbage, waste paper and other rubbish; that it will take from 6 to 9 months to erect, and that the aldermen should at once start a study of the problems involved by the construction and operation of this incinerator.

The Mayor, following his address, gave the oath of office to the following Aldermen-Elect—Howlett, Sproat, Grebenstein, Hill, Bowen, Farrell, Cronin, Gordon, Chandler, Temperley, Goddard, Holden, Melcher and Murray. He also administered the oath of office to the members-elect of the School Committee—Mrs. Kate Cornell and Harry E. Bryant. All seven members of the School Committee were present at the inaugural exercises. After the inaugural exercises had been concluded, Mayor Weeks was escorted from the hall by the committee. The aldermen then unanimously re-elected Roy V. Collins as president of the Board, and Thomas M. Gallagher as vice-president. They also unanimously re-elected Francis Newhall as City Collector and Treasurer and Daniel A. White as City Comptroller.

The new Board of Aldermen then took a short recess, following which the City Treasurer was authorized to borrow $4,379,000 for the running expenses of the city, in anticipation of revenue. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the annual dinner of the Board of Aldermen. This committee is composed of Aldermen Floyd, Jamieson and Chandler.

Aldermanic Committee for 1934

Because of the retirement of Aldermen Hawkins and Pratt, several changes have been made in the appointments to committees in the Newton Board of Aldermen. Alderman Donald M. Hill of Ward 2 succeeds Mr. Hawkins as chairman of the Franchises and Licenses Committee. This is a very important assignment and requires considerable sacrifice of time to fill efficiently. James B. Melcher, new Alderman from Ward 7, succeeds Mr. Hawkins as the member on the committee from that ward.

Paul M. Goodard, newly elected Ward Alderman from Ward 6, succeeds Ronald W. Cordingley on the committee. Mr. Cordingley is advanced to the Public Works Committee to succeed Alderman Sydney Holden, who is promoted to the Finance Committee where he will succeed former Alderman Norman Pratt. Mr. Holden, however, retains his membership on the important Claims and Rules Committee. The other members of the License Committee, Aldermen Cronin, Farrell, McKay, and Sproat, served on this committee last year. Farrell, Hill and Sproat are equal in point of service, having already served two years each on the committee.

The Finance Committee, regarded as the most important committee of the Board of Aldermen, is again headed by John H. Gordon as chairman. The other members are Bowen, Chandler, Gallagher, Holden, Jamieson and Collins. The membership of the Public Works Committee remains the same as last year (with the exception of Alderman Cordingley replacing Alderman Holden). Alderman Murray is chairman and the other members are Cordingley, Floyd, Grebenstein, Howlett, Hutchinson and Temperley.

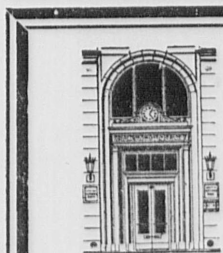

One change is made in the Claims and Rules Committee, Alderman Gordon of Ward 4 is replaced by Alderman Floyd of that ward. This committee is composed of Aldermen Grebenstein, chairman; Bowen, Chandler, Floyd, Holden, Murray and Sproat. The personnel of the Public Buildings Committee is the same as in 1933, except that Alderman Melcher replaces ex-Alderman Hawkins. The other members are Gallagher, chairman; Cordingley, Floyd, Farrell, Hill and Temperley.

On the less important committees, the Education Committee is the same as last year; Temperley, chairman; Farrell and McKay. On the Kenrick Fund Committee one change is made; Temperley succeeds Hill and Hutchinson is made chairman. A couple of changes were made on the Legislation Committee. Alderman Temperley, who had been a member of this committee for six years, was not reappointed. He was replaced by Alderman McKay, who was also made chairman of the committee, succeeding former Alderman Pratt, who was chairman. Alderman Goddard is the new member on the committee from Ward 6. The other members are Farrell, Gordon, Grebenstein, Jamieson and Sproat.

The Select Committee are as follows: Mayor's Address, Howlett, chairman; Farrell, Goddard, McKay and Melcher; Street Traffic, Grebenstein, chairman; Gordon and Jamieson; Water Supply, Jamieson, chairman; Gallagher, Murray, Hutchinson and Collins; School Buildings, Floyd, chairman; Hutchinson and McKay.

when he was the idol of millions of European people seeking autonomy," said William Frayer, formerly President of the University Travel Bureau, and Professor of History at the University of Michigan, when addressing the Newton, Watertown, and Concord Rotary Clubs at the Brae Burn Club on the subject, "What Next in Europe?"

Mr. Frayer gave a very comprehensive background of world conditions by outlining the conditions, economic and social, of the United States with special reference to the hearing they had on the European situation. He stated that Mr. Roosevelt had made a very strong appeal to the world by his initiative, resource and courage, but has yet to show the European nations just what our nation is doing.

The speaker deplored the apparent development of nationalism and the displacement of internationalism. The former trend seems to be given prominence due, he thought, to a necessity for closer attention because of their own particular internal problems, as illustrated by developments in Italy, Germany, and Japan.

The speaker concluded by making a very strong appeal for international co-operation and a program and philosophy whereby war by governments shall be changed to Peace by peoples.

The local club was the host to the Watertown and Concord Clubs and about one hundred were in attendance.

ANNUAL MEETING OF HOSPITAL
AID ASSOCIATION

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Hospital Aid Association will be held on Tuesday, January 9, at eleven o'clock. The business meeting will be followed at noon with a program by the student nurses demonstrating their work with a project and with a extra-curricular activities. They will present a fantasy in one act entitled
"The Troll and the Toll Bridge" with an all-freshman cast of Mary Thacher, Genevieve Blaney, Charlotte Stearns, Ellen Seavey, Esther Nelson, Janet Kendall, Norma Larson.

A small group of student nurses will render a group of songs including "The Home Road," "Out of the Dusk," "The Magnet and the Churn."
At one o'clock luncheon will be served by the Hospital under the direction of Mrs. Pitt Drew assisted by Mrs. C.
P. Hall, Miss Florence Tower, Mrs.
Ernest Weaver, Mrs. John Coward,
Mrs. Frank Anderson, Mrs. Howard
North, Mrs. D. Morley Lodge, Miss Rose Loring, Mrs. Charles Bartlett, Miss Mary Sawyer.

CLAFLIN CLUB TO HOLD "LADIES' NIGHT"

The annual "Ladies' Night" for the Clafin Club is to be held this year
Friday, January 19, 1934. Dr. Payson Smith, the State Commissioner of Education, will be the speaker. Dr.
Smith has been the State Commissioner of Education for Massachusetts since 1918. He came to this State from Maine where he was the State Superintendent of Public Schools from 1907 to 1917. Dr. Smith's subject will be "Education at the Crossroads." In view of the financial crisis which exists today in the field of education with several thousand teachers unemployed and with hundreds of schools closed and students in idleness because school sessions are not being held in many school districts, this subject is very timely. Dr.
Smith is a very able speaker and his long experience in this field assures the club a most profitable evening.

HUNNEWELL PLAYERS TO STAGE
"TORCH BEARERS"

The Hunnewell Club Players will present the well-known stage play
"The Torch Bearers" on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Jan. 17th and 18th, in the clubhouse hall. The cast includes many of those who have taken part in previous performances of this talented amateur group.

FIFTY-SEVEN 'SECONDS

To the Editor:
The Election Officers were wearily counting ballots at the recent City Election. It was some time in the week, small hours of the morning.
The place was the Newton Corner Fire Department Headquarters. All of a sudden a bell sounded, and immediately we were on our feet. For some unknown reason I took my watch from my pocket, and looking at the second hand, firmly fixed the time in my mind. There was a noise as of busy and hastening feet on the floor above; then several forms began to slide down the immaculately polished brass poles to the floor where the apparatus was awaiting the starting of their motors. What a sight it was to see Capt. Frank S. Frost and his competent assistants, roused from a sound sleep, rush to their respective positions, fully clothed and out of the building in fifty-seven seconds.
With service of this nature it is no wonder that Newton's loss by fire is so small and that the Fire Department as a unit ranks as one of the best.

HAROLD MOORE,
Warden, Ward 1, Precinct 2.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON SEXTET TIES
ARLINGTON IN OPENER

Newton High and Arlington High hockey teams battled to a 4-4 tie last Saturday in one of the four games which opened the Greater Boston In-terscholastic hockey season at the Boston Garden last Saturday. In other games Cambridge Latin defeated Stoneham, 4 to 1, Melrose edged Rindge Tech, 3 to 2 and Medford nosed out Belmont, 2 to 1. The Newton-Arlington game was the most thrilling of the four with the Newton team stepping out to a 3 to 0 lead early in the second period. Arlington then staged a rapid comeback to tie the count at 3-all during the first five minutes of the third period.
Newton's final tally, coming 37 seconds before the end of the game, seemed to assure victory but Al Lane became the Arlington hero scoring the tying goal five seconds before the final bell.

Newton's first counter was made by Tom Griffin on a pass from Charlie Thackery after the latter had carried up the center lane less than four minutes after the game began. Three minutes later Johnny Waters counted on a pass from Joe Green. Griffin made it 3 to 0 with a solo dash about four minutes after the second period began. Arlington then shifted to a four man offense which produced results late in the session and early in the final period. From a scrimmage and faceoff in front of the Arlington cage McCutcheon slapped in the final Newton tally. In the remaining half minute to play goalie Burt Woodward was relentlessly bombarded by the Arlington players with Lane eventually counting.

Coach Dr. Oscar Martin of Newton started Thackery and Ernie McLeod at right and left wing. Tom Griffin at centre, and Teddy Johnson and Gus Castoldi on the defence. Thack-ery was replaced by Joe Green, Mc-Leod by Waters and Griffin by Mc-Cutcheon as the second forward line.
Hallett relieved Castoldi at left defence while Johnson and Woodward, goalie, played the entire game.

Tomorrow afternoon Newton meets Melrose in one of the four games scheduled for the Garden surface.

NEWTON FIVE OPENS
SEASON WITH VICTORY

The Newton High school basketball five opened its 1934 season on Wednesday afternoon with an overtime victory at Natick High in a 30-27 game. The Newton quintet led by the flashy forward combination of Captain Charlie Flagg and Claude

Frazier staged a brilliant comeback in the second half to wind up the regular periods in a 26 tie. In the five minute extra session the Newton team cut loose to score five points to the home team's solitary tally. At the end of the half Newton was trailing on the short end of a 16-7 count but in the third period almost overtook the Natick team. Going into the fourth period Natick led 22 to 21 but at the end of the session Newton had knotted the score. Frazier was the high scorer of the game with seven goals from the floor for a total of fourteen points. He was followed by Flagg who tossed in five from the floor and two on free tries for twelve points giving the two Newton forwards a total of 26 of the 30 points scored by the Newton team. Curry at centre and Donovan, right guard, each tossed a basket from the floor for the remaining points. Jimmy Bryne and Donald Skauen, substitute right guards and left guard Spellman were the other Newton players.

The local five opens its home season this afternoon, entertaining Westboro High.

COACH ENOCH HAS TASK IN DEVELOPING
H. S. TRACK TEAM

Coach Donald Enoch faces a difficult task this winter in developing a track team at Newton High school that will carry the standard set by teams of recent years. With but few veterans returning from last year's team there are but meagre prospects for outstanding stars. However, the Newton mentor is far from discouraged. He has the best looking squad of sophomore prospects in many years.
Most of them are large youths with a willingness to learn and with a season's experience and the development of the competitive instinct should provide a fine nucleus for the 1935 outfit. Some of these lads may come along fast under the tutelage of the popular Newton mentor and be valuable assets to this season's outfit. At the present time the Newton team seems to be one which should be strong in dual meets and problematic in interscholastic competition. In recent years the teams have leaned the other way—that is, to one which was strong in a few events, giving it the opportunity to score heavily in in-terscholastic meets, yet somewhat weaker in dual competition through its inability to cash in on sufficient second and third places.

The 1934 team is captained by Louis Miller, a good 300-yard runner who has been clocked in 37 2/5 seconds in sneakers on the Newton indoor

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newton Center Woman's Club

The International committee of the Newton Center Woman's Club will hold a Supper, followed by a lecture and discussion, on Monday, January 8th, at 6:30 p. m. Mr. Raymond L. Buell, recently-elected president of the Foreign Policy Association, will speak on "European Tangles." Mr. Buell is known as an able speaker, with a vast fund of knowledge and wide experience. He is in constant contact with international problems and the changing trends abroad. Supper reservations at 65 cents should be made with Mrs. Lucius E. Thayer, W. N. 1115 by January 6th. Club members and their friends will be admitted at 7:30 o'clock, to hear the speaker, for a fee of 25 cents.

Dr. Miriam Franc Skirball will begin another of her very interesting series of Book Talks, on Tuesday, January 9th, at 10 a. m. Tickets for the entire series of six lectures at $2.50, or for single talks at 75 cents, may be obtained from the Literature committee, or at the door. Dr. Skirball's subject on this date will be the "Best Novels of the Season." The second Book Talk will be held on January 23rd, and the subject will be "Testament of Youth," by Vera Brittain.

The American Home committee announces three Cooking Lectures and demonstrations by Miss Ruth M. Feeney, director of the Home Service department of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, to be given at 9:45 a. m. on Wednesdays, the 10th, 17th, and 24th. The subjects are: on the 10th, "Buffet Meals"; on the 17th, "When Friends Drop In"; and on the 24th, "Capitalize on Your Frozen Assets." On Thursday, January 11th, at 10 a. m., Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will give the second of her talks on Current Events.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

An illustrated lecture is to be given by the Hamburg American Line on "Around the World Cruise" to the members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on the evening of Monday, the 8th of January, following the business meeting which takes place at 8 o'clock in Emerson School Hall. Mrs. Ernest Burrows is the club chairman arranging for this entertaining illustrated lecture.

Waban Woman's Club

On Monday, January 8th, the members of the Waban Woman's Club are to have the long-anticipated pleasure of hearing Dr. George E. Vincent, who is widely known as an educator and university executive. He was president of the Rockefeller Foundation from 1917 to 1930, and under his direction the Foundation has co-operated with governments in medical education and in the further development of general public health organizations. He takes as his subject "An Adventure in Latin America," and as he has a reputation as an interesting and vital speaker, the address is sure to have much to offer.

The hostess for the social hour which follows the program will be Mrs. Paul Remick and Mrs. Henry C. Robbins.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

On January 8th the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet with Mrs. Edward G. Swift of Woodcliff rd. Miss Marion Morse will review Gamaliel Bradford's Memoirs, and Mrs. C. P. Clark and Mrs. R. E. Clarke will present Current Events.

Newtonville Woman's Club

On January 11th, Mrs. Henry J. Baringer's committee will meet for the monthly Sewing Day at the Newton Hospital. A full meeting is looked for, and the chairman would be glad to welcome volunteers to work on surgical dressings, sewing, or mending.

The American Home committee, of which Mrs. Edward O. Woodward is chairman, will sponsor an open meeting on January 9th at 2:30 p. m. Miss Ruth M. Feeney, director of the Home Service department of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company will conduct a demonstration-lecture entitled "Use Magic in the Good-for-You Foods," and will illustrate her talk with charts. Members may bring friends.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club will meet at the home of Miss Margaret Heston, 5 Vista avenue, on Tuesday morning, January 9th.

Following the business meeting a play will be given, those taking part will be Mrs. Percival Wood, Mrs. William N. Tenny, and Mrs. Charles W. Blood.

West Newton Junior Women's Educational Club

The next meeting of the Junior members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held on January 9th at the West Newton Library. The speaker of the evening will be Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader, mother of one of the Juniors. Mrs. J. William Crowell, chairman of the Junior department of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, will be a guest of honor. The mothers of the Juniors are also invited to be guests at this meeting.

Social Science Club

Miss Geraldine Gordon will give an informal talk on Current Books before the Social Science Club on January 10th, in the Channing Church Parlor. Mrs. Joe W. Gerrity and Mrs. Joseph H. Powers will be hostesses.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The American Home committee, Mrs. Raymond Floyd, chairman, is having a lecture demonstration on "Oven Meals and the Leisurely Hostess" at the Workshop on Thursday, January 11th, at 10 a. m. This demonstration is given through the kindness of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and all members of the Club are invited to attend and to bring their friends.

Any girls in the community between the ages of 18 and 24 who are interested in the possibility of a Junior Club are invited to meet at the Workshop on Monday evening, January 15th, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. C. Willson, president of the Newton Federation, and Miss Martha Wright, president of the Newton Centre Junior Club, will describe what is done by other Junior Clubs.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

On Friday, January 12th, the Hon. Anna C. M. Tillinghast will be the speaker at the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club at the Second Church, West Newton. Her subject will be "Immigration and Its Problems," and she will also talk on the problem of Communism in this country and its dangers, since there are many aspects of this problem which are of interest to the general public. Mrs. Tillinghast, as is well-known, is one of the ablest public speakers of today, and has a thorough knowledge of her subject.

The Travel class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold its first January meeting on Monday, January 8th, at the home of Mrs. Arthur D. Batson, 58 Orchard avenue. Mrs. Willard C. Church will be assisting hostess, and the papers will be read by Mrs. Wilson C. Dort, whose subject is "Berlin," and by Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield, on "Industrial Centres" of Germany.

The next in the series of Contract lessons for the members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, under the supervision of Mrs. John S. Franklin, will be held on January 11th, at the home of Mrs. William D. Keefe, 112 Prospect street, Wellesley Hills. These classes, which were so successful socially as well as financially last spring, promise to be equally successful this winter, as more and more of the Club members become interested in improving their technique in the game.

Boston Woman's Civics Club

Wellesley College students will be the speakers at the International Relations meeting of the Boston Woman's Civics Club at Hotel Brunswick, on Wednesday, January 10th, at 2:15 p. m. Miss Dorothy Goddard will sing. Mrs. John A. Groves, of Newton Centre, is the chairman in charge of the meeting. All interested clubwomen will be welcome at this program.

Newton Community Club

For the regular Club meeting on next Thursday afternoon, the 11th of January, at 2:30 o'clock, in Underwood School Hall, what promises to be a most colorful program has been arranged. "A Trip Through the Caribbean" is offered by the United Fruit Company which takes the audience on a cruise through the waters in an illustrated lecture. Such a trip has allure in these winter days.

The Music of the afternoon promises to be equally enjoyable—Mr. Vincent Spolizio, Tenor, who prepared for opera in Paris, and now residing in Boston. Mrs. Wallace Wales, chairman of Music, and Mrs. Maurice W. Dennison, chairman of Drama, are presenting this entertainment.

The Mothers' Club of the Stearns School Center will be guests of the Club at this meeting. The Community Service committee of the Club, Mrs. Raymond Lehrer, chairman, appeals to members for clothing for the Mayor's Relief Clothing Chest. The clothing bins are practically empty, they state, and with these two coming hard winter months the need is great. This committee serves in dispensing articles on the second and fourth Wednesdays of the month. Any who have articles to contribute are asked to telephone to the chairman, W. N. 0624M, who will see that these are called for and delivered at City Hall.

The Juniors of the Club will hold their January meeting on Monday, the 8th, in Grace Church Parlor, at 3 o'clock, when a speaker from the Children's Hospital will present their movie and talk on this work. As the Juniors are now making scrap books for this Hospital, the program should be particularly timely.

State Federation

RADIO. Tomorrow, January 6th, at 11:15 o'clock, the Third District director, Mrs. George Davis, Jr., will be heard in a talk on "Our Contribution to the Future," and the chairman of the division of Community Service, Mrs. Leon P. Dutch, in one on "Multiplying Interests." Music will be a Tenor soloist, Doric Alviani. The station is WBZ.

In connection with the State Federation Radio broadcasts, your editor hopes that many Newton clubwomen "listened in" last Saturday morning, the 30th, and heard Mrs. Poole give in her ten minute period ideas worth considering. As usual her vivid personality went over, arresting attention, and proving the active creative power of our General Federation president, in propounding questions that give pause to those of whom she inquires. Speaking of the campaign for buying which is part of the NRA, she told of the comment made by a store manager in criticism of women's judgment, when he told her that if his goods were marked as cheaply as he could afford to sell them, women would not purchase them, but would do so, if he marked the price higher. As might have been expected this opinion of women did not appeal to Mrs. Poole. (She might well have told him that this foolish attitude is common to both sexes, being the human one.) And it gave Mrs. Poole an idea, which she proceeded to test, in an interview with the Commissioner of Standards. She asked him why it would not be possible for the Bureau to obtain a grading of prices, the lowest and highest for which certain merchandise should be sold, by regions, since, of course, prices for the north, south, east, and west would have to vary on account of local conditions, and these be given a page in the daily newspapers for the information of women. She quite pertinently raised the question with him as to why men should have a daily page giving them such information as to the stock market, and women, who are the buyers of the country, should have no guide for their markets.

One hopes her idea will bear fruit! At any rate it proves the activity of her mind, and why she is looked to with more and more respect and interest and hopefulness by the leading personages of the world.

GENERAL FEDERATION BOARD MEETING. A group of Massachusetts clubwomen, including Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, Mrs. Carl W. Illig, Jr., and Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, will leave Monday, January 8th, for Washington, to attend the Annual Mid-Winter Meeting of the Board of Directors of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held from January 9th to 13th at General Federation Headquarters. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation, will preside. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will be the honor guest and speaker at a special dinner on January 12th at the Mayflower Hotel. Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers and heads of several national organizations will also attend. Leaders in the National Recovery Program, including General Hugh Johnson, will address the meeting. Women from every State in the Union will assemble for these sessions.

RECENT EVENTS

Newtonville Woman's Club

At the second annual Community Sing and Christmas Tree featured on Washington park, opposite the Newtonville Woman's Club House, trumpeters who volunteered their services made the Christmas Eve celebration even more a success.

Mrs. Percy E. Woodward, chairman of the Drama committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club, supervised the production of the five tableaux presented in the tower doorway of the Club House. The vividness and the blending of the colors and the perfect placement of the characters in the tableaux were very fitting with the Christmas observance.

Mr. Frederick Briggs, platformed on the lawn of the Club House, led the carol singers, while the words of each carol were thrown on a screen, making it possible for everyone to sing.

Another Club Day program of the Newtonville Woman's Club was enjoyed at the activity centre on Washington park on Tuesday afternoon, January 2nd.

Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe, the president, very graciously extended New Year's greetings to the Club members before introducing Mrs. Elsie Greenwood, the Soprano soloist of the afternoon. Mrs. Greenwood generously substituted in place of Mrs. Watson F. Baker, cellist, who was ill. Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols, chairman of the Music committee, accompanied Mrs. Greenwood in a group of three solos.

Dr. Rollo Walter Brown, biographer, novelist, educator, and "friend of youth," entertained with his instructive lecture entitled "The Creative Spirit and Youth." He was most emphatic in his theme that the crying need of the country as a whole today is the creative spirit of youth in every pioneering project; that in our American life we need a philosophy which will be satisfying in every respect to make a wholesome whole and that it is our duty right now to recognize the fact that the creative youth has a most definite and important place in the scheme of things.

The Art committee, under Mrs. Carl G. Cutler as chairman, provided the third in its series of unprecedented exhibits. The paintings and objects from China and old Tibet were lent by Mrs. Percy E. Woodward who has spent some time in the Orient collecting rare and valuable pieces.

Following the lecture and exhibit, Mrs. Henry M. Weidner, chairman of the Hospitality committee, served refreshments. She was assisted by Mrs. J. Mace Andrews, Mrs. Herbert F. Blair and Mrs. Frank E. Winsor as pourers, and by Mrs. D. T. Galison, Mrs. Dudley Hovey, and Mrs. Theodore M. Reed as hostesses.

THE PARKWAY EXTENSION AGAIN

Last week the Aldermen voted to accept the $100,000 remaining as the balance unexpended by the Metropolitan District Commission in extending the Hammond Pond Parkway through Hammonds Woods to Beacon street with the stipulation that these funds will be used to bring the parkway route through to Commonwealth avenue. The question of where this extension of the route will be located is one which is still undecided and which at the present time is not necessary to discuss. It would have been "penny wise and pound foolish" to have permitted the grant to lapse without acceptance by the city. Now the city has until June, 1935, before the extension must be under way, which should provide plenty of time for further careful study of all proposed routes or possible new ones before a final decision is necessary. We fully realize that no matter where the route is located it will meet with objections from some persons. It is another case where the greatest good for the greatest number is the paramount issue.

MUNICIPAL SALARIES

At the school committee meeting last week it was voted to continue the seven and one-half per cent reduction in salaries instituted last year, indicating that the same procedure will be followed by the administration regarding all municipal salaries. We believe that this is sound procedure. While improved economic conditions are indicated we are by no means "out of the woods" yet. It is far better to continue the retrenchments now in existence than to take a leap in the dark and trust that the necessary funds will be available. Later in the year it may be found possible to restore the previous salary schedules which would be both advisable and welcome if warranted.

EVERY WOMAN

should read

this IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

Miss Elizabeth Lane will be in Newtonville for one week beginning Monday, January 15th. Miss Lane will be at our Beauty Salon during that week for the purpose of giving the women of Newtonville the benefit of her expert knowledge of skin analysis and the secret of beauty make-up. Miss Lane will diagnose your individual skin and prescribe the correct treatment you should use.

Miss Lane comes direct from the famous VELV-REY Studios of New York City and has the highest reputation as a skin specialist. She will offer complimentary facial treatments, thorough skin analysis and individual beauty make-up diagnosis. You are cordially invited to take advantage of this unusual offer whether you are a regular customer or not. There is absolutely no charge but we ask that you telephone in advance to avoid disappointment.

Only the famous VELV-REY creams and lotions are used by Miss Lane, because these products are all vitimized with the correct amount of Vitamin D which "bathes your skin in sunshine." Newtonville women are fortunate to have the opportunity of taking advantage of Miss Lane's advice.

Telephone for an appointment now.

SCHOOL CHATS

An authoritative article each week covering important and interesting phases of public school organization and activity. Prepared under the direction of the School Department.

THE WORK OF THE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL COUNSELOR

"Good morning, Mr. Brown," said Miss Smith, a seventh grade teacher, to the eighth grade guidance counselor. "Will you see what you can do for John Black? He doesn't seem to be getting anywhere in his school work, especially in Latin and Mathematics. He lacks interest and so makes little effort. He is becoming sullen and resents constructive criticism. Something certainly seems to be preventing him from making a happy and successful adjustment to our school life. Won't you look into the matter?"

And so Mr. Brown started to get all the information he could about John. He found from the Physical Director that John had been losing weight since school began. He said John was easily fatigued and seemed "on edge" when playing with the other boys, taking offense when none was intended. John's previous achievement test results and his intelligence tests were closely related over a period of six years, so that Mr. Brown could be reasonably sure that John was capable of doing average work. The audiometer retest showed quite a bit more loss of hearing than when he was tested in September. The nurse reported that John's examination at the clinic had revealed that his adenoids were so enlarged that they were affecting his hearing and that the doctor had removed a good deal of hardened wax from his ears. John's mother had agreed to have the tonsil and adenoid operation performed during the next vacation.

During Mr. Brown's talks with John he learned that John had been trying to get a job in the Economy store afternoons because it was "so hard to get up to deliver papers." Again John confided that he guessed he'd "been born with tools in his hands." He had a small workshop in his cellar for which he had bought his own tools with the money earned on his paper route. "But," said John, "Dad does want me to go to college because he didn't get there." Mechanical aptitude tests together with the judgment of John's former shop teacher clearly indicated a high degree of mechanical ability.

A conference with John's father resulted in a visit by the father to the Trade School, where he was so impressed by the work there that he consented to put aside his own cherished plans and let John have a try at the work in which he was truly interested. Here John made a happy adjustment.

It took five months to make the final adjustment in John's case, because his homeroom teacher and his counselor wanted to do everything possible to assist the boy to find himself and to convince the parents that the recommendation was not hastily arrived at, but had been formed only after careful investigation of all aspects of the boy's make-up, the physical, the social, and the mental.

Before attempting to assist a boy or girl in working out his or her problems, the counselor collects all the information possible concerning the individual—his physical and mental health, home background, past school history, outside interests, social adjustments, future ambitions, ways of earning and spending his own money, work habits, achievement test results and psychological test results, etc. She confers with the pupil, subject teachers, homeroom teacher, principal and parents, and from a consideration of all the material she has acquired, attempts to effect an adjustment which will be of greatest benefit to the pupil.

The counselor's efforts are not confined to the child who is having difficulty because he is attempting something beyond his capacity or who is having trouble learning to be a successful adolescent. He is called upon to work with those who are having difficulty in learning to be a successful adolescent with those whose abilities are not being utilized fully, with those who are in a quandary as to the choice of a course, and with those whose personality adjustments are inadequate.

In short, the junior high school counselor is constantly engaged in helping boys and girls to make satisfactory adjustments in their school life, dealing with them as individuals, and with rational and sympathetic understanding helping them to work out the solution to their problems.

THE MAYOR'S ADDRESS

Among other subjects of much interest which Mayor Weeks dealt with in his inaugural address was the prevailing tendency in local communities to lean heavily upon their state and federal governments. It is true that this condition is one of the direct results of the unsettled economic conditions of recent years. It could not have been completely avoided. With the return to a more normal condition it is to be hoped that every endeavor will be made to return local problems to local jurisdiction. Continuation of the present trend can only mean the breaking down of home rule principles and the loss of individuality of our form of local government. Communities such as Newton, where standards of living, of education, and of government, with sound credit and financial strength, are in many respects above the average will suffer most through such a change in political economics.

Series of Local Political Articles Concluded by PWC

Congratulations to Mayor Weeks and the 1934 Board of Aldermen duly installed on New Year's Day. Seventeen candidates were elected December

12th and your columnist guessed right

in all but four instances: Ward 2—

School Committee—Vanderhoof losing

by less than 200 votes; Ward 6—

Proctor and Kneeland going down in defeat and Ward 7, where Alderman

Murray was re-elected at the expense of Avantaggio and others. As a matter of fact I felt that both Holden and Murray would probably win, especially if Mayor Weeks came through with flying colors. Both are hard working and conscientious and the city government will function just as well as heretofore.

Vanderhoof's defeat, however, was one of the surprising features of the election. An admittedly strong man was narrowly defeated by an earnest worker who capitalized his opponent's refusal to take the stump. It goes to show that the good old days have gone never to return. From now on very few men and only the strongest and most widely known will be able to an-ounce their candidacies, publish a list of undeniably impressive endor-ers and then retire modestly to their homes and trust to the perspicacity and generosity of the voters. That is one lesson to be drawn from the recent

Another interesting fact came to light on December 12th. A position on Mayor Weeks' slate appears to be worth about 6,000 votes in a city-wide contest. Davidson received 6,713 votes for Alderman-at-large from Ward 5.

He was not "a natural" on the Weeks' slate and was extremely lucky to make connections but he did receive 6,713

votes and it was the little pink ticket that did the business for no other name on the Mayor's slate suffered defeat.

Alderman Temperley, as a result,

had the narrowest margin of victory, finishing 2,232 votes ahead of Davidson. However, his other opponent,

William Kelleher, of Upper Falls, polled 3,241 votes so that Temperley was in reality a minority winner for he secured 1,909 votes less than his two opponents combined. It should be noted, however, that Temperley was not on either slate whereas his nearest opponent, Davidson, was on the Mayor's slate.

Alderman Grebenstein of Ward 2

received the largest majority, 5,- 999 over John F. Brocklesby, another tireless campaigner. Alderman Howlett of Ward 1, who made no campaign speeches (at least within range of this writer's hearing) also had a sizable majority—5,480 votes as he took John W. Blakeney, a very attractive candidate, into camp.

In closing, may I urge those who have not yet formed the habit of attending the inaugural ceremonies at City Hall to do so in the future. It is worthwhile. It gives you confidence in your own City government. And it makes you want to put your shoulder to the wheel and do your small part to help.

Happy New Year to you all.

P. W. C.

concludes the present series on local practices which have been running in this column for the past several months.)

By L. D. G. Bentley

If the motion is in order, "Let's have this old-fashioned weather stuff at one time and get it over as soon as possible."

Oddments

From a settlement house not far from our city limits comes this one. The youngsters—very small boys and girls—were rehearsing a New Year's pageant. The instructor had secured the kindly assistance of a highly accomplished young woman pianist. She told her youthful charges how pleased they should be to have an accompanist so famous a musician. One afternoon, when a regular rehearsal had been called, some of the diminutive performers were delayed. A little girl asked if the others might not dance to amuse themselves until the rehearsal started. The director assented and asked the pianist. But the latter declined, saying, "I cannot play for dancing unless I have my music before me." That settled it and the director had to break the news to the little girl, who pouted and shrugged her shoulders. "Teacher, I thought you said she was 'special' and she's only blah-blah," was her caustic comment.

A prized remembrance of Christmas that I have found a source of delight is the volume "Afoot in England," by W. H. Hudson. It has been said of him that he "has magic for putting the country between covers" and that in his writings he "sends us hedges and wild roses." You will understand why I revel in this volume.

My trolley traveling troubles diminish in the winter to some extent. The secret is—more regular patronage of the steam railroads. Yet there is this to worry me on electric cars. When an automobile or truck blocks the track the trolley crew leaves the doors wide open and allows the passengers to freeze while they discuss ways and means of removing the obstruction. Why is that necessary?

Ingenuity Gets There

As a country we are emerging from a state that has given various designations, including depression, hard times, change of common thought and even what-have-you. Nevertheless, the process has been and is an interesting one, revealing sidelights to which more than passing attention is due. I am one of those who find any incident bearing on the lives of our fellow beings worthy of study. The story of a Philadelphia friend, here for a New Year's visit, struck me as both entertaining and instructive and with that in mind I pass it along.

The tale is told of one of the suburbs of the Quaker City and gives a shining example of the gumption of two college graduates who found themselves equipped with an educational background but with no work to perform. What did they do? Sit down and lament? Not at all. They conceived an elaborate system of providing food for dogs. Not a free distribution but with the approval and of course the compensation of the animals' owners.

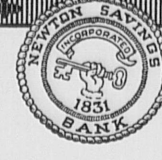

At so much per day, seven days a week, these young men serve a dog's lunch every noontime, or thereabouts. In a neatly packed box they leave at a customer's door a prepared meal of vegetables, dog bread and other wholesome food for the family pup. The arrangement is done with care and when the meal is set before his canine lordship it looks very tempting, according to the human purchasers.

The result has been that the young men have established a thriving business. Dog-owners find the plan a convenient one and are glad to pay to have the dogs' feed sensibly and regularly prepared. The dogs, too, have learned the approximate hour of the truck's arrival and gather in a group to bark a welcome.

Equitally profitable is the trade that another young man in the same community has made for himself—that of going about from house to house and washing the family dog. The young man carries a collapsible tub, sets it up and gives the dog a bath, combing and even drying with an electrical hot-air tube. This young man's business is flourishing, too, I am assured. Shows what resourceful young men can do, doesn't it?

Slip-shod and Dry-shod

The inventor who produces a pair of overshoes or rubbers that will fit any pair of feet is going to bring into general use something that has long been sought. I doubt if we need look for any such contrivance as there would be no money in it. In fact it would mean a drop in the sales of these highly important articles of footwear. It would put a decided crimp in the rubber business and therefore no such invention would ever be placed on the market let alone receive a patent.

A woolen scarf is a winter necessity that may easily be handed around the entire family—and often is now that boys and girls have much in common in wearing apparel. But over shoes and rubbers are different. Lucky indeed are those who, residing or working under the same roof, possess feet of approximately the same size and can freely "borrow" from each other. It makes a happy system for those who, like the enterprising early bird, are first in the clothes closet, and not so happy for the late-comers.

Every year there are revealed those who are distinctly unprepared for what is described as a sudden storm. Regardless of bitter experience some people are destitute of rubbers and overshoes when the first fall of snow is a reality. Some may really have these articles at home and find themselves caught in town. In either emergency there is a grand hunt for "something that will keep the feet dry." Always there is an earnest promise that the articles will be returned next day—never later.

This informal borrowing does not seem to have a code of ethics, although there should be one. Please do not get the idea that somebody has deprived me of my rightful property. No, siree, I've had too many walk off with my storm shoes in years past not to be alert. It's no use trying to borrow my rubbers. When not in use they are concealed in my strong-box. Why not? There's plenty of room there.

Mayor Weeks' Inaugural Address

point, I would point out that our state tax is quite likely to increase substantially in the coming year, and that the eventual cessation of the Federal Civil Works employment program is quite likely to increase seriously our public welfare obligations. In addition, we shall unquestionably be unable to draw from the city surplus for the relief of the tax rate in 1934 to the extent that we have during the past two or three years. On the asset side of the picture, however, I would point out that the city of Newton has not found it necessary to borrow from the State of Massachusetts, under Chapter 307 of the Acts of 1933, as so many cities and towns have done, thus in effect, pledging tax receipts of future years towards the payment of obligations incurred in 1933. Our budget has been maintained on a pay-as-you-go basis, and the increased tax receipts of 1934, resulting from Chapter 307, aforementioned, will thereby come to us free and clear, as a contribution toward the expenses of our city government in 1934.

The department which takes the greatest share of our city budget is the School Department, administered under the general direction of the School Committee, elected by the voters. It is gratifying to me to be able to say a few words in appreciation of the constant co-operation displayed by the School Committee in its relationship to the general city government. The schools continue to maintain their usual high standards, and from a financial standpoint, and as a result of the co-operation just referred to, the per capita cost of education continues to show a gratifying downward trend. In connection with the public works section of the National Industrial Recovery Act, your city government has made arrangements to provide for the immediate construction of one new school building, together with the alteration and enlargement of two others. This program should be of considerable benefit to the operation of our School Department generally. It has been undertaken on the theory that the money is to be expended by the Federal Government somewhere, and citizens of Newton will, in any event, pay their share of the cost of the total program, and that therefore, the city government should, by participating in the program, afford them their share of its benefits.

The Water Department has been freely discussed during the past few months, and I am confident that no special comment at this time other than in connection with my recommendation that the city government continue to push along the "dead end" elimination program, and the pitometer survey. This survey serves to furnish data on which adequately to size new main extensions, and will save us many thousands of dollars not only in future extension work, but in the cost of our main cleaning program as well, which I believe should be resumed during the coming year. Our water supply, as it enters the mains from the pumping station is supplied to those mains efficiently and economically, and of the highest quality. There only remains, therefore, the necessity for carrying on to completion the program which involves putting our distribution system in the best possible condition.

There is little that need be said about the other departments of our city government, and so of the highest quality. There only remains, therefore, the necessity for carrying on to completion the program which involves putting our distribution system in the best possible condition. There is little that need be said about the other departments of our city government, and so of the highest quality. argued address that a study be made of that system known as Preferential voting, with the thought in mind of substituting for it a system which will be less confusing to our voters, and more thoroughly responsive, I believe, to the wishes of our people as a whole. I have not changed my opinion, relative to this question, and therefore recommend that your Honorable Board again study the matter, with a view to making corrective recommendations.

One of the Boards which I believe has done valuable work in the past, and can perform increasingly valuable service in the future is the Planning Board. The City of Newton being what it is—a city of homes, accompanied by beautiful public buildings, schools, parks, and playgrounds—it seems to me that much greater emphasis should be laid on the importance of long-time planning under the general direction and supervision of this Board, and I therefore, earnestly recommend a constantly increasing measure of co-operation between it and the city government. Among the projects which the Planning Board has been studying are numbered developments in the Oak Hill section, a new playground in Auburndale, a traffic circle at the junction of Commonwealth avenue and Washington street, and a restudy of the zoning in the Nonantum district. Those are all projects of great merit, and should receive the serious consideration of your Honorable Board during the current year.

There are a number of other projects such as the relief of the traffic situation at Newton corner, the construction of several convenience stations as recommended by the Board of Health, and playground buildings, recommended by the Playground Commission. All of those constitute only a few of the projects which should be taken up by our city government as soon as practicable that practicability however, to be in the main determined by the financial exigencies of the situation. There are, in the final analysis, many improvements which we should like to have, but which we can only have if, and when we are financially able to afford them. As we look toward the New Year, which I sincerely trust will be a happy and prosperous one for all, I desire again to express my appreciation of the constant co-operation afforded me by your Honorable Board, together with all the other Boards and Commissions, Heads of Departments and employees who make up the city government. While the immediate future from a business standpoint looks brighter, our problems are not all behind us by any means. Our paramount duty, because of present conditions, is, of course, to provide assistance for those in distress, and further, to continue to operate the city government on an economical basis as possible, in order to keep the cost of government at a minimum, without in any degree lessening its efficiency or undermining its morale. If we keep these objectives ever before us, and co-operate in the future as we have in the past, I am confident that the result will be satisfactory, and that the City of Newton will continue to stand out amongst all the cities of this state, as a shining example of a well governed municipality, and as an extremely desirable city in which to live.

As we look toward the New Year, which I sincerely trust will be a happy and prosperous one for all, I desire again to express my appreciation of the constant co-operation afforded me by your Honorable Board, together with all the other Boards and Commissions, Heads of Departments and employees who make up the city government. While the immediate future from a business standpoint looks brighter, our problems are not all behind us by any means. Our paramount duty, because of present conditions, is, of course, to provide assistance for those in distress, and further, to continue to operate the city government on an economical basis as possible, in order to keep the cost of government at a minimum, without in any degree lessening its efficiency or undermining its morale. If we keep these objectives ever before us, and co-operate in the future as we have in the past, I am confident that the result will be satisfactory, and that the City of Newton will continue to stand out amongst all the cities of this state, as a shining example of a well governed municipality, and as an extremely desirable city in which to live.

Candle Light Service and Haydn Duo

A New Year's Candle-Light Service will be held at the Newton Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of Centre and Wesley sts., the Rev. Harry Belmont Hill, Minister, this coming Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Candles will illuminate the Altar and church. Each person attending will be given a candle and there will be an impressive New Year's candle-light feature. The Haydn Duo will furnish the music. These artists are known through New England, having played for clubs, lodges, over the radio, and for practically all of the leading churches. This is a return engagement to the community services of this church. Mr. Hill will preach a Book Sermon based on Frances Hodgson Burnett's great story, "The Dawn of a Tomorrow." Start the New Year right by attending this New Year worship service.

MRS. HASBROUCK TO LECTURE AT NEWTON CENTRE

The Parent Teacher Association of the John W. Weeks Junior High School cordially invites the public to hear Mrs. Gertrude S. Hasbrouck speak on "The Mother's Need of Preparation for the Sex Character Education of Her Children." This meeting will be held in the Auditorium of the John W. Weeks Junior High School on Monday, January 8th at 3 o'clock. There will be no admission charge.
Mrs. Hasbrouck has had a broad experience in the interests of child welfare: health, child training, and sex character education. She has held national, state, and city positions and is well known in the Newtons.
The Parent Teacher Association has also arranged for Mrs. Hasbrouck to give a course on sex character education. The course will consist of six lectures concerned with the average child's need from infancy to mid-adolescence. The class will be held on consecutive Monday afternoons at three o'clock, beginning January 15th.

SERIES OF LITERARY LECTURES

A literary opportunity decidedly worth noting is the course of five lectures by Rev. Robert Hitchen which the Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church in West Newton is presenting at the Parish House on alternate Tuesday afternoons beginning January 9th at 3:30 o'clock. The subject of the first lecture will be "Poetry and Plays of John Drinkwater." The others to follow are: Jan. 23, Edna St. Vincent Millay; Feb. 6, The Magic of Walter de la Mare; Feb. 20, Sanctity of Robert Frost, and March 6, Rabindranath Tagore with spoken songs. Tea will be served at 4:30. Course or single tickets for these lectures are available.

FATHER'S NIGHT

Father's Night the first evening meeting of the Newton Centre School Association will be held at the Mason School hall on Wednesday, Jan. 10th at 8:15 p.m.

Mr. Carl Schroeder of the State Department of Education will be the speaker. His subject to be "Leisure—An Asset or a Liability."

The musical program will consist of a double quartet. Messages will be brought to us from Mr. George H. Tracy, chairman of the School Board. Mrs. Cornell and Prof. Kirtley Mathew also members of the School Board. All are welcome to attend. After the meeting, refreshments will be served.

WOMAN'S FORUM

The Woman's Forum meets each Sunday afternoon at five o'clock in the parlors of Central Congregational Church, in Newtonville. The speaker this week will be Senora Oroscio who will present a picture of life in her native land of Mexico. She will speak on the present government, and the schools and what they are accomplishing; and will describe the position of the church in that country. The meeting affords an unusual opportunity to learn more of the life and customs of one of our neighboring countries.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

In his inaugural address Mayor Weeks referred to the new incinerator which will be erected somewhere in Newton during the coming year. He said it will be used for the burning of garbage, waste paper and other rubbish. The burning of garbage in the incinerator should be postponed until absolutely necessary. Despite contentions to the contrary, many well informed persons assert that when garbage is consumed in an incinerator, disagreeable odors are wafted into the surrounding atmosphere to the annoyance and discomfort of those who are within smelling range. Furthermore, when garbage can be used as food for pigs, it is an economic waste to consume it in incinerators.

One thing is certain, however. When the incinerator will be completed and in use, residents of Newton (and business places) must place ashes and combustible material in separate receptacles. In former years this had to be done, and this rule was strictly enforced. In late years this city has been quite lenient in the collection of waste material from dwellings and business places. It is probable that when the incinerator will have been built, the Street Department employees will receive orders to refuse to collect, as waste matter, many things which now can be included among collectable rubbish.

The knitting vogue among the ladies continues. At the hearing before the Newton Board of Aldermen on the night of Dec. 28th, relative to the acceptance by the city of a large sum of money for the extension of Hammond Pond Parkway, several ladies present were knitting. We hope more and more women will become knitting addicts, and that this useful avocation (or occupation) will become permanent with them. Knitting keeps a woman's mind off real and imaginary troubles and produces useful articles of wearing apparel. It also creates work for persons who are employed in worsted yarn mills in New England and elsewhere.

The writer is more than ordinarily interested in knitting because he was employed in the manufacture of knitting yarns prior to entering newspaper work. When the ladies ceased knitting in the years shortly after the end of the World War, the finger-ring industry largely went out of business. And thousands of persons who had been employed in that industry had to find other means of livelihood.

The old chariot we drive has travelled 62,000 miles. But, we had no trouble starting it last Friday and Saturday mornings with the temperature away below zero. We use Tydol gasoline.

COLD SPELL CAUSES MANY FIRES IN CITY

Overheated furnaces and heating plants caused many small fires in this city during the cold weather last Friday and Saturday. Fifteen alarms came in; mostly for chimney fires. The home of John Collella at 191 Chapel street, Nonantum, was seriously damaged when a fire started in the cellar near the heater.

MANY ARRESTS FOR DRUNKENNESS

Over the week end from December 30 to January 1 thirty men were arrested in this city for drunkenness. Of this number 4 were arrested last Saturday, 12 on Sunday and 14 on New Year's Day. Eighteen were released without trial; the cases of ten were placed on file when they appeared in court last Tuesday; two were fined $5 each.

Recent Weddings

Traffic Survey Being Made By Fourteen Workers Under C.W.A. Auspices

Counting Cars at Intersections in Part of State Project to Reduce Accidents

One of the activities created to give work to men under the C. W. A. program is a survey of traffic in various cities and towns in Massachusetts. Fourteen men have been assigned to make a study of traffic in Newton. They have been given the use of a room at police headquarters in West Newton as an office. Since Tuesday they have been taking count of the amount of vehicular traffic passing certain street intersections. In this city.

Analysis of thousands of automobile accidents involving personal injuries in 22 cities and towns from 1930 to 1933 inclusive has already been completed by engineers of the Massachusetts Highway Accident Survey. This study, which is part of what is believed to be the most comprehensive scientific investigation of its kind ever undertaken shows the nature of the accidents, their location, and prevailing weather conditions. Furthermore, they are classified in relation to population and the speed and volume of traffic. The work will continue until the accident records of all communities have been analyzed.

The cities and towns in which accidents have been studied are Pittsfield, North Adams, Adams, Great Barrington, Lenox, Holyoke, Greenfield, Fitchburg, Gardner, Newton, Framingham, Marlboro, Lowell, Lawrence, Lynn, Taunton, Attleboro, Dedham, Fairhaven, Plymouth, Middleboro, and Barnstable.

A second state-wide traffic volume census will begin next Sunday when 500 observers working under the direction of traffic engineers of the department of public works will be assigned to locations on all numbered highways.

The information developed by analysis of state accident records, which is supplemented by local reports, is being compiled with the object of creating a definite plan of remedial procedure over a period of approximately 10 years. The survey is being made at the request of Governor Ely under the direction of the Massachusetts.

The accident analysis was made by a group of engineers working under the direction of C. B. Taylor, traffic engineer of the department of public works. The information is being applied in the form of maps which will show traffic danger spots on the various highways of Massachusetts. With the addition of information from local police records and field studies it is expected to be possible to make definite recommendations to each community in regard to stop signs, traffic lights, and road construction.

The survey is to include a study of law observance, an aspect of highway regulation on which little accurate data is now available. Preliminary studies already point to the chronic violator of traffic regulations as the cause of the most serious accidents. In this phase of the investigation, observance of traffic rules on speed, signs, passing, and turning will be studied. Another objective will be to determine the correlation between volume of traffic and accident frequency.

Bruce Playground Commissioner

Lyscom A. Bruce, Jr., for a number of years Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts in Newton, has been appointed a member of the Newton Playground Commission by Mayor Weeks to succeed James B. Melcher. The latter has resigned because of having been recently elected Alderman from Ward 7. Mr. Bruce resides at 81 Woodland road, Auburndale.

Signal Box Explodes At West Newton

The signal box in front of police headquarters at West Newton exploded last Friday afternoon when gas from a leaky main gathered in the pole supporting the box and was ignited by a spark from the wiring in the box. The base of the pole and doors on the signal box were blown apart and Serg. Thomas Leehan, who was standing nearby, had a narrow escape from injury. The gas leak had been noticed the preceding day and a crew of men from the gas company had been at work repairing the leak.

James Roosevelt Is Guest Speaker At Kiwanis Club

Talks to Members on "Finances of the Year"

James Roosevelt, son of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, was the guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Newton on Tuesday at the Charles River Country Club. Richard Davis, president of Newton Kiwanis, turned the meeting over to John Carver, a club member, at the conclusion of the luncheon. Mr. Carver, a classmate of Mr. Roosevelt at Harvard University, introduced the speaker. Mr. Roosevelt, with his pleasing personality and friendly smile, impressed his audience with a talk upon "Finances of the Year."

The financial aspects of the coming year is the foremost question before the national government as well as in our states, cities, and towns and to individuals and all Mr. Roosevelt said. The announcement of the Federal budget last week was of great interest for many reasons. By the end of 1935 the net national debt will be thirty-two billions of dollars—an unheard of thing in the history of the country. The Federal budget also showed that in the past year ten billions of dollars were spent, of which three billions were for ordinary expenses of the government and seven billions for emergency purposes. These latter expenditures have begun to show their effect.

The speaker further stated that the most important matter was not how much money was spent but whether or not it is spent for good purposes or only wasted. Anticipating the probability that two billions more will be sought for emergency purposes he likened such expenditures to the medicine given a patient—as the patient gradually recovers the medicine is given in reduced doses until no longer necessary. Until industry can absorb the slack a program such as now being carried on must be observed.

Mr. Roosevelt also declared that government needs the efficiency of business and it is up to the local community business leaders to demand it. Mr. Roosevelt appealed for constructive criticism in place of opposition based upon personalities. If there are mistakes being made they can be best corrected in this way. In closing he expressed the hope that politics, which now occupies a low place, may be raised to a higher level, as in England, by such a method.

Reduced Water Rate in Effect

The cost of Newton water to consumers was reduced from 22½ cents per 100 cubic feet to 20 cents on January 1 Water Commissioner Richard H. Ellis stated at a meeting of the New England Water Works Association at Boston. The 20 cents rate brings the price of water back to where it was in this city several years ago. Mr. Ellis stated that the reduction is made possible because of savings effected in the cost of running the water department of this city. He said that in 1929 the department had a deficit of $23,600, and that at the present time there is a cash surplus of around $175,000. He said that $468,000 has been expended in the past few years to improve Newton's water system; of this amount $199,359 was for new equipment.

Mr. Ellis told his audience that $17,000 per year will be saved in the operation of the pumping station as a result of the new equipment there, that the effort to improve the quality of the water so that corrosion and discoloration will be ended, has been largely successful, and that 25% of the dead-ends on street mains have been eliminated. This project will be completed in 1935. Others who discussed Newton water at the meeting were Wellington Gilman, chemist; and George A. Sampson, who for some years has been employed as consulting engineer for the Newton Water Department.

Five Newton Boys Leave Home to Seek Adventure

Soon Tire of Thrills and Communicate With Parents

Three Newton High School students, two of them youths of 17, and the third, a 14 year old boy went A.W.O.L. from their homes last Saturday, having tired of the alleged monotony of their lives, and seized with a yearning to see the world. The two youths, George Young of 190 Centre street, and Robert Howley of 96 Rowena road, are juniors at Newton High School and members of the Sea Scout division of the Boy Scouts. The younger boy, John Noble of 12 Applearth road, Newton Centre, is a freshman at high school.

Young left a note for his father which stated that he and his companions were tired of school and humdrum life, and had departed in search of adventure and to see "life in the raw." The two older boys had endeavored to join the "Seth Parker" expedition ship at Boston and it was thought they might have gone to New York in an effort to get on the radio broadcasting ship there. The parents of the boys enlisted the aid of police and radio stations in an effort to apprehend the boys. Boston newspapers gave much space to the departure of the trio. Last Monday, two more Newton High School students, apparently stirred by the publicity given the escape of the other youths, also departed from their homes, and their parents sought the aid of the police in finding their sons. These two boys were Marcel Orleans, Jr. of 194 Auburn street, Auburndale, age 18, and John Ham, 16, of 872 Watertown street, West Newton.

The adventurers rapidly tired of being out in the cold world on their own, and on Wednesday morning Young's father received a telegram from his son at Louisville, Georgia asking that funds be sent the boys so that they might return home. To assure that their sons would return home, the parents of the trio wired the police of the Georgia town to conduct the boys to Savannah, Georgia and have them placed on a Savannah line boat for Boston. Wednesday morning Mr. Orleans received a postal card from his son giving the information that the youth was visiting relatives at Mamaroneck, New York, and would return home the latter part of this week.

Firemen Answer Ten False Alarms On Sunday Night

Miscreants Deprive City of Protection for Two Hours

In less than two hours, starting at 11:49 Sunday night, and ending at 1:30 Monday morning, ten false alarms were pulled from fire alarm boxes in this city. In addition the West Newton fire truck, Engine 2, went twice to boxes in Waltham near the Newton line, which were also false alarms. For much of the time during this period every piece of fire apparatus in Newton was out on the streets answering the false alarms. Had any fires occurred during this period it is more than probable that serious property damage would have resulted, and persons might have been burned to death.

Chief Randlett requests the co-operation of residents of the city who may have any knowledge of the identity of persons who indulge in this dastardly practice. Registration numbers of any automobile noticed in the vicinity of a fire alarm box when false alarms are pulled may serve as a clue. During 1933 the number of false alarms pulled in Newton totaled 27 more than in 1932. It is an ironical fact that a large percentage of serious and fatal accidents in which fire trucks are involved happen when the trucks are responding to false alarms. The accident recently in Somerville, when a professor from New Hampshire State College, his daughter and granddaughter were killed, occurred when their car was hit by a fire truck answering a false alarm. Too much leniency has been shown persons found guilty of pulling false alarms. If, instead of fines or probation, jail sentences are given to such culprits, this contemptible, cowardly pastime will rapidly diminish.

The alarms pulled on Sunday night and Monday morning were as follows: 11:49 p. m., Box 174, West and Green sts., Northum; 12:05 p. m., Box 712, Homer and Cedar sts., Newton Centre; 11:58 p. m., Box 381, Valentine st., West Newton; midnight, Box 338, Temple st., West Newton; 12:08 a. m., Box 46, Maple st., Auburndale; 12:18 a. m., Box 143, Engine 2 to Waltham; 12:35 a. m., Box 143, Engine 2 to Waltham; 1:14 a. m., Box 25, Crafts st., Newtonville; 1:18 a. m., Box 317, Adella ave., West Newton; 1:21 a. m., Box 212, Watertown st., West Newton; 1:26 a. m., Box 334, Winthrop st., West Newton; 1:30 a. m., Box 44, Lexington st., Auburndale.

During the interim between 12:08 a. m. when Box 46 at Auburndale was pulled, and 1:14 a. m., when the first of five more false alarms were pulled in this city, nine false alarms were pulled in Waltham and Watertown, supposedly by the same persons who pulled the alarms in this city.

Lt. Gov. Bacon Talks to Men's Club At New Highlands

Speaker Saltonstall and Gen. Needham Also Speak

The Men's Club of Newton Highlands had a number of distinguished guests at its monthly dinner last night at the assembly room in the Newton Highlands Congregational Church. Included in this number were Lieut. Gov. Gaspar Bacon, Everett Saltonstall, Speaker of the House of Representatives; Senators Arthur W. Hollis and George Moyses; Representatives Baker, Brimblecom and Luitweiler; Alderman Donald McKay; Gen. Daniel Needham, Charles F. Johnson and Moses Gulesian.

Following the dinner President Adallan of the club introduced Mayor Weeks as toastmaster and the Mayor presented the various speakers. The principal address was given by Lieut. Gov. Bacon. He intimated that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor this year and he referred to the relief program of President Roosevelt. Mr. Bacon said that this program is of an experimental nature and has resulted in some material progress. He deplored any partisan opposition to it, but stated that honest, constructive criticism is desirable. The Lieutenant Governor called attention to the fact that Massachusetts pays 4% of the cost of operating the Federal Government, is sixth among the States in payments to the Federal Treasury, but has received little in the way of grants from the Federal government, as compared with amounts given to other States. He paid a compliment to Joseph W. Bartlett of Waban for his work in connection with the C. W. A.

Mr. Saltonstall lauded the Ways and Means Committee of the Legislature for refusing to agree to Gov. Ely's proposal that Massachusetts finance its 70% share of the cost of P. W. A. projects by selling bonds direct to the public. Last July Legislature voted to sell these bonds to the Federal Government and thus, if the Federal government later cancels the debts of the States on the P. W. A. projects, Massachusetts will be on an equal basis with the other States.

General Needham spoke on the crime situation in this State and the program that is being outlined to combat it.

Newton Post A.L. Installs Officers

On Thursday evening, January 4th at the Levi Warren Jr. High School, West Newton the installation of officers of Newton Post No. 48, American Legion for the year 1934 took place. County Commander John H. Walsh of Waltham was in charge, assisted by the Quincy Post Degree Team under the direction of Past Dept. Vice Commander Frank Fox.

There was a large attendance present, and among the invited guests were Mayor Sinclair Weeks, Senator Arthur Hollis, Rep. Warren K. Brimblecom, Miss Anna Manion, National Vice President of the Auxiliary, County Senior Vice Commander Donald McIntyre of Lowell, Junior Vice Commander Harold D. Ames, Mrs. Corabelle Francis, Daughters of Union Veterans, Mrs. Helen E. Henderson, President of the Newton Auxiliary.

The officers installed were Commander Russell I. Viles, Senior Vice Commander Arthur R. McCarthy, Jr., Vice Commander Charles Walker, Chap. Harry McPhee, Adj. Dana J. Foley, F. O. Richard B. Capstick, Historian Edward J. Cannon, Sergeant-at-Arms, J. Sherman Irving, Americanization Officer Clifford S. J. White, Welfare Officer Leon H. Mayer, Graves Registration Officer John J. Pendergast, Judge Advocate Edward O. Proctor, Executive Committee members at Large Edward F. Dalton, Daniel P. Murphy and John B. Foley.

The retiring Commander, Robert L. Cunningham, was presented with the Post Commander's Jewel, and was followed by a presentation of a large bouquet of roses to Mrs. Marjorie Cunningham by Edward F. Dalton on behalf of the Post.

One of the features of the evening was an exhibition given by the Newton Post Auxiliary Drum and Bugle Corps. They appeared in their snappy white uniforms with coral colored capes and their efforts were highly praised by those present.

Newton Post Band gave a concert before the installation exercises and dancing was enjoyed during the latter part of the evening.

Boy Bandits Caught, On Trial Today

Donald Koughan, 10 year old son of Daniel Koughan of 24 Madison avenue, Newtonville, who was robbed recently of a $5 bill on Madison avenue, near his home, will testify today against three boys charged with having attacked him and taken his money. The three alleged young bandits are 10, 13 and 14 years old and reside on Beach and Nevada streets. Special Officer Mullen, who worked on this case, discovered the identity of the alleged youthful robbers.

Federal Relief Aiding Thousands in Newton—Food Being Received

C. W. A. Projects Are Giving Employment To More Than 1000 Men in City

The Newton Welfare Department is receiving substantial grants from the relief funds appropriated by the Federal Government to supplement its work in assisting the poor of this city. Last month a quantity of apples was distributed by the local Welfare Department. A couple of months ago 7500 pounds of pork was received in this city from the huge quantity purchased by the Federal Government. According to reports received from throughout the country this pork was not so palatable. It had been cured and salted and needed much soaking and cooking before it could be eaten. During the past week another 7500 pounds allotment of this pork was received.

During the past couple of weeks the Newton Welfare Department has distributed a considerable quantity of anthracite coal which is paid for by the Federal government. The needy receiving this coal were given either nut, stove or egg sizes. Buckwheat size could also be given, but there is little demand for this as it is not easily used. An allotment of $10 dozen eggs was also received this week and delivered in the city. It is expected that butter will also be received from the Federal relief organization. Other staple foods which are expected include flour, beans, prunes and corned beef. The distribution of these food supplies and fuel is under the direction of Miss Florence FitzGerald, head of the Newton Welfare Department.

During the past few months potatoes grown on the municipal farm at Oak Hill, were distributed by the Welfare Department. These were graded according to size and condition.

On November 30 in Newton 616 families were receiving aid from the Welfare Department. The cost to the city for relief given these families in November was $22,272.86. On December 30 the number of families had been reduced to 287 and the cost for the month was $10,183.88. These large reductions were made possible by the fact that men able to work had been given employment on C. W. A. projects in this city.

The principal C. W. A. projects in the city are at Edmonds Park, Newton; Auburndale Playground, Cold Spring Playground, Newton Highlands; Wellington Playground, West Newton; Thompsonville Playground, Newton Centre; cleaning and repairing drains at South Meadow and Hammond brooks; grading the grounds at the Weeks and Warren junior high schools; and grading the Allison Playground at Nonantum.

At the Edmonds Playground 168 men have been employed at the Auburndale playground, 127, at Cold Spring playground, 160 men; on the work at Thompsonville, Wellington and Nevada playgrounds, 128. On the projects of cleaning Hammond and South Meadow Brooks 256 men have been given work, and at the Weeks and Warren school grounds and at Allison playground provision was made for employing 91 men. Grading the dump at North street, Newtonville called for the employment of 26 men and widening Beacon street at Hammond Pond Parkway gave work to 25. One project which will meet with the approval of citizens, as being both practical and calculated to beautify the city, is that which has employed 60 men who are engaged in the task of digging holes for the planting of 5000 trees.

Projects on which building trade mechanics have been or will be employed include—painting and repairing city-owned fences, 35 men; altering the Chaffin house on Vernon st., Newton, for use as a children's library, 25 men; painting school houses, 24 men; painting fire stations, 25 men. In the administration of these various projects 17 are being employed. Cleaning catch basins throughout the city have been giving work to 56 men; 79 have been employed on filtration basins at the water reservation in Needham. Six electricians have been working repairing wiring at fire stations.

In the C. W. A. relief projects for Newton women, work has been given to 34 at the basement in City Hall, where they are employed sewing for welfare organizations; and where 22 have been employed knitting garments. At the Newton Hospital 34 more women have been given work sewing. Clerical work has been given to 20 women in various relief projects and employment for 42 women was made possible in connection with the Federal Unemployment Census now underway. Mrs. Minnie I. Williams, who was appointed C. W. A. director of women's employment for Newton, has placed 40 women in domestic service.

The C. W. A. projects employment office for men in Newton, at the basement in City Hall, has been in charge of Everett L. Edwards. The number of men who have filed applications for work has reached 3001, and jobs have been found for 1033 in the various projects. Many of the men who applied were not citizens; some were under age, and some were single men without dependents. Some of the single men, residing at home, who were given work, have since been laid off. The total number of women who have applied for work is 750. Thus, while a large number have been given employment, about double this number in the city are still seeking work.

Rotary Club

"Every man likes to get out in the open, tramp the woods, row, fish, and climb mountains," said Dr. DeWitt G. Wilcox of Newton Centre at the last meeting of the Newton Rotary Club in an illustrated talk, which was unusually entertaining and enjoyable.

A year ago last summer Dr. Wilcox spent several weeks on the Gaspe Peninsula in Canada making still and motion pictures of the wonders of that land where wild game is still plentiful and fishing excellent.

In a most interesting way Dr. Wilcox shared his unusual experiences with members of the club. His pictures of the houseboat, wild deer, salmon fishing, and the thousands of gulls on the cliffs were unusually fine.

President Harry Hanson and Secretary Lyscom Bruce being away at the Regional Conference at Worcester, John Cahill, Treasurer of the club, presided.

The club had as guests Harold Moll, Newton; James Crossman, Needham; Ralph Mason and Carl Tingloff, Watertown. About a dozen members of the club besides the officers attended the Regional Assembly at Worcester.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON HIGH FIVE SWAMPS WESTBORO TWICE—TRADE WINS

The Newton High basketball team which got off to a flying start last week by an overtime victory at Natick continued on the winning path with two wins over the Westboro High quintet. Last week Friday Newton vanquished the visitors 47 to 19 and on Wednesday made a return visit to Westboro winning 31 to 20.

In the game at Newton Captain Charlie Flagg and Claude Frazier, the Newton forwards, teamed together to tally 19 points each. In the game between the second teams of the two schools Newton won 27 to 10.

On Wednesday the Newton team defeated the Westboro five a little stronger on its home floor. Flagg duplicated his 19 point performance but Frazier was held to 8 points. In the preliminary game the Newton seconds triumphed 26 to 12.

Coach Simmons five will open its Suburban League season at this evening and will meet its first severe test of the year at Cambridge Latin. Next week Wednesday Milton Academy comes to the Newton High gym and next Friday, Newton goes to Rindge Tech for its second league game.

The Newton Trade School five ran away from the Wellesley High team last Monday at the Newton gym by a score of 42 to 11. Anneke at right forward and Fournier at centre, with 11 and 12 points respectively, were the outstanding performers for Coach Sullivan's quintet. Trumble at right forward tallied nine points.

Y. M. C. A.

Bowling

The Fall Boston Pin Tournament ended with Team 6 leading by four points. Teams 2 and 10 were tied for second place. The winners were Dr. George N. Abbott, Wilfred Webster, Raymond Clarke, John Joyce, and Arthur M. Jacobs. In the roll off for second place, Team 2, consisting of A. F. Tucker, Eldred M. Peterson, William W. Conway, Carl Wheeler, and Walter Cooper, were the winners. High average of 106 went to Mr. Tucker, James Matthews won high 3 string with 265, and Bruce U. Gardner won high single with 152.

Camp Committee Meeting

The Camp Committee will hold its first meeting on Wednesday, January 17th, to make plans for the 1934 season at Camp Frank A. Day. Applications are already coming in and it won't be long now (only 23 weeks) before camp opens.

Wrestling

Coach Dr. Simm's wrestling team at the Newton Y. M. C. A. won its fifth straight wrestling meet Monday evening when it defeated the Quincy Y. M. C. A. aggregation at Quincy 16-9. Competition was held in all but one of the eight weight classes. A summary of the meet follows: Newton winners were, Ray LaRosee, Newton, by fall; Hardy Curran, Newton, decision; George LaRosee, Newton, decision; Joe Arsenault, Newton, by fall. Three extra bouts were also held which did not count in the team score, but which were won by Joe Cormier, Guy Meyers and Sal Graceffa of Newton each by decision.

The Y. M. C. A. wrestling team hopes to annex its sixth straight dual meet when it meets the strong Woburn Y. M. C. A. team at Newton Friday evening. The Woburn "Y" group formerly wrestled under the name "Woburn Vikings."

Track

The Newton Y. M. C. A. track team directed by Coach Henry Pierce held its first dual meet of the season when it met Pawtucket "Y" at Newton Saturday evening. Pawtucket won 47 to 30. Summary of the meet:

Saturday evening the following Newton "Y" track men will go to Brockton "Y" with Coach Pierce for a dual meet: Stanley Cullen, Johnny Morris, Harold Mearls, Art. Linthwaite, Doug. Chalmers, Charley Hughes, Warren Lewis, Jim McCruden, Jim Cahill, Bob Gutzler, Andy Hanson, Walter Rich, and Paul Carroll.

Volley Ball

Regular volleyball ball team practice was started Saturday afternoon at the Newton Y. M. C. A. under the direction of "Bert" Rutherford. In preparation for the organizing of a team to represent the Newton "Y" in outside competition. Men who came out for the initial practice were C. L. Buhler, Maynard Moody, Harold B. Smith, Bill Hitchcock, Winston P. Simmons, and J. H. Rogers. Practice will be held every Saturday afternoon at four o'clock.

Squash Racquets

The Newton Y. M. C. A. squash racquets team played two matches Saturday in the Massachusetts League. Team C lost 4 to 1 to the Harvard Freshmen, while Team D defeated the B. A. A. 3 to 2.

COACH ENOCH NOT TO GIVE UP TRACK DUTIES AT NEWTON

Late last week it was reported that Coach Donald Enoch of the Newton High school track team was to receive the appointment as track coach at Boston University. Subsequently the post went to Win Marling, coach of track at Huntington School. It was further stated that the inability of Coach Enoch to leave Newton each day early enough to get in town to the Pioneer's practice session was one of the determining factors in the situation. Mr. Enoch is a teacher in the high school. Local track fans have followed with close interest the development of the indoor sport at Newton under Mr. Enoch in the past eight years and it is the universal sentiment that the popular Newton coach not only deserves but ultimately will receive offers which will take him to a more important position.

Taking over the track duties from the late Coach Allie Dickinson in 1926 after serving two years as an assistant coach, Mr. Enoch has turned out several champions and championship teams. He is regarded as one of the leading scholastic coaches of New England. His work with sprinters and hurdlers has been his outstanding achievement.

Newton high sprinters won State championships in the 100-yard dash in 1929, 1930, 1931, and 1932 and placed in the finals in 1927 and 1933. The champions were Bob Ewing, Walter Holmes, and Douglas Sloane. Ewing went to the University of Illinois and Sloane is now a freshman at Harvard. Carl Pesoccolle of Harvard finished second to Ewing in almost every Newton meet of the 1929 season.

Hurdles coached by Mr. Enoch have placed or won in the 120-yard hurdles for four successive seasons. Among those developed have been Wallace Fullerton of Penn State, Milton Green of Harvard and Stanley Johnson of M. I. T., and Palmer York of Andover.

The Newton mentor is looking forward to the coming indoor season at Newton with considerable hope of a well-balanced dual meet team, although it will largely be of inexperienced athletes. The first test comes tomorrow afternoon against the strong veteran Lawrence High outfit at the Andover Academy indoor dirt track.

OUR LADY HIGH FIVE WINS OPENING GAME

Our Lady High's basketball team opened its season's search to regain the championship of the Greater Boston Catholic High School basketball league on Tuesday with a 49 to 12 victory over Sacred Heart School of Newton Centre. Although the local school lost the services of Captain Charley Gallagher, high scoring star of the past few years, who is now at Providence College, the team showed that it will be a prominent factor in the competition for this year's title. Our Lady High won the championship in 1932 but lost a close race last season to Cathedral High. In other opening day games St. Charles of Waltham edged St. Charles of Roxbury 29 to 19 in a game which went into three extra periods and Immaculate Conception topped St. Clement's High, 20 to 18.

V. Marino led the Newton team in scoring against Sacred Heart with a total of 15 points. McCarthy at centre was second high with ten tallies while Deberry and Nick Collantano counted six each.

A game which may have an important bearing on the ultimate resting place of the 1934 title will be played today between Our Lady High and St. Charles High on the Newton team's floor. As these two teams are expected to be in the running a victory for either will give it an edge on one of its chief opponents.

NEWTON SPORTSMEN FORM ANGLERS' CLUB

An enthusiastic meeting of about fifty local sportsmen was held on Tuesday evening at the Hunnewell Club, Newton, at which time a Newton Anglers Club was formed. Dr. Howard Moore was elected president of the newly formed organization. Raymond J. Kenney, director of the Mass. Div. of Fisheries and Game, was the chief speaker. Among other prominent sportsmen attending were Arthur B. Harlow, president of the Mass. Fish and Game Ass'n, Dr. W. C. Greene, chairman of the waterfowl committee of that organization, Frederick Blodgett, Matthew Lahti, Charles Summerson, Charles E. Clapp, James Hooper, Earl Baird and Harold Sawyer. Hunting and fishing moving pictures were shown which were of great interest to the group.

NEWTON BREAKS MELROSE STRING BY WINNING CLOSE GAME

Newton High sent the strong Melrose High hockey team down to a 2 to 1 defeat last Saturday afternoon in the Greater Boston Interscholastic hockey league games at the Boston Garden. It was the second defeat suffered by the Melrose team in four years of competition. Melrose outplayed the Newton team on the attack but Newton's rugged defensive measures staved off threat after threat. Burt Woodward, Newton goalie, proved a veritable Gibraltar in the path of the Melrose offensive despite the frantic five-man offensives thrown at him time after time.

Newton teamwork gave the orange and black a one-goal lead early in the second session after a scoreless first period. The tally was driven home by Ernie McLeod on a pass from Tom Griffin. McLeod beat goalie Goding of Melrose with a shot from the left about eight feet out which was too hot to handle.

The third period was about three minutes old when Melrose tied the score with a shot from directly in front of Goalie Woodward by Captain George Carpenter after two of his teammates had worked the puck up the ice. A minute later Norman McCutcheon let go a tricky hopper from the blue line and the puck bounced between the goalie's legs for the tally that brought victory.

Melrose tried in vain to knot the count again as time was expiring but with Goalie Woodward performing in great style and with McCutcheon and Capt. Johnson on hand to slap the puck to the far end of the rink the blue line and the puck bounced between the goalie's legs for the tally that brought victory.

The victory gave Newton a tie for second place in the league standing. In tomorrow's games Newton will meet the strong Stoneham sextet and will endeavor to hold its high position. The standing to date:

PARAMOUNT THEATRE, NEWTON

With Joan Crawford and Clark Gable headlined at the Paramount Newton Theatre in "Dancing Lady", some news worth reading, "Dancing Lady" towers to new heights in screen musical entertainment. An unusual fine supporting cast grouped together for this production includes May Robson, Winnie Lightner, Franchot Tone, Fred Astaire who recently danced before the King of England at a command performance and a hundred or more dancing girls, some of the most gorgeous scenes ever designed will be seen in this picture starting Sunday, on the same program Spencer Tracy in "Mad Game", for the last half of the week Jack Holt will be seen in "Master of Men" an industrial story of merit and James Dunn and June Knight in "Take a Chance". A very high class vaudeville show with band is scheduled for Saturday Nights through the winter months starting 7:45 P. M. The Paramount also has vaudeville for the children on Saturday afternoons together with a serial and a comedy, "Popeye the Sailor" this last half of the week's program is ideal for the children to see.

CAR IN COLLISION—REPORT IT STOLEN

Wednesday afternoon a car registered to Gertrude Healey of 11 Mt. Hood road, Brighton hit a parked car on Washington street, Newton, near Waverley avenue. Whoever was driving the Brighton car, abandoned it. Shortly after the accident occurred, Newton police headquarters received a telephone message from a man who stated he was a brother of the Healey woman. He said her car had been parked on Court street, Newtonville about 4 that afternoon, and had been stolen.

COLPITTS OFFERS FLORIDA TRIPS BY MOTOR COACH

Attractive trips through Florida, featuring leisurely day-time journeys by motor coach, are offered by the Colpitts Tourist Company, 262 Washington St., Boston. Parties go by rail direct to Jacksonville, thence by motor coach down the East Coast to St. Augustine, Daytona, Palm Beach, Miami; thence across the State by way of Lake Wales and the Bok Singing Tower to Tampa and St. Petersburg. On the return the parties visit Orlando and Silver Springs. The trip includes meals and hotel accommodations in Florida.

Newton Dramatic Club Presents 'Princess Mariana'

The regular second offering of the Newton Dramatic Club's season will be "The Princess Mariana," a musical comedy, in the Newton High School auditorium on Saturday, Jan. 13, at 8 p. m. The Club is generously contributing the proceeds of the evening to that worthy while leading charity of Newton, The Mothers' Rest Association, the officers of which are President, Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell; Secretary, Mrs. Louis R. Fuller; Treasurer, Mrs. Earle E. Tilton, who is also in charge of the program. Finance chairman, Mrs. E. Hoyt, Weston.

The show is staged and directed by Mrs. Everett W. Varney, who has produced nearly all the important plays of the Newton Dramatic Club. It is a colossal undertaking with one hundred characters, solo singers, actors, and dancers, as well as choruses and groups. Hazel Sands Welch directs the dances and Mary Curtis Cobb accompanies.

Mrs. Larz Anderson and Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian wrote this musical fantasy which tells of the life of a sea maiden who becomes a mortal for the love of a prince. Marie Timmons will sing the title role and John Tulloch, Jr., plays opposite her. Miriam Catherine, the well known dancer, takes the part of the Oriental Bride and dances her famous Nautch dance. The Sea Queen is Elizabeth Cushman and the Sea King is Edward Hale, Jr. Margaret Stewart is the Lotus Land singer, Mrs. Frederick Knight, the Gypsy Queen, Thelma Corrigan is the gypsy dancer and E. Hoyt Weston is High Priest. Stanbrough Fernald is the foreign envoy.

The oyster dance is done by Olivia Bigelow and Gwendolyn Gulle and the dog fish by Nathalie Phaneuf. Mrs. Edward Walker Marshall is the leading dancer for the Blue Waves. Outstanding in the whole show is the excellent work done by Mrs. Allen Hubbard as Sea Witch and Edgar Swail as Devil fish in their representation of the forces of evil.

The first act takes place in under-seas. The mermaids and mermen in glistening costumes against the sea blue background is breathtaking in its loveliness.

Pirates with dirks and gypsies with tambourines enliven the third act which takes place on the deck of a pirate ship.

Most impressive will be the episode of the wedding when the High Priest, followed by acolytes, precedes the procession of 30 wedding guests in gowns of royal colors. The music written by Mrs. Gulesian carries into the scene a feeling of deep religious beauty that elevates the scene to high dramatic power. The robe of the bride is of heavy cloth of gold and lace truly regal as Mrs. Larz Anderson spared no expense in ordering the costumes and scenery.

Hostesses: Mrs. Albert W. Muthor, Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Mrs. Gardner Walworth. Ushers (in charge of Mrs. Ralph Emery, Mrs. Charles Bailey)—Madeleine Barrett, Victoria Daloz, Thalia Clark, Elizabeth Follett, Priscilla Hay, Betty Jane Dockstader, Ethel de Mille, Pauline and Nina Keppler, Grace Nelson, Natalie North.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Newton National Bank was held at the offices of the bank on Tuesday, January 9, 1934. Thomas Weston, president, since the bank was chartered in 1928, presided at the meeting. Reports for the year showed that the conservative policy followed by the directors had resulted in a material strengthening of the bank's position. In spite of the extremely difficult conditions of 1933 the bank shows an increased capital position and better than three to one ratio of deposits to capital and surplus and a slight increase in deposits. The following directors were re-elected: President, Thomas Weston; Vice-Presidents, George W. Sweet, William C. Silis; Cashier, James B. Melcher.

Directly after the stockholders' meeting a meeting of the directors was held and all officers were unanimously re-elected as follows:

Directors—James R. Bancroft of Waban, Pres. Am. Ins. of Finance; J. Harold Drake of West Newton, Drake Bakeries, Inc.; William Ellison of Newton, Treas. Proctor Ellison Co.; George P. Hatch of West Newton, Treas. B. S. Hatch Co.; Philip S. Jamieson of Newton, J. B. Jamieson Co.; Charles H. Lynde of Newtonville, Importer China and Glass; Grosvenor D. Marcy of Newton Hlds., Pres. Sampson & Murdoch Co.; James B. Melcher of Newton, Cashier; Vincent P. Roberts of Chestnut Hill, V. P. Roberts & Co.; Fred S. Sawyer of West Newton, Treas. Thing's Shoe Stores, Inc.; William C. Silis of Newton, Pres. and Treas. W. C. Silis Corp.; George W. Sweet of Newton Centre, Pres. Pierce-Arrow Sales Co. of Boston; Henry A. Wentworth of Auburndale, Consulting Engineer; Thomas Weston of West Newton, Attorney and Trustee; Guy M. Winslow of Auburndale, Pres. Lasell Junior College.

DRAMATIC READING OF "DOLLY MADISON"

The Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church enjoyed an afternoon with Mrs. Isabella Taylor of the Taylor School of Expression at the monthly meeting on Wednesday of last week. Mrs. Taylor, in that the career and conservative policies followed by the directors had resulted in a material strengthening of the bank's position. In spite of the extremely difficult conditions of 1933 the bank shows an increased capital position and better than three to one ratio of deposits to capital and surplus and a slight increase in deposits. The following directors were re-elected: President, Thomas Weston; Vice-Presidents, George W. Sweet, William C. Silis; Cashier, James B. Melcher.

The women sewed in the morning for the Newton Hospital, the Cooper Community Centre and for the Red Cross. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Joan F. Driscoll's group. Mrs. W. T. Taylor, second vice president, was in charge of the executive board meeting and of the afternoon meeting, owing to the illness of both the president, Mrs. Ernest P. Railsback and the first vice president, Mrs. W. H. Timbie. Coming activities announced for the month were a luncheon bridge, Jan. 27, at the Home Craft Demonstration Shop in Boston and a sandwich demonstration by the Wonder Bakers, Jan. 29. Following the program, tea and cake were served by a committee with Mrs. Dagmar Young in charge.

CINDERELLA

Cinderella is still one of the favorite fairy stories after several centuries of delighting all boys and girls of every land. Children everywhere near Boston are looking forward to the play Cinderella which will be presented at the Repertory Theater in Boston, Saturday, Jan. 13, by the Children's Theater of New York, under the sponsorship of the Boston University Women's Council. The proceeds are in aid of the Building and Scholarship Fund of the University.

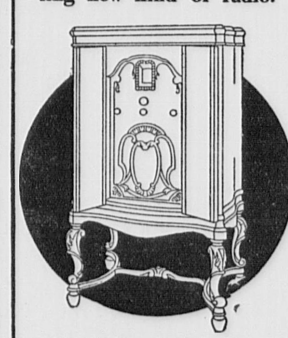

Clara Tree Major, director of the cast bringing the play here, used as the chief source of her dramatization the story that the Comtesse d'Aulnoy wrote for the royal nursery of Louis XIV. Perhaps it was because the Comtesse d'Aulnoy had a Cinderella experience in her own background that her nursery tale so delighted, not only the royal children of France, but future generations as well.

The Newton committee co-operating on the plays include Mrs. Sterling Loveland, Mrs. Ernest Cobb, Mrs. George W. Hinman, Mrs. Herbert F. Jordan, and Mrs. Harold W. Ruopp. There will be two performances, 10:30 a. m. and 2:15 p. m.

Four Women Hurt As Car Plunges Into N'ville Brook

Four women escaped serious injuries about 11 o'clock last Saturday night when the automobile in which they were riding skidded on Walnut st., Newtonville, near Dexter rd., crashed through an iron fence, went over a restraining wall and dropped 15 feet to land on its side in the gully through which Laundry Brook flows from Bullough's Pond.

The car was driven by Mrs. Helen Ford of Churchill st., Watertown. The other occupants were Mary Quigley of 6 Churchill st., Newtonville (a sister of Mrs. Ford); her mother, Mrs. Mary Quigley of Churchill st., Newtonville, and Mrs. Mary Grebaugh of Fayette st., Watertown. Mrs. Ford, Miss Quigley and Mrs. Grebaugh managed to extricate themselves from the wrecked car. Mrs. Quigley was unable to get out of the car until the police ambulance arrived, when she was removed. She received cuts on her forehead and mouth, and with Mrs. Grebaugh, who received injuries to her legs, were taken to the Newton Hospital. Mrs. Ford and Miss Quigley were taken into the home of Charles W. Rider at 525 Walnut st., and given first aid, and later taken to the Newton Hospital. Miss Quigley received a cut on her left leg. Mrs. Ford suffered from contusions.

In addition to the police being notified, some excited person also sent a message for aid to the fire department.

CLAFLIN CLUB TO BE HOST

The leaders in education in the City of Newton have been invited to be the guests of the Claflin Club at its meeting Friday, Jan. 19. Mr. Irving O. Palmer, formerly principal of the high school; Mr. John Lund, the superintendent of schools of Newton, and Mr. Paul E. Ellicker, the principal of the senior high school, are to be present and will make brief addresses. The main address of the evening will be given by Dr. Payson Smith, the State Commissioner of Education, who is to speak on "Education at the Crossroads."

This is to be "Ladies' Night" at the Club. Mr. F. Nelson Lane, the well-known bass soloist, will sing. A large attendance is expected.

CENTRAL CLUB BOYS' NIGHT

The regular monthly meeting of Central Club was held at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, on Monday evening, January 8th.

The entertainment included Donald Bain, a bird and animal imitator, and Gardner Reynolds, cartoonist and chalk-talk artist, who featured his famous "figure heads."

It was also "Boys' Night" and almost every member present was accompanied by a boy.

Police News

Robert L. Horton of Harvard st., Cambridge, was arrested on Friday charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued until Jan. 12. He was arrested by Patrolmen Murphy, Jenkins and Chadwick.

Fred Dennis of Washington st., this city, was fined $75 in the Newton court last Friday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He appealed. He was injured when his car hit the traffic signal at Nonantum square, and contended that he was dazed because of the collision.

John F. Foley, 37, of 41 Surry st., Brighton, was fined $100 in the Newton court on Wednesday by Judge Bacon for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He appealed. Foley was arrested last week by Patrolmen L. O'Donnell and Whelan after they had chased him in a cruising car from Newton Centre to Oak square, Brighton. Whelan testified that during the pursuit, the car driven by Foley nearly hit pedestrians and other automobiles.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

A car driven by Caroline Wentworth of 75 Lincoln st., Newton Highlands, and an oil truck driven by Ray Grieve, Jr., of 4 Mechanic st., Upper Falls, collided on Monday at Chestnut and Highland sts., West Newton. Ray Grieve, Sr., who was riding on the truck, received injuries to his legs.

Cars driven by William Corrigan of 278 Cabot st., Newtonville, and Andrew Pupa, 17, of 99 West st., Nonantum, collided at 9:15 on Monday night at Cabot and Harvard sts., Newtonville. Corrigan reported that he and his wife received injuries to their backs.

WOMAN INJURED IN FALL DOWN STAIRS

Mrs. Blanche Moynihan of 53 Cross st., West Newton, received a shoulder injury on Monday afternoon when she fell down a flight of stairs at her home. She was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

AUSPICIOUS OPENING OF 1934 REALTY SEASON

One of the first real estate transactions of 1934 on which final papers have gone to record is worthy of more than passing note, and augurs well for the 1934 realty market in Newton. The Donovan estate, located at No. 373 Commonwealth ave., in the Chestnut Hill District, has been conveyed to George Laganas of Lowell, Mass., who purchases for a home. This property is one of the outstanding small estates in this beautiful residential district, comprising a mansion home of ten rooms, three baths, three-car garage and an exceptional lot of 27,250 square feet of land. The total assessed value of the property is $27,800. Title is given by Grace A. Donovan, and John T. Burns and Sons, Inc., were the brokers.

Claims That U.S. Must Enter Next European War

If there is another European war, it will be impossible for the United States to stay out, declared Sley Huddleston, European correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, at a lecture in the West Newton Unitarian Church on Sunday evening. On the subject, "Can Europe Avoid War?" Mr. Huddleston gave it as his opinion that war in Europe is improbable in the near future and that it may be avoided for all times by "right thinking and right acting of people of good will." "The independence of nations has disappeared," he said.

He reviewed the present critical situation and the course of events which have led up to it from the Treaty of Versailles to Hitler. He said that Europe is now fighting for advantage under the cloak of peace propaganda, and that the mental attitude of statesmen is generally bad. He told how he visited Hitler three years ago and was impressed by his fanaticism, but foresaw his triumph because he represented the growing spirit of revolt against the injustice and humiliation of the peace treaty.

He said that if war is finally to be avoided the wrong of the Treaty of Versailles must be righted. He also suggested that if the United States would join England in a declaration that the two countries will unite to prevent any warlike move, that the moral force of such a declaration would have a very salutary stabilizing influence in dissipating any war clouds which may be hovering over Europe at the present time.

The next lecture in the course will be given on Sunday evening, Jan. 21, by C. E. M. Joad. His subject will be "The Responsibility of This Generation to the Next."

BIBLICAL DRAMA AT LINCOLN PARK CHURCH

This Sunday morning at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, the pastor, Rev. John Shade Franklin, will preach the final sermon for the first five years of his pastorate in West Newton. His subject is "The Gospel for Me." For music Mrs. Kathleen Butler will sing a soprano solo and the Vested Choirs will sing Gail's "List the Cherubic Host."

At the West Newton Community Evening Service the Biblical Drama, "I Am Come," will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Duncan M. Staniford. This play by Ethel Gesner Rockwell presents the characters of Terah, son to Peter; Tirzah, wife to Peter; Mary, mother of Jesus; Nicodemus, a rabbi; Peter, James and John, followers of Jesus, and Jesus, the Christ. The scene is an outer court of Peter's home in Galilee during Christ's Galilean ministry.

Mrs. Kathleen Butler, Mrs. Alice Browne and Miss Betty Brooks will sing "The Old Rugged Cross," "I Can Hear the Saviour Calling," and other Gospel favorites. A Children's Choir will sing "Tell Me the Stories of Jesus." Mr. William K. Bowers, violinist, and Miss Mabel Adams Bennett, pianist, will accompany. The members of the dramatic cast include Russell Carle, Mrs. Duncan M. Staniford, Mr. and Mrs. John Shade Franklin, Fred L. Smith, Robert Lucas, Douglas Matthews, and Norman Henley. The lighting effects will be produced by Homer L. Welsh and Clayton Foster. The stage setting is by A. A. Foster and Duncan M. Staniford.

FOUND GUILTY OF ACCOSTING GIRLS

Joseph L. Roth, Jr. 21, of 6 Brentwood avenue, Newton Centre, was found guilty in the Newton court yesterday by Judge Allen of assault and battery on two young girls who reside on Homer street. The girls, one 16 and the other 14, who are sisters, testified that Roth recently accosted them at 5:15 one afternoon on Crescent avenue, reached out with his arms and pushed the girls against each other. They fled to their home and a complaint was made. Roth denied the accusation and his parents testified that he was at home when the alleged assault occurred. Judge Allen placed him on probation for 3 months.

REAR CONTOURS MOST IMPORTANT

Streamlining efficiency in motor car design depends largely on rear-end contours. Hudson engineers learned from wind-tunnel tests and, in consequence, the 1934 Terraplanes and Hudsons sweep to the rear as shown here, with no outside-mounted tire to break the flowing lines. The car front contributes only 25 per cent to streamlining possibilities, and the rear and sides 75 per cent.

CO-OPERATION—NOT CENTRALIZATION

In his address to the Legislature last week Governor Ely recommended the centralization of police enforcement in the state under a single head. It is a question of broad scope and one which should require careful study. His Excellency further recommends the centralization of the police of the cities and towns of the Metropolitan District. Such a procedure is of vital interest to Newton and other cities and towns of the district which we regard with grave doubt. In the final analysis the question of the control of our police is not the major factor—the most important angle is whether or not such centralization would be the most efficient method of handling crime and its allied problems. On the whole the fault behind the present day problems of crime is not with the police departments but with the courts. Changes in our courts have been also recommended with a view to a more satisfactory handling of the situation.

We do not believe that the police departments of the cities and towns of the Metropolitan District could be efficiently administered by a centralized control although sub-divisions are retained. While there is some similarity of problems in these various cities and towns local conditions are such that we feel it to be impractical for centralization. We do believe that there are a number of ways by which more efficiency can be offered through state or district co-operation in police matters. Radio service, such as is being offered by Newton to its neighboring communities, is one way of getting increased efficiency. A division of the Metropolitan District into several zones with a radio broadcasting station for each zone and interconnection between these stations would be of value. Another means of co-operation could be had through the establishment of state police training schools. We train our school teachers and other public servants by state aid and it seems practical to extend a similar service in the protection of the public. Many police officers are added to our police forces with little training along the right lines.

We believe it wise to be wary of centralization and seek co-operation instead.

A MUNICIPAL GOLF COURSE

Questionnaires are being circulated in the Newtons regarding public sentiment toward the provision for a municipal golf course. The course in question is the Albemarle Golf course in Newtonville. The questions asked deal with whether or not the signer would play on the course, whether he would pay a season's fee, or whether or not he believes it would be of benefit to the city to maintain such a project. A Municipal golf course has proved to be a source of some profit to the community or district which maintains it. We believe that such would be the case in Newton. If the transaction can be arranged on terms favorable to the city it should have careful consideration by the Aldermen and city officials. There are many advantages of a municipal course and but one outstanding disadvantage—financial conditions. Unquestionably the time to purchase real estate is at the present, as with continued recovery of economic conditions real estate will be of more value. While the city might conceivably reap more financial benefit through private development of the golf course property and subsequent taxation as residential property there is far more to be considered.

Under The Gilded Dome

Assembling last week Wednesday the Legislature is gradually beginning to get under way for another important session. About Town

By Edward H. Powers

Hundreds of men are being employed in this State to make a profound study of traffic conditions, to count the number of automobiles passing many street intersections. Much money is being expended in this alleged campaign to learn what causes automobile accidents. About everyone knows that there are four causes for nearly all automobile accidents—speeding, reckless driving, drunken driving and careless pedestrians. The first three causes could be greatly reduced if offenders were properly punished. They are not punished because of "fixing" complaints by police, largely through influence used by persons with a "pull"; leniency by judges of a certain type in lower courts; not pressing and other connivance by district attorneys, or their assistants; misplaced sympathy by jurors.

To read the discussion of financiers and "statesmen" in the papers one would think that the future of civilization depends on gold. This, in itself is proof positive that our much vaunted civilization is quite shallow. One can't subsist on gold; it is not nutritious, has no value as a food. Neither would it protect one from the weather, if used as clothing. But, because in the past mankind has worshipped Mammon, instead of the Gods they pretended to worship; because greed rather than unselfishness has dominated men, gold has been a dominant factor in the so-called civilized world.

Governor Ely advocates capital punishment only for those who murder after deliberately premeditating such an act, or those who murder in the commission of a robbery. Herman (Red) Snyder, who was convicted of the cold blooded murder of a Somerville filling station attendant in a robbery, belongs to the latter class. And Governor Ely, who once before extended clemency to Snyder, now grants him another reprieve, despite the decision of the majority of the full bench of the United States Supreme Court, which ruled that Snyder had not been deprived of his constitutional rights.

Recently we have noticed a sign which has been placed on Beacon st., just east of the fire station and nearly a mile west of Waban Village. This sign reads—"You are now in Waban. Look out for children." It is located at the side of Beacon st. as a warning to motorists. Our reaction when we read this sign, was—are not the children in Newton Lower Falls, the village on the other side of the sign, also to be given consideration? So, why doesn't the city erect a similar sign on the opposite side of Beacon st. which should read—"You are now in Lower Falls. Look out for children." And just to be impartial, why not erect similar signs on principal traffic arteries at the boundaries of all the villages in the city?

Early last Sunday morning, about 1:30 a. m., five youths who had journeyed from the direction of Nonantum toward Newton Corner about an hour before, walked back along Pearl st. toward Nonantum. They made so much noise that they awakened hundreds of persons along Pearl st. and, apparently under the influence of liquor, yelling like a maniac, could be heard for a couple of hundred yards. When these hoodlums reached Jackson rd., two of them deliberately broke the glass on all four sides of the traffic signal at Jackson rd., and Pearl st.

If Newton had some policemen patrolling its streets nights, in residential sections, it is less probable that this sort of thing would have to be endured. Cruising cars, radio equipped, are quite necessary to cope with modern conditions. But, patrolmen on foot are also necessary to give communities proper protection. And, so far as we are aware, no other city or town in this vicinity went to the extreme that Newton did in taking all policemen off foot patrol nights in residential districts, except in two favored sections.

Citizens of Newton should aid Chief Randlett in attempting to apprehend anyone who pulls a false alarm. This form of "amusement" is not funny. It frequently has resulted in tragedies. When fire apparatus and firemen are called out on false alarms the lives and property of Newton residents have no protection from the menace of fire. Whenever pulled all the false alarms in this city on Sunday night was well acquainted with the location of boxes and the streets leading to them.

Over 29,000 persons were killed in automobile accidents in the U. S. A. last year. Hundreds of thousands were seriously injured. These casualties were largely caused by excessive speed. Notwithstanding that automobiles built in recent years can travel 80, and more miles per hour, the present trend is toward egg-shaped, or bullet-shaped car bodies to produce even greater speed. Talk about rushing to perdition!

In our boyhood days we knew a gentleman of Irish birth who told us an eccentric wealthy landlord in that country. This man had his numerous employees at times engaged at in quite impractical tasks; probably just to keep them occupied. One of the "projects" on which they worked was in building rookeries. And, after the rookeries would have been built, the landlord would have his workmen destroy the nests they had constructed. Some of the "projects" which have been devised in this country to give work to the unemployed under the P. W. A. C. W. A. and other relief activities seem to have about as much practical value as the "rookeries project" of the old Irish landlord.

By L. D. G. Bentley

Professional jokesmiths must lament the passing of prohibition which was their chief source of wisecracks.

Oddments

At the height of the heaviest snowstorm up to the hour of penning this paragraph I saw an amazing sight. It was that of a man on a bicycle riding over the only cleared portion of Tremont street, ward 7, which happened to be car tracks. You can't keep a good cyclist down. He was spinning along at a good rate. The sidewalk, by the way, was at that moment banked high with snow.

All of this leads to the subject of clearing the sidewalk in front of one's dwelling. I know of certain citizens who can be relied upon to tackle the drifts almost before the last flake has dropped. And I also know of other citizens, their neighbors, who can be depended upon never to make any attempt to keep their sidewalks free of snow. I don't see why there should be this difference but there is. Even if it does exist it should never be recognized by the authorities. And yet there are police officers who seem to prefer to cause everybody, including themselves, to slip and slide over the ice rather than enforce the law on snow removal. If those who think sidewalks need not be cleaned in Winter would only take a tumble that would prove entirely satisfactory providing it was a good hard one.

There is nothing more imposing and dazzling than the interior of a large public building. If you've ever been lost in a labyrinth of marble then you know. Last week in our own State House I was stopped by a man who said, "Say, how do I get out of this place?" I've been wandering around for an hour and I can't find a door.

Man-Afraid-of-the-Cold

During one of these way-below-zero days that descended so unexpectedly upon us I found a young man, whose work takes him outdoors considerably, trying to buy a pair of ear-muffs. He stopped me on one of the coldest corners of Boston and asked me if I had any suggestions as to their sale. I had none and if possessed of any valuable information could not have communicated it. My teeth were chattering and the noise would have drowned out any articulate speech. I merely shook my head. "It's funny," said he, "I can't seem to find any."

Passing up the natural query why he thought I might know where ear-muffs are sold at retail, or wholesale for that matter, I began to take note of the great rush for extra clothing. Everything except the regulation dress of an Esquimaux was brought forth for the protection of an otherwise hardy race. At this point I must say that my references are confined entirely to masculine attire. What the ladies and misses wore was no concern of mine.

A Boston newspaperman of New York training, who still dresses in the manner of "big town" scribes, which means pretty smart and snappy, was all bundled up. He had a heavy coat, overboots, fur hat and fur gloves, but beyond that, his face was swathed in silk—a handsome muffler. As I approached he must have noted my look of astonishment for he said, "Hey, Lev, I'm going out to welcome Admiral Byrd to the South Pole."

I have a notion, in spite of my failure to observe the dress of the fair sex, that the men were cowardly about this cold snap. They managed to rig themselves in everything except bare feet. I even saw a trapper's outfit minus the snowshoes, on a big business executive. When I asked him if he was a member of the Hudson Bay colony he was indignant.

After the first suggestion of ear-muffs came to me I began noting they were prevalent. I must admit they looked old-style, if there is a fashion in ear-muffs, but probably that's the warmest kind. At any rate I never knew so many kinds of men's Winter apparel existed and for that reason and that alone I'm glad the mercury dropped to 16 below or whatever it was.

Watch Your Mail Box

The contemplated action—or has it gone further—of Washington authorities in restricting the use of private letter boxes to postal matter is going to mean a terrible mix-up before things are straightened out as I view it. First, I should like to know how they expect to enforce it. Is there to be a spy at every door ready to report you and me as having received unstamped matter? The onus is on the person on whom is bestowed matter that should be mailed. He's got to pay the postage that the missive should have contained. How many think that's fair? Unanimously, "No." Thank you, I thought as much.

It isn't so long ago that Washington required that every householder should have a letter box. It was explained that the letter carrier did not have time to ring a doorbell and wait for somebody to open the door and accept whatever there might be. Often there was nobody at home and the letter carrier did not know what to do about it. Well, everybody provided himself with some kind of a letter box. Of course, many had previously installed them. There's the slit in the front door or at the side and there are those metal boxes. They are all containers.

Personally, I have become so used to the slot in the front door that the noise made by flapping it has become a sort of song or at least suggestive of musical composition with the title, "Here's a Letter for You" or "See What the Postman's Brought." Possibly you think me romantic about my letters, but you're on the wrong track. I merely like to be remembered and welcome the letter carrier as

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 14.

The Golden Text is: "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth" (1 Corinthians 5:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord. I will pay my vows unto the Lord now in the presence of all his people" (Psalms 116:13, 14).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If all who ever partook of the sacrament had really commemorated the sufferings of Jesus and drunk of his cup, they would have revolutionized the world. If all who seek his commemoration through material symbols will take up the cross, heal the sick, cast out evils, and preach Christ, or Truth, to the poor,—the receptive thought,—they will bring in the millennium" (p. 34).

EIGHTH WORLD VISION INSTITUTE

The Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church will hold its eighth annual World Vision Institute the week of Jan. 21-28. On Sunday morning, Jan. 21, Mrs. E. S. Howard, President of Mt. Zion Seminary in Georgia, will speak at eleven o'clock. In the evening at seven o'clock, in the Assembly Hall, there will be talks on Italian work in East Boston and on Syrian work at Morgan Memorial. China will be the subject of the meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:45 when Rev. George L. Davis will give reminiscences of twenty-five years of mission service in China and Miss Alice Lee Welch will show motion pictures on "Along Tourist Routes in China with Missionary Detours."

The Pastor, Rev. Dr. Laurence W. C. Emig, will lead the World Service prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7:45 in the Chapel. Friday evening will be "India Night," with moving pictures and colored slides on work in Lodhipur and on Indian life. The Rev. Harry A. Hanson on furlough from work in Lodhipur, will be in charge. There will also be Indian costumes and curios and the singing of Indian songs and a dramatic sketch entitled "A Battleground and a Garden of Prayer." On Sunday morning, Jan. 28 at eleven o'clock, Mr. Hanson will speak on "Men and the Kingdom." In the evening Mrs. Howard M. LeSourd will conduct a Missionary Candle Lighting Service, "Altar Lights," following an address at seven by Prof. Howard M. LeSourd. The purpose of these annual institutes is educational with a program covering world service both at home and in foreign countries. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend any or all of the sessions of the week.

HAPPY DAYS INN

The gay and tuneful musical extravaganza, "Happy Days Inn," written specially for the occasion and featuring many local favorites in popular numbers, is rapidly rounding into shape under the expert direction of Harold B. Buse. The show which will be presented in St. Mary's Parish Hall, Newton Lower Falls, on the evenings of Friday and Saturday, January 26-27 is built around the romance which takes place in Happy Days Inn between the hotel clerk (played by Daniel S. Bond) and the telephone operator (played by Mary G. Leslie) who is Mr. Bond's fiancée in real life.

Other favorites who are scheduled to appear include George A. Collins, LeRoy Greason, Charles P. Edwards and Fred Collins. This last performer, who is well known in local athletics, gives every sign of being able to sing as well if not better than he plays ball.

The performance is sponsored by The Brotherhood of St. Mary's Parish, of which Fred A. Farrington is president and all arrangements are being handled by a committee under the general chairmanship of Charles Hewson, who also plays a leading part.

a thoughtful friend. There are times when he has nothing but circulars and such. These are apparently O. K. by Washington as they have been stamped or the Government has been paid for handling them.

Now we come to the point that I have been leading up to. Why should we be compelled to receive advertising matter and such that we never asked for and don't want merely because it has gone through the post-office and again, why should we be penalized because somebody uses our letter box instead of the postoffice?

"Put your 'John Hancock' Here"

THE common expression synonymous of signature, "Put your 'John Hancock' here", can be traced to the fact that John Hancock, born January 12th, 1738, was the first to sign the Declaration of Independence.

When you put your "John Hancock" on a Newton Centre Savings Bank signature card you immediately become a part owner in this institution, for this is a MUTUAL savings bank.

LARGE GATHERING AT GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Pierre LeBlanc of 49 Falmouth rd., West Newton, were at home to over seventy-five relatives and friends on Saturday evening of last week when they celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Mrs. LeBlanc, who wore a gown of black transparent velvet with a corsage bouquet of roses, and her husband were assisted in receiving by their four children, Mrs. Alfred Glode of Springfield, Mass., William D. Keller of Newton Centre, Frederick LeBlanc of Waltham and Miss Lucille LeBlanc, at home. Eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren were among the guests.

The rooms were decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, tallies and baby's breath. A large wedding cake in white and gold and inscribed with the two remote dates was a decoration in itself. Mr. and Mrs. LeBlanc received many beautiful gifts including china and glassware, also sums of money.

Alfred Glode of Springfield acted the role of master of ceremonies and congratulations were extended to the host and hostess by Philip Arsenault of Waltham, a life-long friend. Music was furnished by Roy Petrie and George Powers. There were also vocal selections by Mrs. Glode, a daughter, and by Mrs. Mary Powers, a granddaughter.

Mr. LeBlanc was retired from the cemetery department of the City of Waltham a year ago when he and his wife moved from that city to their present address. Mrs. LeBlanc is active in work in St. Joseph's Church in Waltham. In the little church at Marzette, Cape Breton, where the wedding ceremony took place fifty years ago, a high mass was celebrated by the Rev. A. H. Cormier on this present anniversary.

EASING EDUCATIONAL GROWING PAINS

GUIDANCE IN THE NEWTON SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

The day-to-day experiences in a large, comprehensive high school parallel life situations in the adult world to an amazing degree. A survey of the student body shows that high school pupils differ greatly in ambitions, in interests and in physical and mental characteristics; they also have widely diverse life purposes and aims.

As these individual differences became recognized it was evident that an organized and concentrated attempt must be made which would help pupils face their own difficulties, in order that there would be fewer serious maladjustments in adulthood in the next generation. To meet this need the Newton High School has developed a definite plan of guidance over a period of years.

The organization of the department consists of every member of the faculty. Many of them function as homeroom and subject advisers. Three, with a group of special assistants, act as class supervisors and there is a guidance chairman who directs the work. Every teacher is "guidance conscious." They know that Johnny and Mary are complex, adolescent human beings and that before Johnny and Mary can have intelligent help it is necessary to have a complete picture of the complete life of Johnny and Mary. So all possible factors that influence the lives of these youngsters are assembled and studied; then constructive plans for the future are suggested. In analyzing and planning, it is often necessary to use many of Newton's splendid resources outside of the school—for example, the Welfare Bureau, Service Clubs, hospital facilities, the Red Cross. Thus, through co-operative effort we are able many times to change despair to faith, boredom to interest, and failure to success.

To give a few illustrations: Two years ago last September a boy from a small town in the western part of the state transferred to our school. He brought a fine academic record with him, but he was young and shy and frightened. He was placed in the logical class and course of study. At the end of a month a definite check was made on his accomplishment. A conference with the lad showed that he was unhappy and lonesome and was doing a poor quality of work. He had no sense of security and felt that he was slow and stupid. Conferences were held with all his teachers and, as a result, his parents were persuaded to have him enter the work of the preceding class in some of his subjects. This adjustment, coupled with an attempt on the part of the school to help make certain outside social contacts gave the lad just the confidence he needed. In the June College Entrance Examinations this same boy received, in one of his subjects, the highest rating given in the entire country this year.

Last week a boy climbed the final step on the ladder that meant successful attainment in all his academic work after facing complete failure at the end of his first month in high school. What is responsible for this improvement? A slight change in program of studies, frequent conferences and interest on the part of his teachers and class advisers? Yes, partly, but what did more for that boy than all else was an entire new outfit, trousers, shoes and sweater, procured for him that he might face his classmates unembarrassed and unashamed. And so the work of adjustment goes on. Day by day the search is continued for the fundamental, underlying causes for absence, repeated tardiness, subject failures, temper tantrums, dishonesty, deceit and other unhappy personality difficulties. After the diagnosis, comes an attempt at remedial measures. Sometimes we fail, but often we succeed. The failures challenge us to renewed effort and the successes make us humbly mindful of our opportunities!

NEWTON HOSPITAL AID ASSOCIATION INC., 1933

Another year rolls by, bringing the Annual Meeting of the Newton Hospital Aid Association on Tuesday, Jan. 9. The records for 1933 show eight regular meetings of the directors, and one special meeting on June 6th. This meeting was called at the request of Mr. Leon Rogers, to discuss membership in the Community Chest, and a decision was made to continue for another year.

At the annual meeting the customary business, reading of reports and the election of officers, took place. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. George H. Talbot; vice presidents, Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, Mrs. Joseph Lovell, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr., Mrs. W. V. Taylor, Miss Mary Sawyer, Mrs. Pitt Drew.

Miss Allen spoke on the work of the hospital during the year 1933 and suggested expenditures for equipment needed to maintain the high efficiency of the hospital.

The following gifts have been made to the hospital by the Hospital Aid Association during the year 1933:

Cardiograph, $1,000; Sewing woman wages, $90; splints, $184.02; pitcher, $7; rug, $7; chase doll, $75; x-ray table, $195; fellowship, $250; scholarship, $75; scholarship, $50.

In August the Benefit Shop moved from the Washington Terrace location to a store at 795 Washington st., Newtonville. The new location, with the attractively decorated show window has greatly stimulated business. The Benefit Shop is open every Monday afternoon from two to four thirty, and Wednesday and Friday mornings from ten to twelve.

At the close of the business meeting the play given by the pupil nurses at their Christmas party was repeated. The play was followed by music, the Glee Club Chorus, accompanied by the piano and violin, taking part. Another short play followed, depicting the importance of diphtheria inoculation for all children.

Miss Pitt Drew was in charge of the luncheon which followed the entertainment by the pupil nurses.

HUNNEWELL PLAYERS IN SECOND PLAY

The Hunnewell Club Players will present their second production of the season, "The Torch-Bearers" by George Kelley on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, January seventeenth and eighteenth. The curtain will rise at 8:15 o'clock in the Hunnewell Club Hall, Newton.

The "Torch-Bearers" is an entirely different type of play from those given by this group of players, being a satirical comedy on amateur theatricals with many laughs and amusing incidents. When presented on Broadway it was considered the most hilarious comedy seen in years.

The cast includes Messrs. David Gorton, Elliott Smith, Clayton Holden, Donald Gibbs, David Murray, Mortimer Marib, Mrs. Ralph Bartlett, Mrs. Alva Law, Mrs. Margaret Tyler, Miss Nancy Bartlett, Miss Harriet Gray and Miss Virginia Gilbert.

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. will hold their regular business meeting on Monday, Jan. 15th, at 7:45 p. m., with Mrs. Sarah Hovenden, 60 Austin st., Newtonville. The subject will be around the World with Our W. C. T. U. Mrs. Esther Keys will be the second hostess.

Weeks Junior H. S.

The first meeting for 1934 of the Parent-Teacher Association of the John W. Weeks Junior High School will be held in the school auditorium on Wednesday evening, January 17, at eight o'clock. Many topics of current interest will be discussed. After the business meeting, there will be an informal social hour at which time parents, friends, and teachers will have an opportunity to become better acquainted.

At the Assembly program of January 3, Mr. Walter Cunningham, foreign news editor of the Christian Science Monitor, spoke to the assembled student body on the making of news and the meanings of current happenings in Europe and their effects in America. Mr. Cunningham was introduced by Hugh Tomb, captain of the boy's student patrol.

Mrs. Hasbrouck's talk on the adolescent child and his problems was well attended when she spoke before an audience of mothers and teachers in the auditorium on Monday afternoon, January 8. Mrs. Hasbrouck will continue her series of lectures at the school in the near future.

Mrs. A. B. Hitchcock and her daughter, Anne, a student in the Weeks' Junior High School, were responsible for a most entertaining assembly program on Wednesday, January 10. Mrs. Hitchcock and Anne formerly lived in Honolulu and they are well acquainted with the Hawaiian Islands. We learned many new and interesting facts about the formation, the history, the flora, and the customs of the islands from Mrs. Hitchcock's talk which was occasionally punctuated and illustrated by native songs and dances. "The Song of the Islands," "Alokoiki," "Hawaii Poni," "Lei Song," and "Aloha Oe" were delightfully sung by Mrs. Hitchcock while Anne, in native costume, danced the graceful Haole Hula, Liliu E. Koli-poni (Going to California) and the Lei Hula (Dance of Welcome). Mrs. Mary Curtis Cobb proved a capable accompanist for both singing and dancing. On Tuesday afternoon, January 9, the Parent-Teacher Association of the John W. Weeks' Junior High School held a benefit bridge in the auditorium of the school. The proceeds are for the benefit of the school fund. There were forty-two tables of players. The committee in charge included: Mrs. C. M. Henry, Mrs. Stanley Lovell, Mrs. Harry M. Sutton, Mrs. Jarvis Preble, and Mrs. Ernest W. Fisher.

Several of the Weeks Junior High School Girls who sold candy were: Jane Dealy, Janet Fisher, Susanna Cushman, Elaine Preble, Anne Livingston, and Eleanor Townsend.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

The Bigelow Junior High School basketball team opened its winter schedule with a game versus the Alumni played on Friday, January 5, in the Bigelow Gymnasium. The score was 27-14 in favor of the Alumni. The Varsity squad captained by Leonard LeSourd is as follows: Henry Sheehan, John Ryan, Edward Jackson, Joseph Campbell, Edward Cook, Thomas Fleming, Fred Crane, Stanley Gruber, Charles Munson, Ernest Sullivan.

Mr. John J. Cronin from the Newton Free Library entertained the pupils of the Bigelow Junior High School with story telling at the school assembly on Friday, Jan. 5. He also spoke briefly about the advantages of the Newton Free Library.

ZONTA CLUB

Newton Zonta Club held its first meeting for 1934 on Monday evening, January 8, at the Iris Garden House. After the business meeting the most recent highlights in world international news were given by: Russia, Helen Thompson; Japan, Ethel Gammons; Poland, Marion Fuller; Italy, Deborah Fawcett; English, Hattie Hutchinson.

SETH PARKER SERVICE AT CENTENARY METHODIST CHURCH

A Seth Parker Service will be held at the Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, Auburndale, Sunday evening at 7:30. Rev. Dr. Albert J. Lord, at the request of the National Broadcasting Company, has prepared a lecture with 80 colored slides of Seth as a boy on the Maine farm; Jonesport and its surroundings; the mountains, the sea, the scenes where Seth Parker spent all his vacations. The lecture will have as one feature the story and pictures of Seth's Sound Picture "Way Back Home" told in a graphic way and illustrated with colored slides. These slides are made and colored by Van Alena of New York and Julian Cochran of Boston. There will also be shown several pictures of Seth's ship, the "Seth Parker," in which he has already started on his world cruise. Many of the great, old hymns which Seth Parker and his Company have sung over the air will be thrown on the screen. The public is invited to attend this unusual service of worship.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

A luncheon-bridge to be held at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill, next Monday, Jan. 15, is being directed by Mrs. Colyar P. Dodson of the Hotel Kenmore, and Mrs. Arthur L. Race of the Copley-Plaza, Boston. Mmes. Charles J. Conley of 887 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre; James A. Travers of Oak Hill Village, and Chauncy S. Williams of Hamlin st., Newton Centre, are also actively interested.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newtonville Woman's Club

An afternoon of entertainment arranged by Mrs. George Lowry Davis, chairman of the Program committee, will be offered on January 16th, at the Newtonville Woman's Club House, beginning at 2:30 when Roselth Knapp Breed will impersonate eccentric female characters. Her "typical types" from the Chicago shop girl to the staid New England spinster, are portrayed with remarkable vividness, each change of costume being made in full view of the audience and being described by a short talk on the art of the makeup which accompanies the transition.

Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols, chairman of the Music committee, will introduce the Glee Club in its first appearance for the Club season. They will be heard in several selections, under the leadership of Miss Dorothy A. Curtis, their leader and accompanist.

At the close of the entertainment, the Art Committee will show an interesting exhibit in the gallery, of old-fashioned quilts and hand-woven spreads. That these exhibitions, painstakingly prepared for Club days by Mrs. Carl G. Cutler and her committee, consisting of Mrs. Charles J. Connick, Mrs. Orin E. Skinner, and Mrs. Francis G. Ingraham, are enjoyed and appreciated, is evidenced by the large number in attendance at the showings.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

At the regular meeting on Tuesday, January 16th, at 2 p. m. in the Congregational Parish House, the Club will be hostess to the Newton Federation. Tea will be served by the Social committee, Miss Marion B. Morse, chairman.

Dr. Miriam Franc Skirball will begin another series of lectures on January 17th, 10 a. m., in the Workshop. Tickets may be obtained from the Dramatic and Education committees.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Auburndale Woman's Club, with Mrs. Elbridge A. Minard as Day chairman, is very fortunate to have as their afternoon entertainer, Mr. Franklin Collier, Boston Traveler Cartoonist, on Tuesday, January 16th, at 3 p. m.

The regular business meeting, under the direction of Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, president, will precede the entertainment.

Social Science Club

Mrs. Edmund I. Leeds has written a paper for the Social Science Club and will read it on January 17th in the Channing Church Parlor. Her subject is "Broadcasts from the Field of Penology." The hostess for this meeting will be Mrs. John T. Alden and Mrs. Warren Lewis.

Community Service Club of West Newton

On Wednesday afternoon, January 17th, the Community Service Club of West Newton will meet in the Unitarian Parish House at 2:30 p. m., when Dr. Clarence Skinner will be the speaker, his subject being "What are the Prospects for World Peace?" Dr. Skinner, who is head of the Tufts College School of Religion, and active in the Community Church of Boston is well known as an interesting and forceful speaker.

With the whole world interested in our country's recent recognition of Russia and with the existing conditions between Japan and Russia bearing as they do a relation to world peace, Dr. Skinner, who has spent the past summer in Russia, should have a message which will be both interesting and enlightening.

At this meeting members of the Women's Educational Club will be the guests of the Community Service Club.

There will be a Food Sale in charge of a committee of which Mrs. Thomas Cooper, Jr., is chairman.

The arrangements for tea are under the direction of Mrs. Edwin I. Rogers.

Newton Community Club

The Art Lectures arranged by Miss Florence C. Bacon, chairman of the Art committee, have been so enjoyed by Club members that Miss Bacon is planning a continuance of this feature. The series have been the past topic, and Paintings being the general subject of the series of three morning lectures to come on January 18th, February 15th, and March 15th. Mrs. Sayward, of the Boston Art Museum, will lecture on "Enjoyment of Paintings," using the wonderful display of these works of art at the Museum as illustrative of her points.

Those planning to attend these lectures who do not expect to meet the group at the Museum at 11 o'clock, Huntington avenue entrance, should notify the chairman who will see that they have transportation with the group leaving the Underwood School at 10:30 o'clock on these dates. It is Miss Bacon's delightful plan to use this information as a background for various visits in the spring as weather becomes more pleasing for automobile trips, to other nearby museums, such as the Worcester and Andover Museums, as well as the nearer home ones, the Gardner Museum, Fogg, and others, where inspection of their paintings will have more value with this increased knowledge of what to look for.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Legislative committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will hold a Legislative Forum on Thursday morning, January 18th, at 10 a. m., which will be open, at no charge, to the public, as well as to all Club members.

Mrs. Russell Cone, Legislative chairman of the State Federation, will present the pending bills which have been endorsed by the Executive Board of the Federation. Mrs. A. C. Senart, of Danvers, will bring program to the Legislature bill, Mr. Rupert C. Thompson, Sr., a former member of the Massachusetts Legislature, will speak on the NRA.

The committee will serve coffee after the meeting.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. W. J. Bicknell of 84 Erie avenue, will be the hostess of the Shakespeare Club at its next meeting, Saturday afternoon, January 20th.

Miss Edith M. McCann will leave charge of the program which is consideration of the first two acts of Richard II.

State Federation

PRESS AND RADIO CONFERENCE. The annual Conference of the Department of Press and Publicity will be held in the Ball Room Foyer of Hotel Statler on Friday, January 19th at 10 o'clock. The morning session, in charge of Mrs. Reuben Gleason, chairman, will open with assembly singing led by Mrs. Mabel Fiske Barstow. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett and Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, the honor guests, will speak to the Conference at this time. The following speakers will also be present: Mrs. Robert Amory, prominent cotton manufacturer, who will talk about "Publicity and the NRA"; Ernestine Perry, Club editor of the Springfield Union; Travis Ingham, "The Roving Reporter" of the Boston Herald; Fletcher Taft, editor of the Lexington Minute; Thomas Carens, president of the New England Power Engineering Service Corporation and formerly Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald; and Howell Cullinan, broadcaster of news for the Boston Globe. Luncheon will be at 12:45 in the palm room, and tickets must be procured from Mrs. A. D. W. Prescott, 11 Cushing street, Wollaston, by January 16th.

The afternoon session will be in charge of the Division of Radio, Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, chairman, and will be conducted as a regular radio broadcast. The program follows: Radio Music Theme, Mrs. Margaret Richardson; "Keeping in Front of the Public," Mrs. Frank Atherton Merrill, vice chairman; Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, Press and Publicity Adviser; "Current Events," Dr. Samuel M. Lindsay; "What is Your Club Doing?" Mrs. Frances Blanchard, Club editor, Boston Sunday Herald; "The Monitor Views the News," Ernest M. Beaufort, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader will speak on "Eyes on Washington." Assembly singing will close the session.

RADIO. Tomorrow, the 13th, brings matters of legislative interest to clubwomen, with the season on Beacon Hill coming into activity, for the State Federation broadcast of news over station WBZ during the half hour, 11:15 to 11:45. Mrs. R. A. Cone, Legislative chairman, as guest speaker, will take up pending bills in which the clubs are interested under the title "For Your Consideration."

Dr. Samuel M. Lindsay, well known to women's clubs as Current Events editor of the Boston Herald, will also be on this program, and music will be given by Mildred Taylor Shaw, Violinist.

MUSIC SCHOLARSHIPS. The Division of Music, Mrs. George F. Schroeder, is making post-test to every club in Districts One to Twelve. Contestants in Districts Five, Eleven, and Twelve must judge for themselves whether it would be better for them to go to Boston or to go to Worcester. The entire program will belong to the Worcester territory. Mrs. George C. Stevens, chairman of Music for the Worcester district, has secured Tuckerman Hall, Worcester Woman's Club, for the auditions on January 28th; and she will be glad to answer questions from applicants. A scholarship entitled winner to study one year free of charge. Mrs. Schroeder will answer any further inquiries, clearing any points.

Mrs. Schroeder announces the following judges for the Contest: Piano, Mrs. Lewis J. Armistead, Henry Goodrich, Clifford Kemp, Raymond Mori, and Margaret Richardson. Vocal, Clifford Kemp, Maria Koussevitsky, David Blair McCloskey, Roulon Robison, and Priscilla White.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS. Miss Helena B. Shipman, chairman of the division of International Relations, will be a delegate to the School of Foreign Affairs at Radcliffe College, January 22nd to 25th, from the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

INTER-RACIAL UNITY CONFERENCE. The division of Inter-Racial Unity, Mrs. William I. MacAulay, chairman, announces the Annual Conference to be held at the Boston Y. W. C. A., on Wednesday, January 17th, starting at 10 a. m. The meeting will open with short addresses by Mrs. Walker, Mrs. David R. Goodin, Mrs. W. Scott Austin, and Mrs. Carl L. Schrader. Following are the speakers and their subjects: "Immigration," Miss Mary F. Ward, U. S. Commissioner, Port of Boston; "The Commonwealth and the Foreign-Born," Mrs. Nathan L. Thayer; "Basic English," Miss Mary L. Guyton, Massachusetts Division of Alien Education; "The Social Agency and the Club Woman," Mrs. Eva Whiting White; "Books," Mr. Harland Carpenter, Massachusetts Library Club; "Home Crafts of American People," Mrs. Charles H. Danforth; "The Doll Ex-

Newton Club Is Sponsor of Special Children's Movies

At Paramount Theatre, Newton Tomorrow Morning

The Newton Community Club is presenting a Special Moving Picture program for children for the benefit of the Club's Philanthropic Fund on Saturday, January 20th, from 10:30 a. m. to 12 noon, at the Paramount Theatre in Newton. "Three Little Pigs"—and three other delightful pictures of special appeal to children—will be offered—a scoop for the suburban theatre, in securing this popular story that has not yet been released outside of large cities, that is sure to bring a responsive audience of adults as well, especially those who have been so fortunate as to have enjoyed this charming picture elsewhere. The Club wishes to announce that the pictures to be shown on this program may be relied upon as excellent for children to view, neither too advanced in theme nor too exciting, and parents who do not sanction the attendance of their children ordinarily at moving picture houses, may avail themselves of this unusual opportunity for enjoyment for their families.

"Mickey's Nightmare," "Sawdust Sidelights," and "Three Little Pigs" is the trio of pictures that forms the unusual presentation that will be shown during the first half hour.

Following an intermission, when candy will be sold by the Junior members of the Community Club, there will be the longer special picture, called "Drum Taps."

The tickets, in charge of Mrs. Frederick White, will be 25 cents for children up to sixteen years of age, and 35 cents for all others. They should be ordered in advance from Mrs. White or from any of the sponsors.

Sponsors for this attractive event include the following:

Mrs. John T. Alden, Miss Margaret Aubin, Miss Florence C. Bacon, Mrs. Kenneth B. Backman, Miss Adelaide B. Ball, Miss Eugenie F. Bradshaw, Mrs. Thomas V. Cleveland, Mrs. J. LeRoy Conel, Miss Emma D. Coolidge, Mrs. Willard H. Cross, Mrs. Harold C. Daniels, Mrs. Maurice W. Denison, Miss Miriam Drury, Mrs. Joseph W. Gerrity, Mrs. Henry I. Harrison, Mrs. Frederick G. Holcomb, Mrs. Shirley K. hibit," Mrs. Burtis J. Whittemore; "Song Lore," Miss Ellen Reilly, Brockton Women's Club; "Hungary and Her Contributions to America," Mr. Zoolton Harazite; "World Unity in Troubled Times," Dr. Teyhi Hsieh; "Who is an American?" Judge Felix Forte. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock, and the Conference will adjourn at 3:30.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. F. S. Keith was the hostess for the Shakespeare Club on January 6th. The president, Mrs. Allah McIntosh, conducted the discussion on Othello, the high light of which brought out the malignity of Iago, whose coarse mind cannot conceive an affection; Emilia, a perfect portrait from common life; Desdemona, a victim consecrated from the first; and the character of Othello, the most greatly drawn—one of the most heroic of Shakespeare's actors—but it is, perhaps, the one of which his reader last acquires the intelligence of that drawing.

Twelfth District

On January 5th the Newtonville Woman's Club was the hostess for the Legislative Conference of the Fourth, Fifth, and Twelfth districts. The presiding officer, Mrs. Seldon E. James, opened the meeting with about one hundred Clubwomen present. Mrs. Edwin P. Cawle, the president of the Hostess Club, welcomed the assembly. Greetings were brought from the Fifth district by Mrs. Charles W. Taylor, director, and from the fourth district by Mrs. Stewart A. Colpitts. Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, State Legislative adviser, a guest speaker, reviewed briefly the work of a Legislative chairman. She stated that this year there were three bills for study and three bills for action.

The Conference was conducted by Mrs. Russell A. Cone, State Legislative chairman, who presented the "The Arnold Arboretum," by Mr. A. Leonard Squier, which the Garden Clubs are presenting on Monday, Jan. 15th, at 10 o'clock, at the Newton Centre Women's Club House. The following clubs are sponsoring this lecture: Auburndale Garden Club, Newton Garden Club, Newton Centre Garden Club, Newton Highlands Garden Club, The Social Science and Newton Community Club and Waban Garden Club.

Mid-Year Meeting Of Federation at Newton Highlands

The president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs wishes to repeat the appeal for clothing for preschool children and for adults. The racks and bins in the Clothing Chest rooms at City Hall need generous replenishing. The committee in charge of the distribution of clothing under the Piper Plan in the schools need many pairs of mittens which may be sent to the schools.

At the invitation of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, the Mid-Year meeting of the Newton Federation will be held on Tuesday, January 16th, at the Congregational Church, Newton Highlands. The meeting will open at 2 o'clock with the usual business, to be followed by the lectures by the Chorus of the Hostess Club and by a speaker. Mrs. Victor P. Ratzburg, chairman of the Program committee, has arranged to present an exceptional speaker—Dr. Carl Joachim Friedrich, Professor of Government at Harvard University and Guest Professor for Public Law at Heidelberg. Dr. Friedrich, an author as well as a teacher, first came to the United States eight years ago after having studied extensively at foreign universities, and he has been particularly interested in the problems confronting the postwar European youth. He has been associated with the Institute of International Education, an organization fostering co-operation between American and foreign universities. Dr. Friedrich also is well informed on European politics, and, besides his books, articles of his have appeared frequently in magazines. During 1931-32 he was engaged in research in the European countries for sixteen months and during the past summer he interested himself in the New Germany. He has interviewed leaders in all parts of the country and after discussions with Nazis and Antis, has reached some novel conclusions about this development. He calls his address "The Result of National Character on International Politics." This is a new subject, and there will be opportunity for questions, so that clubwomen may come prepared to avail themselves of this privilege.

dressers bill, which is a call to establish a State Board of Registration. This bill calls for a curriculum in all training schools of 1800 hours, and contains a clause requiring each student operator to take an examination and to pay an examination fee. Thirty-two states have already passed such legislation. In the New England states, Maine, Rhode Island, and Connecticut are among the first.

Mr. Howard, from the office of the Massachusetts Secretary of State, spoke concerning the Radio bill. Mr. Cook is endeavoring to put radio broadcasting on political issues on a higher level to make elections cleaner. It is now possible to utter defamatory statements over the radio without redress, a most reprehensible condition.

Mrs. Mark T. DeSilva, of Lowell, spoke for the Tugwell bill, concerning pure foods and cosmetics, and Mrs. A. C. Sennert, of Danvers, opposed it.

Mrs. Wallace H. Jose, chairman of the Legislative committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club, served delectable refreshments in the Social Hall, after the Conference.

Newtonville Woman's Club

On the afternoon of January 9th the American Home committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club, whose chairman is Mrs. Edward O. Woodward, sponsored an Open Meeting to members and friends at the Club House. A demonstration lecture was presented by Miss Ruth M. Feeney, of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company. Her subject was "Use Magic in the Good-For-You Foods."

Christmas spirit is still being felt at Girl Scout headquarters because of the reports that are steadily coming in of the "good turns" done at Christmas by the different troops.

Many of the troops donated Christmas dinners and toys, as usual, through the Welfare Bureau. We congratulate the troops who have sent in the following rather unusual "good turns": In Troop 18 each of the three patrols did the following: one patrol gave an entertainment at the Pomroy Home, giving a bracelet and book to each girl, a gift for the grown-ups, and leaving a small tree; another patrol made little Santa Clauses and Christmas trees which were sent to the Newton Hospital—they also sent handkerchiefs in decorated folders; and the third patrol sent over 50 cards decorated with interesting pictures to the Children's Hospital. This troop also sent 12 linen dish towels to the Girl Scout Chalet in Switzerland. This passed their Second Class Sewing requirements.

Troop 23 made place-cards for the children's trays at the Peabody Home. The Newtonville Brownies made small Christmas stockings which they filled and sent to the Peabody Home. Troop 20 made rag dolls, linoleum animals, and scrap books which they sent to the Newton Hospital.

Troop 1 decorated a living Christmas tree which they took to a shut-in who will care for the tree during the winter months and the Girl Scouts will plant in out-of-doors in the spring.

The Newton Girl Scouts wish to express their appreciation to the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company for the very pretty little carol books which the company gave them for the Yuletide Frolic. Many of the troops went caroling on Christmas eve and were glad to use these little books for a second time.

Miss Julia Williamson, a member of the Girl Scout National Training Staff, is to be in Newton next week, Tuesday, January 16th, to give a course for Brownie leaders. The Brownies are the younger sisters of the Girl Scouts, from seven to ten years of age, who have a program of their own which has been designed to meet the needs and wishes of girls of that age.

Miss Williamson is the National Brownie Trainer, a fine teacher and an enthusiastic and wise sponsor of the Brownie program. Her course will consist of four meetings to be held at the Newton Headquarters on four Tuesdays, beginning next week, at ten o'clock. Miss Williamson's record of Girl Scout and Brownie experience with groups all over the United States promises much of interest in store for those who register for her course.

This course should be of interest to mothers and others who are responsible for the care of young children, as it will deal not only with the elements in the Brownie program, but also with the psychology of the seven to ten-year-old child. Those who wish to register should get in touch with the Newton Girl Scout office.

Miss Helen Potter, Director of Massachusetts Girl Scouts, has arranged a series of training days at Cedar Hill Camp, Waltham, to take place on every Saturday. This week, Jan. 13th, the subject will be map-making. On the following Saturday there will be instruction in various kinds of handicraft, including marionettes, leather and metal work, and the making of shepherd's pies. For further information, call either Newton Girl Scout headquarters, or Cedar Hill.

NATHAN FULLER CHAPTER, D. R.

The regular meeting of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R., was held on Jan. 9th at the home of Miss Barbara Estabrook, 37 Beechcroft rd., Newton. Two letters were read by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Herbert Johnson, one of thanks from the hospital at Rutland, Vermont, and another for magazine subscriptions and the other from Miss MacLaughlin in appreciation of the Christmas dinner provided for a needy family of which she had told the chapter.

The chairman of War Veterans work, Miss Eleanor Gibbs, gave a report of the boxes sent to eighteen Newton men and two nurses in Veterans' Hospitals at Christmas time and another package containing jigsaw puzzles and knitted caps for the veterans at Rutland.

Mrs. Adrian Bessey was appointed auditor for the year.

The regent announced that the State Society is holding a dessert bridge at the Hotel Abbottsford on Friday, Jan. 12th, to which members of the chapter are urged to come. A recommendation of the executive board that a check be sent to the Florence Crittenton League to further the work there was accepted.

The first of a series of small bridge parties held by the chapter to raise money for the general treasury is to be on Jan. 19th at the home of Mrs. Donald Gibbs, 37 Claremont st., Newton.

The annual meeting of the chapter will be held on Feb. 13th at the home of Mrs. Adrian Bessey, Vincent st., West Newton.

Officers of the Sarah Hull Chapter and State Society, D. R., were guests of the afternoon. Mrs. J. Alfred Patterson, state regent, and Miss Grace I. Gay, district vice-regent, spoke words of greetings to the chapter.

After the business meeting adjourned, Mrs. Gabriel Farrell told of the work of the Perkins Institute for the Blind, illustrating his talk with moving pictures of the Institute.

Mrs. Donald Gibbs, Mrs. G. Raymond Lehrer and Mrs. John Merrill assisted the hostess during the social hour.

SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

The regular January meeting of Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, was held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fielon O. Stanley, 337 Waverley ave., Newton.

The Regent, Mrs. Walter C. Whitney presided and there were 40 members and guests present.

At the business meeting several substantial appropriations were made to Newton Community Chest, Boston Y. W. C. A. State Society, D. R., and reports were given of Xmas gifts of knitted caps and socks, cigarettes, neckties, etc., to the Veterans' Hospital at Rutland, Vt., and fruit and Xmas goodies to the John A. Andrew Home at Newtonville.

The soft lighting of candles in the music room made a charming setting for the Candle Light Trio: Miss Marguerite Stiles, pianist; Miss Celestine Powers and Miss Muriel French, violinists, who appeared in Colonial costumes and rendered two groups of selections from the early and more modern composers.

The Chapter was honored to have Mr. Edwin O. Childs, Ex Mayor of Newton, speak upon the various phases of Good Citizenship.

The hostesses were Mrs. James A. Curtin, Mrs. Ada E. Davidson, Mrs. Harry A. Davis, Mrs. John F. Hutton, Mrs. Charles A. Durant and Mrs. Charles W. Wright.

The meeting closed with singing America led by the musicians.

—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Noyes Meara have returned from Cold Springs on the Hudson, N. Y., where they were called by the death of Mr. and Mrs. Meara's eldest grandchild, Robert Plympton.

—Mrs. Delbert Bosworth of Thurston rd. entertained the Mothers' Club of the Newton Highlands M. E. Church on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. William Austill formerly of Newton Highlands gave an interesting account of a recent European trip.

—At the first Methodist Episcopal Church on Sunday morning at 10:45 Rev. L. O. Hartman, editor of Zion's Herald, will be speaker. In the evening Rev. E. J. Fairweather of the Perrin Memorial Church of Newton Lower Falls, will conduct the service at seven o'clock.

—The Sunday School Board of the M. E. Church met in the Parish Hall on Tuesday evening for their monthly business meeting. Supper was served at 6:30 p. m. Dr. Mark Ward of Newton Highlands, who is president of the Norumbega District Sunday School Association delivered the address of the evening.

—The young people of the M. E. church ushered in the New Year at the close of the Watch Night Service by the ringing of the church bell for about ten minutes. About 200 people attended the candlelighting service from 11 to 12 p. m. on New Year's eve which was in charge of the Epworth League society and the Rev. G. Vaughn Shedd.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chadwick of Oak st. have returned from a two weeks' trip to Delaware and Penn. where they were the guests of their son Mr. Walter B. Chadwick and Mrs. Chadwick of Wilmington, Delaware for the Christmas holidays. The New Year's holidays they spent as the guests of their son Mr. Howard D. Chadwick and Mrs. Chadwick of St. David's, Penn.

Newton Highlands

—Miss Thurlow of Boylston rd., who spent the holidays at her home in Newburyport, has returned.

—The Annual Meeting of the Congregational Church was held this Friday at 7:45. Supper was served at 6:30.

—Many may there be who will be led to look up Christmas Seal checks which have been mislaid, or "snowed under" on crowded desks and send them along to the local chairman, Mrs. John A. McAuliffe, 100 Carver rd. Additional contributions to meet the urgent need will be gratefully received.

—Miss Marion Stratton of Duke University spent her vacation at her home, 2 Kingston rd., having as house guests two of her college friends from North Carolina and Georgia. The young ladies were delighted with Boston and the Newtons but felt on their next winter trip North they would come with two fur coats instead of one. Miss Stratton and her guests spent New Year's in New York City.

—The Woman's Association of the Congregational Church met on Wednesday at 10:30 for an all day "Union meeting." Luncheon was served by Group III, Mrs. R. D. Flansburgh was hostess. A Food Sale was also conducted by Group VI. Devotional service was led by Mrs. Ben Roberts, Mrs. Ray S. Kelley, soloist. The Rev. Hilda L. Ives, Rural Secretary of the Massachusetts Federation of Churches, and pastor of a large parish comprising five churches in Maine, was the speaker in the afternoon, her subject being, "The Rural Church." Rotary Club

The Newton Rotary Club had the history of its neighboring town, Watertown, portrayed in a romantic manner by George F. Robinson at the regular meeting at the Brae Burn Club. This town, the oldest in America, governed by the town meeting and a group of selectmen, had its early beginning in 1630, nine years before the founding of Newton, formerly a part of Cambridge. The first settlement was located near the present site of the Perkins Institute when John Oldham met 300 Indians and exchanged a biscuit for a fish to establish a truce. The dominating personality in the founding of Watertown was Sir Richard Saltonstall, who obtained the charter for this group of 116 pioneering men and women, the founders of Watertown. He, with his three sons and three daughters, settled in Watertown and founded the line of Saltonstalls that has been so influential in New England history for three centuries.

Watertown can rightfully and proudly boast of many famous families whose progeny include six presidents, John Adams, John Quincy Adams, James Garfield, Franklin Pierce, William Taft, and Calvin Coolidge, and many college presidents including ex-President Lowell of Harvard. Inventors, writers, and statesmen are numbered among many eminent Watertown families.

The club had as guests: Edward Wright, Watertown; Charles W. Miller, Auburndale, and Richard Young, Newton Centre.

Kiwanis Club

The Newton Kiwanis Club was exceptionally fortunate at its Tuesday meeting this week in having Commissioner of Public Safety, Brig. Gen. Daniel Needham as its guest of the day.

He talked on the prevention of crime through further development of city and town police forces by the use of radio-equipped, high-speed machines. He cited a number of interesting experiences which conclusively proved the worth of radio-equipped cars without which the police could not hope to do anything. Commissioner Needham also revealed that startling fact that the average ages of the notorious bank robbers and hold-up men of the present day ran from 20 to 26 years.

Dick Davis, the recently elected president of the club for 1934, was obliged to resign because of a business transfer. He was succeeded by James (Jim) Forbes as president for the current year. Jim was elected to that office unanimously. Every member of the Kiwanis Club and every other person who knows Jim Forbes know that in his hands the club is certain to prosper during 1934.

NEWTON TRACKSTERS LOSE OPENING MEET TO LAWRENCE OUTFIT

Lawrence High's veteran track team had little difficulty in topping Coach Enoch's inexperienced Newton outfit last Saturday at the Andover Academy dirt track by a score of 43½ to 23½. The feature race of the afternoon was in the 1000 when George Rothwell of Lawrence nipped Tommy Fitzgerald, Newton star, on the last lap to win in 2 minutes, 27 seconds, setting a new Lawrence record. Fitz led until the bell lap when Rothwell jumped and won by about seven yards. Wills of Lawrence equaled another school record in winning the hurdles in 5 seconds.

Bob Quigley of Newton won the dash with his teammate, Sargent Moore, in second place. Third went to Garfi of Lawrence. Whitens was the only Newton place winner in the hurdles with a third behind Wills and Powers of Lawrence.

Wills was the only double winner of the meet with a first in the 300 over Louis Miller of Newton. Laplante of Lawrence took third. Freeman's third in the 600 was a disappointment to Newton followers. First and second went to Hartly and Boschetto of Lawrence. Connolly of Newton picked up a third in the 1000 behind Fitz.

Hale was the second Newton athlete to win a first, taking in the broad jump with a standing leap of 9 ft. 8½ in. Quigley picked up a third in this event behind Peters of Lawrence. Newton scored but half a point in the high jump with Caton and Blair figuring in a quadruple tie for fourth place at 5 ft. 4 in. Lawrence swept all the points in the shotput to put the orange and black further out of the running. Newton captured the relay with Whitens, Sloane, Griffin and Miller running in that order.

This afternoon Newton meets Brockton high in a dual meet on the Newton indoor track at Newtonville.

Y. M. C. A.

Wrestling

The Newton Y. M. C. A. wrestling team continued its winning streak by defeating Woburn Y. M. C. A. in a dual meet Friday night, at Newton "Y." 29 to 10. This is the sixth successive win for Newton this season. Hardy Curran, Warren Storer, Wesley Curran, Tony Paglia, Joe Arsenault, Axel Pamp and Leo Cormier were the Newton winners.

On Friday evening Newton will meet Boston Y. M. C. A. in a dual meet at Newton.

Squash Racquets

By winning both matches Saturday in the Massachusetts Squash Racquets League, Newton Y. M. C. A. now stands in third place in Division 2 of Class C, and in fourth place in Division 2 of Class D. In the Class C match the "Y" blanketed Lincoln's Inn, 5-0, and in Class D, Newton won from Tufts College, 4-1.

This Saturday the Class C team plays the Walk Over Club at Newton "Y," while the Class D team plays at the University Club.

Basketball

The Newton Y. M. C. A. defeated the Triangle Club of Lawrence in the Y. M. C. A. 72-19, at the local gym last Saturday night. The main attraction in this game was the opponents' centre, who was over 7 feet 6 inches tall. In spite of this giant at centre the visitors couldn't seem to get the ball to him properly and consequently he only scored two baskets.

Andrew Kasper, Jr., Clarence Patterson, Henry Mahler, Gordon Bass, Joe Herlihy, Horace White, John Joyce, and Esmond Bailey accounted for Newton's high score with Patterson and Kasper in the leading roles.

In a preliminary game the "Y" Juniors defeated the Lawrence "Y" Juniors, 30-17. Smith, Larkins, MacDougal, Bagley, Gallishaw, Merrill, and Reitz all scored points for the Newton Juniors to make the contest sure. Lawrence showed a greatly improved team over that which the local Juniors faced at Lawrence.

The Newton Juniors play at Weston High School Friday evening and the "Y" Senior 1st and 2nd teams play Brockton at the Newton "Y" gym Saturday night.

Swimming

The "Y" Seniors bowed to the Providence "Y" Senior Swimming Team in the Newton Pool Thursday evening, 40-26. The local boys won the relay which was made up of the following: Ray Gelinas, Edgar Davidson, John Trumble, and Norman Andersen. Other point winners for Newton were: Davidson, 3rd in the 40-yard Free Style; Burton Potter, 2nd in the 100-yard Breast Stroke; Norman Andersen and James Gallagher, 1st, 2nd, and

NEWTON SIX CLOSE ON LEADER'S HEELS TO MEET BELMONT

Winning from Stoneham High last Saturday at the Boston Garden by a 3 to 2 margin in the Newton High hockey team moved into undisputed possession of second place in the Greater Boston Interscholastic Ice Hockey League. Cambridge continues to set the pace by virtue of its 3 to 0 defeat of Arlington High. The latter tumbled from its second place tie with Newton into fourth while Melrose blanked Belmont, 4 to 0, to hold third place at Newton's heels. In the fourth game Medford and Rindge Tech tied enabling the latter to climb out of a tie for the cellar berth at Belmont's expense.

Tomorrow's game will probably see little change in the relative standing of the leading teams. Newton meets Belmont and Cambridge Latin faces its city rivals, Rindge Tech. In other games Melrose plays Medford and Stoneham opposes Arlington. The Melrose-Medford clash opens the afternoon play at one o'clock with Newton-Belmont taking the ice next. The Cambridge Latin-Rindge Tech battle is the last of the day and it may be near six o'clock before the outcome is decided.

Newton will be without the services of the best defensive forward in the league, Norman McCutcheon, who became scholastically ineligible last Monday. Jack Goodbar has returned to eligibility however and will take McCutcheon's place. Coach Dr. Martin will start his first line of Joe Green and Johnny Waters on the wings and Goodbar at centre ice. Captain Teddy Johnson and Gus Castoldi will be on the defense with Burt Woodward in the nets. Thackeray, Tom Griffin and Ernie McLeod comprise the second line with Hallett a spare defense player. Hennessy, Harvey and Dennison are three other youths on the Newton squad who may see some action.

In beating Stoneham last Saturday the Newton team came from behind as it did the previous week to overtake its opponents. It was the most interesting and exciting game in the schoolboy series this year. About two minutes after play began Stoneham chalked up its first tally. Four minutes later Newton tied it up on a shot by Tom Griffin after a pretty pass by Ernie McLeod. Newton then started shooting from long range and finally Captain Johnson put Newton in the lead. His shot from the blue line eluded the Stoneham goalie. Eleven seconds later Johnny Waters duplicated the shot and the goal. Newton then staged a defensive game to withstand untiring efforts of Captain Henry Ray and his mates. The Stoneham lead and his mates. The Newton team was successful when he got one shot before the end but the tying counter was averted.

SPORT NOTES

Butler Stars

Charlie Butler, former Newton high star athlete now at Brown, was a prominent factor in the Brown varsity hockey team's 11-2 triumph over Colby last week Friday. Butler tallied four goals and passed for a fifth. Three of his tallies were on solo dashes the length of the rink. Norman Appleby and Bob Chapin, two other Newton youths on the Brown varsity, also saw action with Appleby caging the puck once.

Gallagher is Husky Star

Herb Gallagher, Newton youth and captain of the Northeastern University hockey team, led his mates to a 7 to 1 victory over the New Hampshire University varsity on Wednesday. Gallagher tallied in one goal and assisted in three others. Fred Schipper of Newtonville played centre ice for the Wildcats. Henry Furdon, the third Newton youth in the game, was at defense for the Huskies.

2nd and 3rd, respectively, in the 100-yard and 220-yard Free Style; and John Trumble, 3rd in the Diving. Providence won five first places to Newton's 2. The Newton swimmers travel to the Army and Navy "Y" Monday evening.

The Junior swimming team dropped a swimming meet at Lynn "Y" Saturday, 34½ to 22½. The feature of this meet was the lowering of the Lynn "Y" Junior relay record by the Newton Juniors by one full second. The point winners for Newton were: George Pitts, Jack Frazier, Henry Shaw, Alan Smith, Donald Skauen, and Burton Potter. Two local boys were missing from the line-up because of illness: Tom Mahoney and Ed Jackson, both consistent point winners.

The Junior swimmers travel to Brockton Saturday to meet an improved Brockton team.

NEWTON LOSES TO CANTABS IN FIRST LEAGUE CONTEST

The Newton High basketball team dropped its first game last Friday night at the St. Mary's gymnasium in Cambridge to the strong Cambridge Latin five in the opening Suburban League contest. The Cantabs had the slight margin of 23 to 18 when the final whistle blew. The Cantab defense held the high-scoring Newton forward pair, Captain Charley Flagg and Claude Frazier to seven and three points each while "Bullet" Byrnes, Newton guard tallied five.

The Newton seconds won from the Cantab seconds in a close game of 21-19. The Newton quintet regained the winning path on Wednesday defeating Milton Academy 34 to 12. Frazier led the team with eleven points while Capt. Flagg tallied seven and Byrnes tossed in three baskets from the floor for six points. Byrnes moved up to centre replacing Currie. The Newton seconds had little difficulty in turning back the Academy seconds, 34 to 7.

This afternoon Coach Simmons takes his two quintets over to Cambridge again to meet the fast-traveling Rindge Tech five in another Suburban League game. The orange and black faces another stiff opponent in the Tech team as the latter is already counting itself as an entry in the M. I. T. tournament in March.

Next week Newton faces two more hard games. On Wednesday they go to Watertown to meet Coach Ward's strong five and next week Friday afternoon entertain Brookline High on the Newton floor.

OUR LADY HIGH FIVE WINS AND LOSES IN TWO LEAGUE GAMES

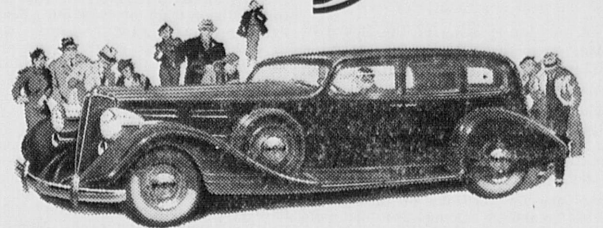

Our Lady High's basketball team broke even in its two contests, winning from one of the strong contenders for the Catholic League championship from Waltham last week Friday but losing to Mission High on Tuesday. The victory on Friday was over the St. Charles team on the Newton school's floor by a score of 26-15. Tuesday's defeat took place at Roxbury with the Newton team on the short end of a 23 to 16 score.

Umberto Marino, flashy left forward of the Our Lady High team, led the attack to upset St. Charles. He counted eleven points with Doherty at right forward scoring eight and McCarthy at centre seven for all of the local team's tallies.

Against Mission High the Newton pair, Marino and Collantano each scored five points to offset the individual high scoring mark of ten by McCafferty of Mission but thirteen other points by the Mission players carried them away from the solitary floor basket shots of O'Connell, McCarthy and Doherty of the Our Lady quintet.

The Newton team is idle this afternoon but will resume its league competition next week Tuesday against St. Mary's of Lynn, a newcomer to league competition.

"I'VE SEEN 'EM ALL—
FOR ME!"

You'll hear it again and again, when you hear people talking about new automobiles . . . "I've looked them all over and I'm buying a Nash."

Reason 1 . . . The dashing smartness of Nash "Speedstream" design, a modern car fashioned not only to charm the eye, but to cleave the air like a knife. Reason 2 . . . The fascinating luxury of Nash interiors; richness entirely out of the ordinary.

Reason 3 . . . The extra power thrills, added efficiency and better economy of the Nash Twin Ignition valve-in-head motor. Reason 4 . . . The Nash built-in clear-vision ventilation system. Reason 5 . . . Individually-sprung front wheels—optional at slight extra cost.

Reason 6 . . . Quietest of transmissions. Reason 7 . . . Coincidental starter. Reason 8 . . . Equal-action brakes. And so on from Reason 8 to 88. See a Nash, sit in a Nash, drive a Nash, and you'll find yourself thinking, "What! This much car for the money! Give me a Nash any day!"

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Waban Woman's Club

Rt. Hon. Wedgwood Benn will be the speaker at the meeting of the Waban Woman's Club on Monday, January 22nd, in the Neighborhood Club House, at 2:30 p. m. During the World War Mr. Benn served in the English yeomanry in Egypt and Gallipoli, and as 14th wing of the Royal Flying Corps helped perfect the spy dropping system used by the British on the Austro-Italian front in 1918. He has been a familiar figure in the British Parliament for twenty-five years and was secretary of state for India from 1929 to 1931. His subject will be "Dictatorship or Democracy—Which is the Way?"

Tea will be served during the social hour which follows the program, with Mrs. Raymond Ashley and Mrs. Arthur Davis the hostesses.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

Miss Adelaide R. Webster will be hostess for the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday afternoon, January 22nd, when Mrs. Emory Clark will discuss "Emerson," by Van Wyck Brooks. Mrs. Edward G. Swift and Miss Anna S. Thompson will present Current Events.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club is to enjoy that always interesting event Home Talent Night for their meeting of Monday evening, the 22nd, with Mrs. Mary Wiczorek as chairman planning these surprises and entertaining features. The Club meets at Emerson School Hall at 7:30 o'clock, when the business meeting will be opened by the president, Mrs. Walter R. Evans.

Auburndale Woman's Club Garden Club

The Little Show of the Garden Club of the Auburndale Woman's Club will be held on Monday, January 22nd, from 3 o'clock until 6, at the home of Mrs. Paul Chandler, 62 Vista avenue. There will be six classes of exhibits: house plants, winter bouquets, fruit arrangements, vegetable arrangements, dish gardens and terrariums, and flowers for dinner or living room table (not to exceed 50 cents in cost). The Show is open to the public for an admission price of 25 cents, which includes tea. Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes is chairman of this interesting affair.

Newton Center Woman's Club

The Newton Center Woman's Club will hold its regular monthly meeting on January 26th at 2:30 p. m. The president, Mrs. Alden H. Spence, will preside at the business meeting, and the speaker of the afternoon will be Joseph Auslander, who will talk on "The Women Poets—Sappho to Millay," and give readings from his own poetry. Mr. Auslander has been called "the white hope of American poetry," and the "Homer of our day." He is by far the most versatile and well equipped of American poets. At 32, he stands midway in his career with greater achievements behind him than most poets may anticipate. At the close of the lecture, tea will be served with Mrs. Roger Gardner and Mrs. Edward H. Cooney as hostesses.

On Tuesday, January 23rd, Dr. Miriam Franc Skirball will give her second Book Talk of the series of six, the subject to be "Testament of Youth," by Vera Brittain. On Wednesday, January 24th, Miss Ruth M. Feeney will give the third and last Cooking Lecture, and her subject will be "Capitalize on your Frozen Assets."

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club will hold its next program meeting on Tuesday, January 23rd, at the home of Mrs. Charles Grover, 31 Vista avenue.

Three books will be reviewed: "Russia in Transition," "Russian Theatre and Ballet," and "Red Smoke," by Mrs. F. F. Davidson, Mrs. Thomas Young, and Mrs. Ernest Drew respectively.

Social Science Club

The Annual Musicale of the Social Science Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Freelan O. Stanley at 10:30 o'clock, on January 24th.

The Mansfield Singers will be the artists.

Mrs. F. Marsena Butts and Mrs. Edward T. Sawyer will be hostesses.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands Garden Club

The January meeting of the Garden Club of Newton Highlands will take the form of a demonstration by members of the Club of Flower Arrangement in metal containers. The meeting will be held in the Club Workshop on Wednesday, January 24th, at 2 p. m. Tea will be served by Mrs. R. W. Wisner, hostess for the afternoon, assisted by Mrs. R. M. Warren and Mrs. E. F. Gibbs.

Boston Woman's Civics Club

Around the World in 80 minutes, visiting the less-known countries, showing the dream one can make come true, will be the illustrated Travel Talk to be given before the Boston Woman's Civics Club, at Hotel Brunswick, on Wednesday, January 24th, at 2:15 p. m. Guests are invited.

The president, Mrs. James E. Spike, of Waban, will preside.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The second of the Current Events lectures will be given by Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor at 10:15 a. m., on January 25th. The Club ticket admits members, and non-members may attend for an admission fee. Mrs. Taylor is a new speaker before the Newtonville Woman's Club this year. All who attended her first talk were enthusiastic regarding her treatment and her presentation of necessarily complicated subject matter, and are anticipating with interest the remaining lectures in the course.

Newton Community Club

Clubwomen and their friends are reminded of the delightful moving picture program sponsored by the Newton Community Club for tomorrow morning, the 20th, at the Newton Paramount Theatre, from 10:30 to 12 o'clock. While the program is spoken of as a special one for children, their elders will find it equally, if not even more, entertaining, since the popular "Three Little Pigs" heads a group of four pictures that will amuse. The others are "Mickey's Nightmare," "Sawdust Sidelights," and a longer one, "Drum Taps."

Candy will be sold by Junior girls during an intermission, making the morning a gala occasion, and being another means of adding to the Philanthropic Fund of the Club, for which this program is arranged.

Tickets at 25 cents for children up to 16 years, and 35 cents for adults, may be obtained from the patronesses, as listed in last week's notice.

The Romance of American Art will be the lecture given by A. J. Philpott, Art editor of the Boston Globe, at the meeting of the Newton Community Club on Thursday afternoon, January 25th.

Mrs. Wallace Wales, chairman of the Music committee, will present Miss Ethel Hutchinson, who will play the pianoforte.

The president, Mrs. Steven Bayard Wilson, will preside at the business meeting preceding the program.

Tea will be served by the Social committee, Mrs. George E. Rawson, chairman.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

On Friday, January 26th, the program of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be in the hands of the Legislative department of the Federation committee. Mrs. Louise Filene and Mrs. William D. Keefe are in charge of the Legislative department, and Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones is chairman of the Federation committee. Five important current bills either will be voted upon or studied and discussed.

Mrs. Russell Cone, chairman of the State Legislative committee, and Mrs. Frank Leonard, a member of the committee, will discuss both sides of these important questions. The three bills to be voted on are: Ratification of the Child Labor Amendment; Haidressers Bill, to regulate the profession of haidressers and cosmetologists, and to establish a Board of Registration; and an Act penalizing slander by radio. There will be two bills for study: The Tugwell Bill, a federal bill to regulate the control of food and drugs; and a bill to protect children in hazardous occupations. An attractive musical entertainment will be included in the afternoon's program, and tea will be served by the Hospitality committee at the conclusion of the meeting.

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold its Annual Meeting on Monday, January 22nd, at the home of Mrs. Wilson C. Dorr, 342 Otis street, West Newton, with Mrs. George D. Thomas the assisting hostess. Mr. Frank Grebe will give a talk on the "Life of Martin Luther."

The next meeting of the Contract Class of the Club will be held on Tuesday, February 6th, at the home of Mrs. Henry L. Goodman, 29 Hawthorne street, Auburndale.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, former State president, and now General Federation director, will speak on "The Drama," tomorrow morning, the 20th, during the half-hour broadcast over WBZ, from 11:15 to 11:45. Mrs. W. S. Piper, chairman of the State division of Child Welfare, also will be on the program, in a Round Table, her topic being "Insuring the Future." The musical part of the program will

ANNOUNCEMENT

Various Women's Clubs of Newton
The Paramount Theatre-Newton will be showing "Little Women" for 4 days beginning Sunday, Jan. 28, Monday evening, Jan. 29, Tuesday evening, Jan. 30, and Wednesday evening, Jan. 31.

An entertaining hour was given by Rosell Knapp Breer with her impersonations of eccentric female characters. Change of costume and application of make-up in full view of the audience proved of interest as well as amusement.

The Art committee, Mrs. Carl G. Cutler, chairman, Mrs. Charles J. Connick, Mrs. Frances G. Ingraham, and Mrs. Orin E. Skinner, arranged an exhibit of present interest, that of old-fashioned quilts and hand-made spreads.

Special Night for Clubwomen and Their Guests Jan. 29

The January meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held on Monday the 22nd, at 10 a. m., at the Newton Library.

Monday evening, the 29th, has been designated as a Special Night for the club women and their families by the management of the Newton Paramount Theatre for the performance of "Little Women." The seats will be on private sale for them until January 20th, with the privilege of indicating a choice of approximate location of seats. This picture will be the feature of the program for four days beginning January 28th at no increase in price, and the Motion Pictures committee, of which Mrs. D. Earle Brackett is chairman, hopes that, in appreciation of Mr. Snider's co-operation, there will be a capacity house at each performance to indicate the choice of Newton residents for really good pictures.

be given by Aiden Redmond, WBZ Baritone.

ART LECTURE. The second of the series of four Art lectures featured at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts by Mrs. Herbert Stephens, State chairman of Art, will be given on Friday, the 26th, at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. Kojira Tomita a Japanese authority of Chinese and Japanese art, will speak on "Japanese Art," with lantern slides illustrating, in Tapestry Hall of the Museum. Those who have not purchased tickets for the series may secure single tickets at the door for 35 cents.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club were fortunate in having Mrs. Anna C. M. Tillinghast for their speaker on Friday, January 12th. Mrs. Tillinghast, as Commissioner of Immigration for six years, talked on "Immigration and Its Problems," and on "Communism in This Country," having a thorough knowledge of both of these subjects. She is a brilliant and forceful speaker. One of the biggest problems of today is that of making loyal American citizens of the millions of foreign-born who have been entering this country for so many years, and of making them understand the ideals and institutions of this country—in other words, to become Americanized in the truest sense of the word. This is the problem of the astounding spread of Communism throughout the United States is a problem with which all should become acquainted. The enormous power and influence which the Communists are slowly but surely gaining must be recognized and reckoned with.

At the conclusion of the meeting, tea was served by the Hospitality committee, with Mrs. David O. Warner, Mrs. Raymond R. Forte, and Mrs. Harold Fliske, the pourers.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The seventh in the series of regular Club Day programs was held on Tuesday afternoon, the 16th, at the Washington park Club House. After disposing of the regular business Mrs. Edwin P. Cawte, the president, asked the Club members to pause for a moment of silent prayer in reverence for Mrs. Frank F. Carr who had been an ardent member since 1923, and whose funeral was being held at that time.

Always ready to further any worthy community interest the Club members expressed their desire to inform Mayor Weeks of the need of transferring the Albemarle Golf Club into a Community Golf Club.

Mrs. Wallace H. Jose, chairman of the Legislative committee gave authoritative information concerning the three bills pending: the Ratification of the Child Labor Amendment, the Haidressers Bill, and the Radio Bill. There was practically unanimous endorsement of the three bills in the straw vote.

Under the leadership of Miss Dorothy A. Curtis, the Glee Club made its initial appearance. The voices harmonized splendidly in a group of four well-chosen numbers: "Morning Hymn," by Henschel; "Little Starlight," by Cotton-Marschal; "Fairly Song," by Zimmermann; and "Gloria," by Ruzzi-Pecora. The program included appreciative co-operation under the chairman, Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols. Miss Curtis solo-played on the new piano "Meditation," by Tchaikovsky; "Prelude," by Debussy, and "Prelude in C Minor," by Chopin.

Mrs. Clifford B. Whitney, the treasurer, announced that the suggestion had been made by members who wished to make gifts toward the purchase price of the new Ivers and Pond grand piano, a fine addition to the Club equipment, that a fund be started for that purpose. Several contributions were received.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The members of the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday, January 16th, were very fortunate to have as their program artist Mrs. Franklin Collier, Boston Traveler Cartoonist. Mr. Collier entertained with original drawings, using large drawing sheets and crayons. Pictures of "Orto Grow," of which Mr. Collier is the creator, and sketches of members of the Club who posed for him proved very interesting, and furnished great enjoyment for the audience. Mrs. Elbridge A. Minard was the Day chairman.

The regular business meeting with Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, president, presiding, was held at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. John D. Hiebeck, chairman of the Art committee, announced a trip to the Forz Museum, Cambridge, on Tuesday, January 23rd. Those interested will meet at the Auburndale Club at 10 a. m. Miss Peterson of the Hobby School, spoke on "Who and Why Pursue a Hobby?" Mrs. J. Arthur Furbish, chairman of the Literature committee, will manage a Bridge party on Tuesday, January 23rd, at 2:15 p. m. at the Auburndale Woman's Club Room. Tickets are 50 cents and the public may attend. Mrs. Herbert Althaus will give a series of Bridge lessons on the "Play of the Hand." These lessons will be on Thursdays, at 10 a. m. in the same Club Room, at 25 cents per lesson. Mrs. Joseph McCarron, chairman of the Emergency Relief Committee; Mrs. Herman Krueger, vice chairman of the Drama committee; and Mrs. Edwin H. Dyer, chairman of the Conservation committee, spoke in the interest of their various committees.

Newton Federation

A most interesting afternoon was enjoyed by a large gathering of Newton clubwomen last Tuesday, the 16th, when the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands entertained most hospitably the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs at the Congregational Church for the Mid-Year Meeting of the Federation. After the greeting of welcome by Mrs. Theron B. Walker, president of the Newton Highlands Club, the president of the Newton Federation, Mrs. Charles C. Willson, conducted a short business meeting, during which she congratulated the Hostess Club upon their project for a Junior organization. She also spoke of the work of the Motion Pictures committee and of the film "Little Women" coming to the Newton Paramount theatre January 28th, and of "Three Little Pigs" and other pictures making a desirable program for children, coming January 29th.

Mrs. J. Porter Russell, chairman of the Federation's committee on International Relations, gave notices of several worth while meetings and courses dealing with subjects allied to her committee's interests. Mrs. Russell prefaced her announcements with the words displayed frequently in England "It's Up to the Women," and closed with the hope that the women of the world may "add to the dignity, the happiness, and the peace of mankind."

Mrs. Seldon E. James, twelfth district director, a welcome guest throughout the district, spoke particularly (Continued on Page 6)

MANY ANGLES TO STATE POLITICS

The recent political announcement of various candidates for state offices has in some ways helped to clear up some uncertainty that exists regarding Republican nominees for such offices. Attorney-General Joseph E. Warner removed himself as a potential candidate for Lieutenant Governor by his statement that he would seek re-election to his present office. Former State Treasurer John W. Haigis of Greenfield comes definitely into the picture as an avowed candidate for the Lt. Governorship. Lt. Governor Gaspar G. Bacon a few days later, as was expected, announced his candidacy for the gubernatorial nomination. These announcements have given a certain definiteness to the coming campaign which will be discussed during the next three months prior to the pre-primary election of delegates to the party conventions which in turn will endorse state-wide candidates at the primary election in September. There are still many angles to be considered from a Republican viewpoint. There are other strong candidates available.

It has long been recognized, not only by interested Newton citizens but throughout the state, that Speaker Leverett Saltonstall is one of the ablest officeholders in the Commonwealth. He has the ability to carry him far. Although he has made no definite announcement it has been intimated that he will be in the field for Lieutenant Governor. Newton knows Speaker Saltonstall, knows his abilities, and we trust will stand behind him to the limit.

The suggestion by Pres. Judson Hannigan of the Mass. Republican Club, that the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator be tendered to Sen. David I. Walsh has stirred Republicanism to its very depths. If the suggestion, which is without merit in our opinion, does nothing more than to bring a strong Republican candidate into the field it will have done some good. While it is believed that Sen. Walsh could probably defeat any Republican candidate this fall the presence of a strong Republican candidate would serve to strengthen the entire ticket. The lack of a candidate on the ballot would disorganize the Republican party even farther than it is today.

Meanwhile on the Democratic side of the picture we have a potential candidate for Governor in Joseph W. Bartlett, a well-known Newton citizen and state appointee. Mr. Bartlett has come into the forefront of the Democratic party with amazing rapidity. Just where that path is leading is an uncertainty that only the next few months will reveal.

The whole picture presents many interesting angles of particular interest to Newton and unquestionably Newton will play an important part in state politics this year.

Thos. J. Kavanaugh, Newton Printer, Died January 12

Thomas J. Kavanaugh of 20 Marion rd., Watertown, died at the Trumbull Hospital, Brookline, on Jan. 12th, of pneumonia which followed an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Kavanaugh for the past 22 years was one of the owners of the Graphic Press on Centre ave., Newton. He was born at Chatham, New Brunswick, 54 years ago, and learned the printing trade in his native town. He came to Massachusetts when a youth and acquired an expert knowledge of printing presses and type setting machines.

THOMAS J. KAVANAUGH

Twenty-seven years ago he became associated with the Stratton Press in Newton and 5 years later with George W. Johnson purchased the mechanical department of the GRAPHIC from the late J. C. Brimblecom and established the Graphic Press.

He was a member of the Typographical Union, Cambridge Lodge of Elks and Watertown Council, Knights of Columbus. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Catherine Keenan Kavanaugh; a son, Vincent T. Inside Story of The Aldermanic Banquet by PWC

The 1933 Board of Aldermen held their farewell banquet on Thursday, Jan. 18th, at the Brae Burn Country Club. The affair was several hours late in starting, not because the Board is prejudiced against assembling on time (at least for a serious purpose like this) but because there was some confusion in the minds of the members regarding the meeting place. Alderman Temperley walked way down to the old Player's Hall in West Newton (razed to the ground in 1928 or thereabouts), Cordingley and Holden showed up at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, Murray breezed into the Elks' Hall at Newton Corner, Bowen landed at the Congregational Church in West Newton and Hill and Cronin paraded to Legion Headquarters at City Hall. With the aid of the radio equipped Police prowled cars, however, the missing Aldermen were finally contacted and the big banquet started promptly at 8:23 P. M. All twenty-one Aldermen answered the French call. The two retiring members, Pratt and Hawkins, wore dinner coats (and pants) while the less retiring members—nineteen in all—wore business suits. Alderman Collins presided as toastmaster.

The first order of business was the toasting of all the ex-mayors who have held office during the past twenty-five years. All two of them, Honorable Hatfield and Childs were cheered to the Echo (three miles from the bridge).

The next order of business was the destruction of food, which required 48 minutes. Starting with French rolls and Raspberry Cheer cocktails, the menu proceeded to liquid soup a la Guzzle—or was it Guzzi, Boston baked beans, Newton has-beens, Fish cakes with a very Chili Sauce, boiled onions, tripe, cabbage and ham. The ice cream, of course, was Raspberry. During the salad course, which was omitted, the American Legion Band played by request and stopped for the same reason.

Then came the fun. Chairs were pushed back, the waiters were dismissed and the usual voting contest began. First was the vote for the handsomest Alderman. Sidney Holden, and suggested that he be elected by acclamation. Immediately twelve Aldermen jumped to their feet in protest (names deleted by censor). A secret ballot was then taken and much to everybody's surprise, former Alderman A. W. Blakemore received thirteen votes and was elected.

Alderman Hill then received the unanimous vote of the Board as the possessor of the finest billiard table (pink and white). Alderman Chandel scored two victories—most popular member and most silent. Who knows there may be a connection between the two. Alderman Hutchinson, by acclamation, was hailed as the most impressive looking Alderman. Alderman Bowen was voted the wittiest although Dr. Gallagher received a few scattering votes. Alderman Hawkins was voted the most conscientious member—Cronin the most aggressive—McKay the best dressed and Floyd the most efficient campaign manager. On the important question of best poker face there were only two nominations, both candidates being from Ward Two and both wearing glasses. The more slender statesman won.

Last and most important of all came the vote for the most intelligent Alderman. No public nominations were made. Each member retired to an improvised voting booth behind his chair and there, in the presence of only his conscience, fulfilled the supreme duty of American citizenship. When the votes were counted it was announced that the voting had been absolutely on the up and up for each member of the Board—twenty-one in all—had received one vote.

This sensation necessitated a recess which lasted the usual two and a half hours until midnight, when the Board reassembled to listen to the speaker of the evening, General Daniel Needham, whose reception was most flattering. The topic was "Public Safety—Will It Be Promoted by the Retirement of the Board of Aldermen." The answer appeared to be "yes," because at 1:15 and a half A. M. everybody retired (i.e., the Board broke up—into splinters and what have you).

The writer apologizes for the meagre details in this account but he was obliged to disguise himself first as a policeman and then as a waiter in order to get into the banquet hall.

P. W. C.

The fire was discovered about 1:15 a. m., and started in the cellar of the house from some unknown cause. Mrs. Davis, who was the widow of E. Lester Davis, lived on the first floor apartment with Susie C. Johnson. She was taken from the smoke filled apartment by Lieut. Davis of Engine 5, assisted by Patrolmen Jenkins and Mague, and removed to a neighbor's home. Her heart was affected and she was taken to the Newton Hospital. Her funeral service was held Wednesday afternoon at Newton Cemetery Chapel.

The fire in the house was confined to the cellar and the damage was estimated at about $2500. Miss Johnson and the family of Albert Palmateer, who occupied the second floor, made their exits from the building unassisted.

RUTH W. RICHMOND

Miss Ruth W. Richmond of 430 Centre st., Newton, died on January 14. She was born in Hoosick, New York, the daughter of Perry W. Richmond. She came to Newton 8 years ago to reside with her sister, the late Mrs. Oliver M. Fisher. Miss Richmond was a member of Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R. Her funeral service was held on Tuesday at the home of her niece, Mrs. Warner Eustis, 260 Franklin st., Newton; Rev. Chester Drummond officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

Some like it hot, and take a sea voyage to the tropics; some like it cold and go to the mountains for winter sports and some have to stick around and take whatever comes and like it.

Oddments

It is difficult, I find, to dismiss the general subject of rubbers, overshoes and other storm-defying footwear to which reference has been made in this column. I don't know why it should be ignored, either, since it is one of the most important features of our daily program on severe winter days. In company with an office associate I was taking a short walk on one of the pleasant (overhead) days recently and as we passed through the crowded streets of Boston he had the misfortune to have his heel stepped upon on two separate occasions. Each time the individual behind him came against him so vigorously that my friend's rubber was removed and he was obliged to stop and replace it. He did so both times, uncomplainingly. The second time, however, he turned to me with a wry smile and said, "The humor of this is that it takes me fifteen minutes myself to get one of these rubbers off."

The young woman with whom the grouchy bachelor was paired at the bridge table was not so attentive as she might have been to the game. The man, as men often do, became a trifle peevish when the young woman's mistakes set him back more than once. "Where is your NRA button?" he finally asked of her. "Why, I haven't any," she replied. "That's odd," he retorted. "You should wear one reading, 'We do our partners'."

Where Numbers Are Few

Of all the proposed legislation piled upon the 1934 Legislature for consideration none has aroused my deep sympathy as much as has the bill of a Lynn solon who wants to have numbers on dwellings and private buildings more conspicuously displayed. It was the day after I had taken part in a house-number hunt that I learned of the plan. It brought vividly to mind my experience of the previous night and I immediately pledged myself to vote for the scheme if ever it should get on the ballot. Not that it is likely to, but just in case.

A friend of mine had some calls to make in connection with one of those canvassing projects that are going on in every community these days, and a lot of people to see, with addresses by street and number. Finding the proper thoroughfare is sometimes a trifle puzzling, especially, if it is located in a newly developed section. Putting that hurdle aside, however, we'll stick to house numbering, which is sufficiently engrossing.

We drove along, I studying the list of names, and speculated which way the numbers ran. Then we'd pull up, either one or both observing, "This looks as if it might be the house." Then we'd pile out and begin peering for numerals. Not always were we successful. Sometimes there would be no numbers at all and one of us would ring the doorbell and ask "Can you tell me, please, where number so and so is?"

I guess the readers of this column have been through the same thing themselves so I need not go into details. My advice to those who have never done it is that they select fair and pleasant weather. Our little trip was made in the rain, with terrible conditions underfoot and that may be the reason it so impressed me. It has since occurred to me that it might be used as a diversion for a party of guests in place of a scavenger hunt which New York society folks seem to find so stimulating. Of course it wouldn't be as exciting as striving to purloin or borrow an article of clothing from a stranger but would produce excitement and diversion, depending on who answered the doorbell.

Before dismissing the subject, I feel I should say that the proposed law would require every house to have a number of not less than four inches in height "and of a color contrasting with that of the building." Then the bill provides that failure to comply with the law shall mean punishment by a fine "not exceeding . . . dollars." You see, the legislator purposely left out the amount of the fine. He, of course, assumes the Legislature will fix the amount. If I might make bold to suggest I should have the amount of the fine the same as that of the number on the house. Repeated offenses, under my plan, would call for multiplication by two, three or whatever number of times the offender was haled into court. That makes it a business proposition.

"Remember when we—?"

Something about Christmas and New Year often starts us all to thinking of old times. A letter, delayed by incorrect address as they say officially, reached me from London this week. At the risk of the charge of hating myself I seek to quote from it because it came from a man who used to visit Newton in his boyhood.

Writing from the National Liberal Club, Whitehall Place, he starts off: "Are you the Dear old Lev D. G.?" The years make no impression as drops of time in the bottomless well of eternity but in the scheme of things called the human span they loom up like the rediscovery of an old friend. And you must be! There can be no other such bizarre combination of initials of any of the Bentley ilk in Boston save the one and only who in past times was a Newton Graphic oracle, a Boston Globe trotter and an amateur actor of (deleted) with whom I acted on a small stage in Newton Corner.

"Well, then in 1909 my wife and I visited the United States whose flag I kept waving in the foreign service on the Continent, and we met at Young's Hotel for lunch. Later, when the world went crazy and still later attempt to get in touch with you failed.

"Now, after many years of residence in London, I find your address in a telephone directory. I have been out of the service and in an honest business as I hope you are. What about hearing from you. Yours, of course—"

That was one of the letters which I sat down at once to answer with the fervent hope that I may receive early acknowledgement. Do you blame me?

SCHOOL CHATS

An authoritative article each week covering important and interesting phases of public school organization and activity. Prepared under the direction of the School Department.

THE PART OF THE SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGIST IN THE GUIDANCE PROGRAM

SOME TYPICAL PROBLEMS

"James, Grade I, does not enter into class activities, takes things from other children and is not learning to read. How can we best help him?"

"Mary, Grade V, is failing in Arithmetic. Spends much time in day dreaming. Need help in understanding her. What ought to be expected?"

"Albert Doe, Junior High, is a 'problem boy'. Continuously tries to 'show off'. Will not do home work and is constantly in trouble. What can be done for him?"

Daily these and similar requests come to the School Psychologist from every part of the school system. Such problems necessarily arise because children are in a constant state of growth and change as they develop. Just as a physician refers baffling cases to a specialist, so teachers and principals refer to the School Psychologist those pupils whose problems require complete investigation and expert diagnosis. Psychological service in the schools is in answer to the need to know all that is possible about the child's nature, how he is constituted, how he learns, acts, thinks, what his capacities are, his tendencies, his ability and aspirations.

Psychological measurements of various kinds may reveal these facts:

- (1) A particular child's probable rate of learning as he tries to get the mechanics of Arithmetic, Spelling and Reading.
- (2) His probable ability to succeed in high school and college.
- (3) Some capacities hitherto undiscovered.
- (4) The emotional factors which may be handicapping him in his lack of adjustment.

We have come to realize that many problems of behavior are in fact only symptoms. The psychologist seeks the underlying cause of which the poor behavior is a symptom.

In interpreting what is best for the child, every factor that enters into the child's life is taken into consideration: Physical factors, his level of learning ability, the influence of home environment and community contacts upon him, his school life, his interests and attitudes, secret fears and longings.

Following the intensive study, some adjustment is made according to needs:

For James, who proves to have a real disability in Reading, a special tutor tries individual devices and training. The petty stealing, which was merely a defense for his lack of power to read as well as his classmates could, soon stopped when he felt more secure.

For Mary, whose study revealed that she was trying to work beyond her ability and was badly discouraged, comes a transfer to a Special Class where she can compete with children of her own ability and gain self-respect in learning things worth while to her.

Albert's showing off meant an effort to get attention through some kind of leadership as a compensation for his inability to get the thought from his content studies though he had achieved the mechanics of Reading. Tests revealed that he had qualities of real leadership, considerable musical talent and unsuspected aptitude for dealing with tools and materials. New emphasis on opportunity to get attention through music was a far better look of using mechanical aptitude in Trade School and his father's business changed his attitude.

For the educationally exceptional child special adjustments are made within the school system. Newton believes that every child should have an education according to his capacity and needs. The following provisions have already been made in the Newton schools:

Special classes for the subnormal.

Lip-reading classes for the hard-of-hearing.

Sight-saving classes for those whose sight is so impaired that they need special books and methods of teaching.

Teachers for the physically handicapped who must be taught at home.

Tutoring or small group instruction for those with special reading disabilities.

Next week's article will describe the importance of mental hygiene in the guidance program.

GIFT BOOKS FOR SEAMEN

Again books for seamen for distribution among men on ships of the American Merchant Marine, in light-houses, and in coast guard stations are solicited. Good literature ranging from lighter fiction for recreation to technical publications that help toward advancement will be welcome. Either books or magazines of this type are acceptable.

Books for this purpose may be left at the main library or at any of the branches of the Newton Free Library. If quite inconvenient for you to bring the donation yourself, the Library truck will call at your home and collect such books and magazines as you wish to give, if you will notify your branch librarian or the main library.

NEWTON CHAPTER AMERICAN RED CROSS

One of the smaller but worthwhile activities of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross is the transcribing of Braille for the blind. Although at present there is only one active worker, she is now doing "The Flying Carpet" by Richard Halliburton. Recently she has been sending short articles for a blind man in Memphis, Tenn., to use in his radio broadcasting. The Chapter would be glad to give any information to persons interested.

"Sitting Pretty" with Jack Oakie, Ginger Rogers, Jack Haley and a chorus of more than a hundred, will be the feature attraction at the Paramount Theatre beginning Sunday, Jan. 21. This is one of the most elaborate musical comedies seen on the screen in many moons. The music very catchy and the dance numbers put over in a big way. There is not a dull moment in the entire picture and it is one of the whole family can enjoy. The same program will be Ann Harding in "The Right to Romance" a picture just made for this popular star. It is a good wholesome picture of a woman doctor specialist who has devoted her life to her patients and longs for a day when she will have "The Right to Romance".

For the last half of the week Lionel Barrymore will be seen in "Should Ladies Behave" and Clara Bow in "Hoop-La" a picture that this red haired comedian outdoes herself in and said to be the best in her tempestuous career. Preston Foster plays opposite Miss Bow. The usual Saturday evening vaudeville still proves a very entertaining feature.

"Little Women" opens at the Paramount Jan. 28 for four days. The entire house will be reserved for Monday night only, at regular prices and seats are now on sale. The other evenings will not be reserved. The Women's Club and school teachers have bought practically the entire house for Monday evening but many good seats remain for public sale.

Recent Deaths

Z. GOULD MANTER

Z. Gould Manter, a former resident of Erie ave., Newton Highlands, died on Jan. 13th at Brookline in his 93rd year. He was born at Parkman, Me., and enlisted at the beginning of the Civil War with the 2nd Maine Infantry. Wounded at the first battle of Bull Run, he enlisted again upon recovery with the 31st Maine Infantry, was given the rank of lieutenant and was again wounded at Petersburg. After the war he settled in his native town where he conducted a large farm. He held, at one time or other, all the town offices except that of school superintendent, and also served as a member of the Maine Legislature. He was a member of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R., of Newton, the Masons, and the A. O. U. W.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lobisa (Packard) Manter; three daughters—Mildred E. Manter of Boston, director of the Children's Museum; Mrs. M. H. Beal of Dover-Foxcroft, Maine; and Mrs. S. O. Harrington of Bath, Maine; a brother, J. H. Manter, of Dover-Foxcroft; and a sister, Mrs. J. S. Gray of Gardner, Ore. His funeral service was held on Monday at Parkman, Maine.

MRS. REBECCA M. LINNELL

Mrs. Rebecca M. Linnell of 49 Eliot ave., West Newton, widow of Francis Linnell, died on Jan. 16. She was born in Harvey, New Brunswick, 81 years ago and had resided in this city for 57 years. Mrs. Linnell was a member of the Second Congregational Church. She is survived by a son, Harold F. Linnell; two daughters, Misses Hattie D. and Nellie H. Linnell; and a granddaughter, all of West Newton. Her funeral service was held yesterday at her late home. Rev. Boynton Merrill officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

ADOPT RESOLUTIONS ON DEATH OF MRS. COBB

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Stone Institute and Home for Aged People resolutions were adopted on the death of Mrs. Mary B. Cobb, who for many years was a member of the executive committee and who took an active interest in the home.

The resolutions follow:
The Executive Committee of the Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People record with deep sorrow the passing, on Christmas Day 1933, of Mrs. Mary Byers Cobb, beloved member of this committee since 1907. Hers was no ordinary interest. In 1894 Mr. Joseph L. Stone left a sum of money to the City of Newton for the establishment of a home for aged people. Mrs. Cobb's father, Mr. Joseph Byers was a member of the committee charged with the administration of the fund. Mrs. Cobb's father-in-law, Honorable Henry E. Cobb, then Mayor of Newton took the action which resulted in the formation of The Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People in 1898.

Thus it may be said truly that this Institution was born in the home of Mrs. Cobb's father. Her devotion to the Home and her constant solicitude for its welfare and the happiness of its people continued from its founding until her death.

To her desire that the ladies in the Home should have spending money may be attributed the fair which has been held annually for many years. During her active life hardly a week went by during which Mrs. Cobb did not visit the Home at least once. For these and countless other acts of kindness she will be affectionately remembered not only by those in the Home but also by all her associates on its Board of Directors. Therefore as a mark of the esteem in which Mrs. Cobb was held by the members of this Committee and of our sorrow at her passing we gratefully record her devoted service to the Home and direct that this expression of our affectionate regard for her rich and useful life be sent to her family with our profound sympathy.

MRS. MARGARET J. HUNTING

Mrs. Margaret Josephine Hunting, wife of the late Mr. Hanan Hunting of Eliot st., Upper Falls, died at the Newton Hospital on Thursday morning of pneumonia. Mrs. Hunting has been suffering from a fractured hip for the past four months. Mrs. Hunting was born in Roxbury 86 years ago and has been a resident of Upper Falls for over fifty years.

Mrs. Hunting is survived by one son, Mr. Frank L. Hunting of Champlain, Upper Falls, and 9 grand children and niece Mrs. Gertrude Fisher of Petersham, formerly of Upper Falls. Funeral services will be held from the Stone Institute, Eliot street, Upper Falls, where she has been a resident for the past five years, on Saturday morning at 10:30 a. m. Rev. G. E. Church of Upper Falls will officiate. Burial will be in Mt. Feake Cemetery, Waltham.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

Middle-aged folks may remember that popular ballad of mournful theme, the refrain of which contained these lines—"Take Back Your Gold, for Gold Will Never Buy Me." President Roosevelt's action on money permits paraphrasing of that old song and the lines would now read—"Give back your Gold, for Gold will not buy anything."

President Roosevelt has done and is doing many commendable things in his efforts to get this country out of the rut. But his advocacy of the St. Lawrence River waterway, in our humble opinion, is badly misplaced.
Our belief, as stated in the GRAPHIC a few years ago, is that such a waterway would further the decadence of Boston and other Atlantic ports in this country, and Boston has certainly slipped plenty in this respect during the past twenty years. The St. Lawrence waterway would contribute to the absolute insolvency of the big railroad systems from the West to the Atlantic seaboard—railroads which have been in the red for many years.
And when these railroad companies would become bankrupt the result would be dire for the big insurance companies and the savings banks which have vast sums of money invested in railroad securities. And, in the final analysis, the real sufferers would be the millions of citizens of the United States whose savings have been invested in railroad stocks and bonds, savings bank deposits, and life insurance policies. Also the many thousands of railroad employees and men who work in various occupations at the seaports which would be adversely affected. Why make Canada more prosperous at the expense of the people of the United States?

Talk about governmental paternalism! This activity of using public funds to care for tiny children in public schools certainly seems like maternism. Possibly creches will be established in some of the schools at a later date.

One of the arguments for repeal of prohibition was—"that it would end bootlegging." Perhaps it will eventually. But, not at the present—when a tax of $3.80 per gallon has been placed on alcohol, and $2 per gallon on whiskey; and bootleg alcohol can be bought at wholesale for $1.25 per gallon.

One of the defects which has caused the breakdown of our economic system is evidenced by all the publicity relative to the marriage of a young American woman who inherited $40,- 000,000, to a gentleman loafer who attracted her largely because he possessed (?) the title of "Prince." This title was derived from membership in a defunct "noble family" which formerly held sway in one part of the former Russian Empire, and which was eliminated from any standing in that country with the overthrow of the Romanoff family of Czars, dukes and the rest of that crowd.

This young woman acquired this huge fortune when she attained the age of 21. She was in no way responsible for its creation. She never had to work a day in her life to get these millions. They were acquired through the sagacity of her grandfather, who was aided by the labor of thousands of young men and women. These men and girls were employed in the many hundreds of stores in the chain founded by the grandfather of this heiress.
They were paid, for the most part, small wages. This chain of stores has driven out of business many thousands of small, independent merchants in this country because of the lower prices at which articles of merchandise could be sold in these stores.

And the girl who inherited the fortune made by this big chain of stores, instead of marrying some deserving young American, is lured by the tinsel of a title belonging to an overthrown aristocracy and weds a member of a family which has acquired notoriety through the marriages of its members to women who could support them. She is to make her home in Paris. And the money contributed by millions of Americans will go to the country which has welched in the payment of the vast sums it owes to the same American people.

Our old friend "Tom" Kavanaugh, of the Graphic Press died last Friday after a brief illness. For 27 years
Mr. Kavanaugh had been in business in this city and took a keen interest in civic affairs here. He was a man of pleasing personality and well informed on all public matters. He will be missed by his many friends in the Newtons.

In the retirement of Henry Tibbets
the Newton police department has lost one of its most efficient members. In his long service Henry always displayed courage, intelligence and fairness. He asked favors from none, was impartial to rich and poor in the enforcement of law and was always on the job, both as a patrolman and as clerk at headquarters.

WOMAN'S FORUM

"Behind the Scenes in Radio" is the fascinating subject to be discussed at the Forum Meeting on next Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, in the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville. Mr. E. J. Rowell, whose voice is familiar to all of you over Station WBZ, will tell about what goes on behind the scenes and how programs are made up and why. The talk will be followed by a question period during which opportunity will be afforded to ask about any phase of broadcasting which puzzles you.
There will also be special music.

DISABLED WAR VETERANS

The Chaplain William J. Farrell, Chapter No. 23, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, of Newton, held their first open meeting at the Memorial Building Sunday evening. A large number of disabled veterans attended to listen to National, State and Local D. A. V. speakers.
Great interest was shown in the late economy legislation which affected many disabled veterans.

The meeting was opened by Chaplain Commander Albert H. Webber.
The principal speaker of the evening,
State Commander T. James Gallagher, gave an outline of the existing conditions, and advised veterans in the proper method of presenting evidence in their cases.

Chapter meetings are held the first and third Mondays of each month at the Memorial Building, City Hall, Newton Centre, and all service-connected veterans of the World War are especially invited.

of Jan. 23.

Mr. Arthur T. Grigorian will be guest speaker and will talk on Oriental rugs. He is a most interesting speaker and an authority on rugs.

The regular guest day of the chapter will come at the same time and a most enjoyable afternoon is promised.

Ask Clothing For Needy Children in Newton Schools

Card Party Will Be Held at Warren School Feb. 2

Newton's widely-known method of providing clothing for needy children, which is known as the Piper plan, is handicapped temporarily by a lack of long trousers for boys of Junior High School age. There's a need for shoes, rubbers, and gloves, too, but the trousers for youths, which wear out so rapidly when worn by active youngsters, are most in need.

In order to provide funds with which to make up the shortage, women of the Levi F. Warren Junior High School district, headed by Mrs. F. S. Tower, district chairman, and Paul C. Scarborough, principal, have planned a card party in the Assembly Hall of the Junior High School on Friday, Feb. 2nd, beginning at 2:30 in the afternoon. The event is the first public appeal to be made by the women who conduct the Piper plan for the exchange of clothing.

In general, the plan which is a co-operative one on the part of mothers, is now established and working successfully in all of the Newton grade and Junior High Schools. Never before have the needy children in the Newton schools been so well cared for. All wearable articles of clothing, even though requiring mending, may be left at the office of the Warren Junior High School. In some schools of the city there is no demand and a good supply of secondhand articles is available. By exchange through committees of mothers working through school nurses and teachers, the other schools where the demand is great are supplied.

The committees have found that certain articles are difficult to find when the need arises—for instance, trousers, shoes, rubbers, and gloves—particularly for the students in the last year of Junior High School, as there is no higher grade to call upon to supply the need.

Proceeds of the card party on Friday afternoon will be used to purchase the needed clothing. Tickets will be 50 cents per person, and may be purchased at the school office, and from the teachers of the various home rooms of the Warren Junior High School, also from the following members of the ticket committee: Mrs. H. B. Budding, 1888 Commonwealth ave., Auburndale; Mrs. C. L. Churchill, 20 Holly rd., Waban; Mrs. E. W. Pridle, 67 Temple st., West Newton. Auction and contract bridge, or other card games, may be played at the party. All interested in the work are urged to help support this worthy cause. Moreover, it is desirable that tickets may be purchased by Wednesday, Jan. 31, in order that the committee may have an idea of the number of tables needed. However, it will be possible to purchase tickets at the door on the day of the party.

Ely Reappoints Two Newton Men

On Wednesday Governor Ely reappointed Hon. George H. Ellis of West Newton a trustee of Massachusetts State College, and James P. Gallagher of Newtonville a Master of Chancery. The latter is clerk of the Newton district court.

MATHER NAMED AS HEAD OF HARVARD SUMMER SCHOOL

Is Tenth Director Since School Was Established

Prof. Kirtley F. Mather of Newton Centre has been appointed director of the Harvard Summer School for 1934 succeeding Prof. N. Henry Black who directed the school for the past two years. Prof. Mather becomes the 10th director of the school which was founded in 1871. He is professor of geology at Harvard having been a member of the Harvard faculty since 1921 and is regarded as one of the most popular lecturers in the university. He is actively interested in public school education being a member of the School Committee of Newton and an organizer of the Adult Education Centre of the Twentieth Century Club. In addition to acting as director of the Summer School, Prof. Mather plans to give a course in geology.

Newtonville Man Stunned by Fall, Drowns in Brook

Jeremiah Lucey Found Dead
In Cheesecake Brook

Jeremiah F. Lucey, 62, of 99 Crafts street, Newtonville, was found dead in shallow water at Cheesecake Brook, near the junction of Albemarle road and North street, last Friday morning by two men employed as C. W. A. workers. These men were engaged in cleaning the brook when they came upon the body. They notified police headquarters and the ambulance was sent to the scene. Identification was made later by Captain Goode of the police who had served with the dead man on the Newton police force. Mr. Lucey had been a patrolman for about 15 years, resigning in 1910. He was an upholsterer by trade. As his watch had stopped at 10:30, it is supposed he slipped while walking along the path on the brook embankment the preceding night and had been rendered unconscious when he fell into the brook and his head struck a rock. Medical Examiner Gallagher reported that the death was due to accidental drowning.

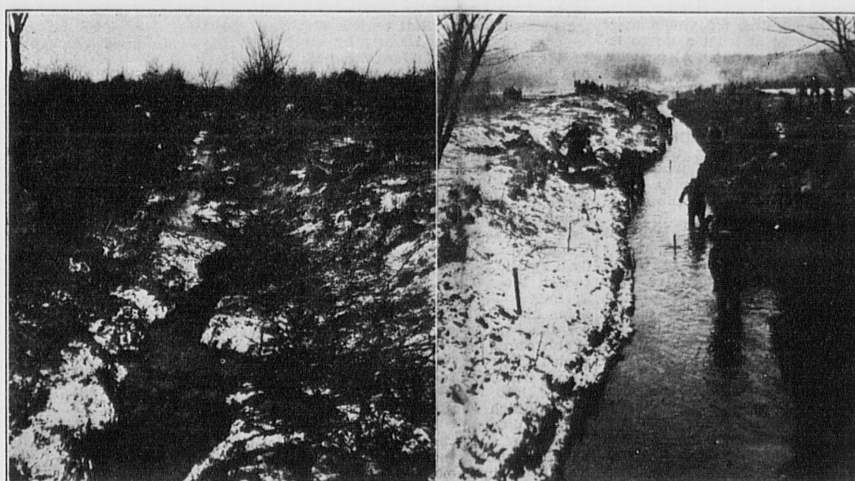

Mr. Lucey is survived by his widow, Mrs. Della (Desmond) Lucey; four daughters—Misses Alice M., Helen G., and Esther M. Lucey of Newtonville, and Mrs. George Willis of Panama; and five sons—Francis V., John J., Raymond R. and William R. Lucey of Newtonville, and Paul E. Lucey of Waltham.

His funeral service was held on Monday morning at Our Lady's Church, Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

50 Mile Speed On Flat Tire

Loren Nauss, 58, of Gloucester, was arrested Tuesday night by Patrolman Joe Smith charged with drunken driving. In the Newton court on Wednesday, Smith testified that while he was cruising in a police car on the turnpike, Nauss came along in a car with a front tire flat and flapping and driving at a speed of 50 miles an hour. The policeman pursued the other car and caught it after a chase of a couple of miles.

Newton CWA Workers Improving South Meadow Brook at Highlands

Unemployed Men Are Doing Good Work on Big Drain For The South Side Area

The two photographs reproduced above were taken about a week ago at Dedham st., Newton Highlands. One view shows South Meadow Brook to the East of Dedham st.; the other view shows the brook to the West of Dedham st. The first view shows the brook partly filled with gravel and silt and on its banks a growth of bushes and shrub trees. The other view shows the brook widened and deepened and its banks cleared of vegetation. The gang of men working in the brook and on its banks are some of the unemployed of Newton, put to work on this project as one of the C. W. A. activities in this city. On this job 175 men have been employed, and the practical value of this C. W. A. project to the City of Newton can well be visualized by the contrast shown in the two photographs. Work on widening and deepening South Meadow Brook and improving the drainage of its banks started at the mouth of the brook, which is at the Charles River, near the Stowe & Woodward factory, by the corner of Oak and Needham sts., Newton Upper Falls. The brook runs through a conduit under the property of the former Saco-Lowell shops, thence through land formerly owned by this company towards the tracks of the New Haven Railroad. It then turns and runs under Needham st. and through low country and meadows, crossing Winchester st. and Dudley rd., well into the Oak Hill district. This is the course of the main stream of South Meadow brook today.

But, in earlier days, when Newton was a thinly settled community, one of the principal sources of the brook was at Wiswall's Pond, later known as Baptist Pond, and for the past half-century or so, designated by that euphonious and commonplace name—"Crystal Lake." Wiswall's Pond was so named after Thomas Wiswall, the first white man to settle on its shores. He came into the town in 1654 and became Ruling Elder of the new community. He died in 1683. His farm extended easterly from the great pond of 33 1-2 acres towards the hill now called Institution Hill.

The first white man to own the land on which was located the pond was Governor Haynes, who was head of Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1635. One year before that he obtained title to 1034 acres of land, extending from the south slope of Institution Hill to near the Charles River at Newton Upper Falls. The natural outlet for the pond was a brook, which started near the northeast part of the pond, crossed the Dedham rd., ran through Elder Wiswall's farm, crossed the Sherborn rd. and Worcester turnpike, to join the branch of South Meadow Brook coming from Oak Hill.

Some time prior to 1700, enterprising settlers of Newtowne, who had dammed Smelt Brook to form what is now known as Bullough's Pond, made an excavation to create an artificial drain which carried water from Wiswall's Pond to Smelt Brook for the purpose of giving more water power to the grist mill they had built at Bullough's Pond. This diversion of water from the pond, largely ended the flowage from it towards South Meadow Brook.

Winchester st., under which the brook flows, was named after Stephen

Winchester, who was born in Brookline in 1686, purchased a couple of hundred acres of land in the Haynes' tract in 1720, and settled upon it. His farm extended southerly from where the colonial cemetery is located near the junction of Winchester and Needham sts. As it flowed in the direction of Dudley rd. in Colonial days, the brook skirted the ministerial woodlot. The preachers in the town at that time received meagre salaries, and a fuel supply had to be provided as part compensation. Until the past few years, the Oak Hill district had developed little. Its aspect was rural, as in the 18th and 19th centuries. Now, it is rapidly being converted into home sites. The improvement of South Meadow Brook will greatly aid future development of this large area of the city. The deepening and widening of this water course will assure proper drainage for much of Ward 5. This part of Newton's C. W. A. program will be of practical benefit and will save the city much money. The work would eventually have to be done at the expense of the taxpayers of Newton.

Hammond Brook, from its confluence with Cold Spring Brook, at Homer st., near City Hall, is also being improved similarly to South Meadow Brook. Part of this brook is an artificial water course. It was made about the middle of the last century. A natural brook formerly ran from Smelt Brook near Homer st. to Newton Centre, crossing Centre st. This brook was connected with Hammond Pond by an artificial drain which was excavated through the low lands southeast of Beacon st., to the westerly shore of the pond.

WABAN MAN MADE ASSOCIATE PUBLIC WORKS COMMISSIONER

Governor's Council Confirms Callahan Appointment

Governor Joseph Ely has appointed another resident of this city to an important State office. William P. F. Callahan of 732 Chestnut street, Waban was appointed Associate Commissioner of the Department of Public Works, and confirmed by the Governor's Council. He succeeds Herman McDonald. Mr. Callahan was born in Stoughton 42 years ago and has resided in Waban for four years. He is a ship broker and has had wide experience in maritime affairs. He is married and the father of two children, Jane and William F. Jr. Both have gained fame as expert equestrians and have won many prizes, taking firsts at the Chestnut Hill and Boston Garden shows.

Child Drowned in Charles River

Body of Barbara Rambach Has Not Been Recovered

Barbara Rambach, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rambach of 350 Quinobequin Road, Waban, was drowned in the Charles River near her home last Friday afternoon. The little girl, with a companion, Barbara Hiller, 4, of Rokeby Road, had been playing on the ice along the shore of the river and fell into the water. The Hiller child ran home and told her mother of the accident and the latter notified the police. A radio message was sent out and received by Patrolman Dowling who was in a cruising car at Auburndale and by Patrolmen Duncan and Gaquin who were in another cruising car. They were in another scene and started soon reached the scene and started grappling for the body. Later two Metropolitan policemen arrived with a boat and joined in the search for the body. Friday night the emergency car of the Newton fire department came to the place and the powerful searchlights on it were used to assist the police in their unsuccessful efforts to find the child's body. Early Saturday morning a net was spread across the stream where the aqueduct crosses at Wales street to prevent the body from being carried down the river. The ice along the shore was melted with salt to facilitate the search, but without avail.

The search continued throughout Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and on Tuesday the services of a diver, Fred Wallace of Somerville, were engaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Rambach have two other children—Joy, aged 6; and Scott, 2.

Claim Sidewalks Were Defective

Alleged defective conditions on Newton sidewalks are responsible for several more damage claims against the city. Mrs. Martin Higgins of Newton fell on a sidewalk at Washington st., Newtonville. Mrs. Dora Gordon fell on a sidewalk on Dorset rd., Waban; Mrs. Bertha McPhail fell on a sidewalk at Woodward st., Newton Highlands. All three women received injuries and ask to be compensated.

Mayor Weeks Sends Veto to Aldermen At Special Meeting

Board Passes Large Appropriations Last Night

A special meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen was held last night by order of Mayor Weeks. A number of important matters were acted upon. The Mayor sent to the Board his first veto in many months. It was upon the appropriation of $1261 which the Aldermen made at the last regular meeting of the Board to pay several claims for damages to Newton houses caused by blasting last year in the rock excavation in the high level sewer. About 70 claims for damages, or alleged damages, have been made against the city, and the $1261 was for first settlement on these claims. It was to meet five claims. The order for this appropriation, as passed by the Aldermen on Jan. 15, called for the money to be taken from the tax levy. Since then, the Mayor decided that as the total amount which the city may have to pay to settle all the claims for alleged damages from the blasting operations will run into a large sum of money, the claims should be paid from the sewer construction account instead of the tax levy. The sewer construction account is financed by bond issues. Last night the Aldermen rescinded their former vote and passed a new appropriation in accordance with the Mayor's wish.

Other appropriations included: assessment for Newton's share in maintaining Middlesex County Tuberculosis Hospital at Waltham, $22,759; supplies for C. W. A. projects, $1000; new automobiles for various city departments, $14,477.68; maintenance of police automobiles, $125; salaries of three additional investigators for Welfare Department, $2800. The additional investigators for the Welfare Department are to enable this department to be better able to cope with the extraordinary conditions which have been and are prevailing. It has been the practice in welfare departments in this State to have an investigator for about each 100 cases receiving aid. On Jan. 1st in Newton 34 women were receiving mothers' aid, 139 persons old age pensions, and 366 persons were receiving aid, largely because of the existing economic conditions. Before the C. W. A. projects gave work to many hundreds of Newton men and women, there were 616 cases being aided by the Newton Welfare Department in addition to those getting mothers' aid and old age pensions.

The men who have been serving as investigators for the Welfare Department are Poutas of Lenglen rd., Newton, and Sabian Paine of Auburndale. The newly appointed investigators are Ellery Manley of Ward st., Newton Centre and Albert Freeman of Davis avenue, West Newton. Mr. Poutas is the chief investigator. These men are not under civil service, as the positions are temporary.

The Board granted a change of location for a common victualler's license, and has also been conducting a lunch room at 307 Washington st., Newton. The new location is 321 Washington st., Newton, at the corner of Peabody st. The reason for the change is that the Newton Licenses Commission has granted a license to Miss Oshershaw to dispense beer, wines and hard liquors in the

"Little Women" is Feature Film at Paramount

Louisa M. Alcott's great story, "Little Women" will be the feature for the week beginning Sunday at the Paramount Theatre, Newton for four days. It will be the only showing of this film in the district and there can be no extension of the engagement. For the Monday evening performance seats are being reserved and are now on sale at the box office.

The human, lovable characters of the story live again in the fashions of the day. The peaceful settings where the four girls romped have been transferred to this era by the magnet of the camera and the technical skill of movie land. Even in New England snow and storms are moved across the country to the Radio lots. Customs, costumes, and the heart warming atmosphere of the sixties are a contrast indeed to the usual screen mélange of court room, machine gun and sex.

Grandmother, grandfather, mother and dad, little Mary and Johnnie can walk arm in arm past the box office of any theatre playing "Little Women" and well be proud that they are going to see one of the most appealing gems of all literature and one of the mightiest stories of a humble home—just as it has lived in fiction through 65 stormy years.

A great cast, too, brings this echo of a romantic American period. Katharine Hepburn is "Jo", Joan Bennett is "Amy", Francis Dee is "Peg" and Jean Parker is "Beth". Among others prominent in the cast are Edna May Oliver, Paul Lukas, Douglas Montgomery. "Little Women" will go on the screen at approximately 3:45 in the afternoon and 9:15 in the evening with a continuous show on Sunday starting at one o'clock. John Boles and Lillian Harvey in "My Lips Betray" will be the companion feature. Jackie Cooper in "Lone Cowboy" and Otto Kruger in "Women in His Life" will be the program for the last half of the week with the customary vaudeville program on Saturday evening at 7:45.

NEWTON-CANTAB CLASH FEATURES TONIGHT'S GARDEN HOCKEY GAMES

The weekly set of interscholastic hockey games at the Boston Garden will be staged tonight instead of tomorrow afternoon, due to the K. of C. track meet at the Boston sports arena. This week's games brings together the two leading sextets, Cambridge Latin and Newton high, and this game will be the evening's feature. The Cantabs, setting the pace in the circuit by a scant half game, must win in order to protect their slender lead, while the Newtonites must hold their favored rivals to at least a tie to insure staying in the race. Along with the battle between the two leading teams hockey fans are assured of another hectic struggle between the third and fourth place sextets, Melrose and Arlington. In the other games Medford will be playing Stoneham and Rindge Tech meets Belmont. At the conclusion of the games there should be some changes in the standing.

Last Saturday's affair with Belmont was little more than a workout for the Newton sextet with Joe Green opening the scoring about five minutes after the game began with a shot from scrimmage which eluded Goalie Lannigan. A half minute before the first period ended Captain Teddy Johnson let loose a shot from behind the blue line that dented the strings and made it 2 to 0. Two minutes after the second period started Johnny Waters and Jack Goodbar came down the ice with Waters taking a pass from his centre ice man in the middle of the rink. As Waters crossed the blue line he let go a blazing shot that landed in the net to see for Newton's third goal. Gus Castoldi and Johnny Waters teamed together for Newton's fourth count with the former taking a pass in a scrimmage in front of the Belmont net and slapping the disc home.

The league standing is as follows:

Cambridge Latin	4	0	11	1
Newton	3	0	13	7
Melrose	3	1	10	4
Arlington	2	1	10	8
Medford	1	2	1	4
Stoneham	1	3	0	7
Rindge Tech	0	3	1	5
Belmont	0	4	0	3

Vachon Wins for Tufts Freshman
Henry J. Vachon, son of Edward Vachon of 35 Jassett street, Newton, was successful in his wrestling debut against Andover Academy as the representative of the Tufts College freshman wrestling team in the 145-lb. class, defeating Stevens of Andover with a time advantage of 3 min. 22 sec. in an overtime period. He was also successful in the opening meet against the Harvard representative, Vachon is a student in the School of Liberal Arts at Tufts College.

Spain Figures in Victory
Frank Spain figured prominently in the 3-1 triumph of the Dartmouth hockey team over Yale last Saturday at Hanover. In the second period with less than two minutes to go Spain tied the score on a long solo dash after Warren Colby of Newton Highlands had given Yale a one-goal lead a few minutes earlier. In the final period Spain fed a pass to Paul Guilford of Melrose who caged the winning goal. Guilford also tallied the third Green goal. The brilliance of the Green forward line, Spain, Guilford and Wilbur Powers of Newton Centre was the feature of the game which left Dartmouth undefeated in the newly formed quadrangular league of Dartmouth, Yale, Harvard and Princeton.

Brown Wins Another
Brown's hockey team won a 5 to 1 victory over the New Hampshire University sextet on Monday night. Charlie Butler and Norman Appleard, both of Newton Centre and both former Newton high athletes, were the starting defence players for Brown. Butler scored the opening goal late in the first session. In the second period his pass to a teammate gave him an assist while Appleard also had an assist on another Brown tally.

Brae Burn Sextet Loses
The Brae Burn hockey team lost a 7 to 4 game to the Bear Mountain Wolverines last week Friday night at the Brae Burn rink. Jack Hutchinson was outstanding for the West Newton team. Jim Hutchinson was at left wing, Todd and Elliott at centre ice, Russ at right wing, Jack Hutchinson at left defence, Stanley and Rice at right defence and Walldinger in the nets for the Brae Burn line-up. Clark Hodder, former Newton high and Harvard hockey star and now Harvard freshman coach was referee.

Peaky to Run Dash
Carl Pescosolido will be a Harvard entry in the dash tomorrow night at the K. of C. games.

NEWTON FIVE TOPS WATERTOWN HIGH BUT LOSES TO RINDGE TECH

Newton High's basketball team went to Watertown on Wednesday afternoon and scored the first Newton victory over its neighboring community since the sport was resumed at Newton five or six years ago. The Newton margin was 27 to 15. Led by Captain Charley Flagg the Newton five staged a tight defense that kept Watertown at bay. It was an infrequent occasion when the home team got a close-up shot. Both teams lost several scoring chances in the first period which ended with Newton leading by an 8 to 4 count. Half of Newton's points had been caged by little Allen Smith who shone throughout the game with his defensive and passing ability. At half time Newton had added another point to make it a 13 to 8 margin. There was little scoring during the third period with Watertown closing up the gap to a 15 to 13 count with Newton still in front as this session closed. The final period saw Newton's tight defense working in great style, while repeated dashes down the floor by Captain Flagg and Bill Spillman tucked the game away. Flagg tossed in four baskets during this rally to bring his individual total to 12 points for the high mark of the afternoon. Watertown's only points in the final period came on two foul conversions. In a Suburban league game at Cambridge last week Friday afternoon, Newton high went down to its second league defeat when Rindge Tech forged ahead in the last few minutes of the game to a 26 to 18 victory. The home team covered Capt. Flagg of Newton in close fashion, holding him scoreless for the afternoon. Meanwhile Claude Prazier got loose to score 9 points, half of the Newton total, for the individual mark of the game.

Newton will meet Rindge Tech in a return game at the Newton court next week Friday afternoon. This afternoon Newton faces Brookline high on the Newton floor and hopes to annex its first league victory. Early this week Brookline edged Cambridge Latin in on the Brookline floor for one of the surprises of the season. Next week Tuesday the Newton five will play Lexington high at Lexington.

RELAY TEAM TO RACE EVERETT AT NORTHEASTERN MEET

The Newton high school relay team will race Everett in the annual Northeastern University Interscholastic meet tomorrow afternoon at the Boston Y. M. C. A. indoor track. Donald Enoch has hopes that his relay quartet in this meet and other meets to come will be among the leading schoolboy quartets. The four runners to face Everett will be selected from Captain Louis Miller, Bob Quigley, Warren Whittens, Allan Freeman, Sanderson Sloane, Tom Griffin and Sargent Moore.

Newton entries for the various events are as follows:
Quigley, Moore, Griffin, Wainwright, dash; Whittens, Sloane, McGilvrey, Kiley, hurdles; Miller, Fish, Quigley, 300; Freeman, Charlesworth, Fernald, 600; Fitzgerald, Connolly, Johnson, 1000; Haven, Swig, Wasilevski, Bosworth, shotgun; Caton, Blair, McLean, Hale, high jump.

Last week Friday afternoon the Newton high track team lost its second dual meet of the season when Brockton high triumphed by a score of 46 to 31 on the Newton indoor track. Quigley won the dash, with Moore third to give Newton a slight lead, but Whittens' third in the hurdles was the only point for Newton and the visitors went out in front for good. Captain Louis Miller won the 300-yard run with Brockton taking the other places. Freeman placed second for Newton in the 600 with Fitzgerald and Johnson taking first and third in the 1000. Haven's third was all Newton got in the shotgun and Whittens' first in the high jump with a second and a third in the broad jump by Hale and Connolly gave the orange and black but ten points total in the field events. Brockton climaxed the afternoon by taking the relay race for its 15-point margin.

Next week Friday afternoon Newton meets Watertown in a dual meet at the Newton track.

SPORT NOTES

On Tech Freshman Team
Gordon Wilkes is one of five candidates for the M. I. T. freshman relay team from whom Coach Hedlund will pick the quartet to race at the K. of C. games tomorrow night. Wilkes was a consistent performer for the Newton High relay team last year.

Going To Boxing School
Elmer J. Dagotell of Newton and James Bagley of Newtonville were among the youths who registered at the boxing school now being conducted by the Boston Garden.

OUR LADY HIGH FIVE WINS TWO GAMES IN CATHOLIC LEAGUE

Our Lady High kept on the heels of the leaders in the Catholic High School League race this week by winning both its games. On Tuesday the local team swamped the St. Mary's High of Lynn five under a 41 to 21 score and yesterday squeezed out a 22 to 16 win over St. Clement's High with a late game rally.

In the game with St. Mary's the individual honors went to Umberto Marino who tallied seventeen points for the local five. The Newton team held the whip hand throughout the game.

The contest with St. Clement's was staged by agreement yesterday afternoon instead of as previously scheduled for today. The first two periods of the game which was played at Medford found the teams pretty evenly matched with St. Clement's on the long end of a 12 to 10 count going into the second half. In the second half Our Lady High forged ahead and when the game ended enjoyed a six-point margin. Umberto Marino was again high scorer with a total of 8 points.

Next Tuesday Our Lady High entertains one of the strongest contenders for league honors this year when Cathedral High is the scheduled opponent. Next Friday the Newton team goes to Revere to meet the immaculate Conception High team.

SPORT NOTES

Hockey Popular At Country Day
Over a hundred boys of all ages and sizes are participating in hockey at the Country Day School. Last winter, with no ice available, most of the interest was centered in track but the track sport this year has been pushed off until early in the spring when the ice will be going. In 1933 the Country Day hockey squad did not play a game and consequently no letters were awarded so that this year's varsity team has but one letterman who earned his letter in the 1932 season. He is John Perry of Newton Centre, captain and fast-skating centre ice man. Playing with Perry in the first line are Robert Gorham of Waban and Robert Madden of Newton. Gorham is the fastest skater on the squad. Madden is a brother of Grace and John Madden, leading fancy skaters in New England. Ed Smith of Chestnut Hill and a Brookline boy, Harrison Rowbotham, are the defense players with Jack Haley of Boston in goal. Bill Wales of Newton, a defence player, Edncott Smith of Newton Centre, and John Cranshaw of West Newton, wings, are among the leading squares.

Colby Gets Scholarship
Warren Colby of Newton Highlands, former Newton High School athlete now a junior at Yale, was awarded one of the three annual Boston Yale alumni scholarships. Colby is a two-sport athlete having won his varsity letters in hockey and baseball last year as a sophomore. He is a wing on this year's varsity sextet along with Joe Gilligan of Newtonville, centre ice.

Haggood on Huntington Team
David W. Haggood of Newton Highlands has achieved athletic honors at Huntington School, Boston as centre on the basketball team. He has played in the majority of the varsity games this season and Coach Wilkinson expects him to be one of the outstanding centres in prep school basketball this season. He will enter Brown University. Bernard W. McKeown, another local youth at Huntington will enter M. I. T. and H. LeRoy Smith, Jr., expects to matriculate at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Newton League Bowling
The Newton League entered the second half of its schedule on Wednesday night with the Hunnewell Club of Newton setting the pace with a four-point margin. The local club maintained its lead by taking four from West Newton Neighborhood Club. The second place tie between the Middlesex and Mauds Club teams was dissolved when the former took four from Waban and the latter got but three from Weston, dropping the Wellesley team to third place. Ed Loring featured the Hunnewell-West Newton match hitting 370 for a three-string total. Four Hunnewell bowlers were among the first ten highest individual averages at the end of the first round. They were Shedd, 114; Loring, 109; Greene 109; and Ford, 108.

successive meets this season. Bouts were hotly contested in all weight classes but the heavyweight division. Warren Storer, Robert Young, Bert Friberg, Tony Pagla, and Leonard Morrison were Newton winners in their respective classes.

Newton "Y" will enter a team in the annual open wrestling meet being held by the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. this Saturday evening.

Squash Squashes

Newton Y. M. C. A. Class C squash racquets team completed its schedule of games last Saturday afternoon in the Massachusetts Squash Racquets League when it defeated the Walk-Over Club 4 to 1 in a match played at Newton "Y". Newton "Y" finished in third place in Division 2 winning 14 and losing 11 games. Summary of Saturday's match: Stanley Lyon, E. Graham Bates, William V. Hayden, and Arklay S. Richards were the Newton winners.

The Class D team of the Newton Y. M. C. A. lost 4 to 1 in a league match played Saturday afternoon at the University Club. Newton "Y" is now in fourth place in Division 2, having won 12 games and lost 13. Roland Coombs was the only "Y" winner.

Next Saturday Newton "Y" Class D team plays the Harvard Freshman team at Harvard.

Track

Newton Y. M. C. A. track team was defeated in a dual meet Friday evening at the Pawtucket Y. M. C. A. 62-15.

Junior Swimming

The "Y" Junior swimmers defeated Brockton "Y" at Brockton Saturday 31 to 26. The Newton boys won the Relay; 1st and 2nd in the Breast Stroke; 3rd in the 40-yard Free Style; and 1st and 2nd in the 40-yard Back Stroke. The point winners for Newton were Edward Jackson, William Fish, George Pitts, Donald Skauen, Burton Potter, Henry Shaw, and Francis Parker.

The Junior swimming team travels to Providence next Saturday to swim the fast Providence "Y" Juniors who hold the Two-State Championship.

Basketball

The "Y" Senior basketball team lost a close and hard fought game to the Brockton "Y" five at Newton last Saturday night 43 to 38, in an overtime period. The game was spirited and fast throughout the contest with Newton leading most of the time. With three minutes to go, Henry Mahler and Iver Kohler were required to leave the game because of four personal fouls. The local 5 point lead was soon cut down and the visitors took the lead. Andrew Kasper of Newton promptly tied it up again and the regulation period ended with the score 35-35, necessitating a 5 minute overtime period. During this period the lead changed hands twice with Parquette of Brockton scoring the deciding points.

The Newton "Y" Seconds were soundly trounced by the Brockton Seconds 29 to 12. Herlihy, Clarke, and Bernisderfer scored all the Newton points.

The Y. M. C. A. Junior basketball team will entertain the Newton Trade School five Friday at the "Y" gym at 3:30 p. m. The Trade won the first game at Newtonville 30-26.

Boys' Department

At the Camelot Tournament held at the Boston "Y" under the auspices of the Parker Bros. Company, Mark Sigismund of the Newton "Y" was tied for second place in the high school class, and Dexter B. Hill Jr. of Auburndale took third place in the junior class.

Boys' Supper

The January Supper of the Boys' Department will be held Friday, January 26th. The boys will meet for a swim at 5:45 before the call for mess, which will be sounded at 6:30. This will be followed by a Grand Council Fire and meetings of the Woodcraft League.

MAGIC WITH MUSIC A FEATURE

One of the most successful innovations of the season at Symphony Hall, Boston, are the "Morning Varieties," the second of which will be given tomorrow morning at eleven o'clock. Arthur Fielder acts as master of ceremonies, conducting his orchestra. Hans Wiener and his dance group of sixteen will give presentations in pantomime. A new feature will be "Magic With Music," by Jake Stafford, well-known Newtonville resident.

Patricia Turchon of Newton was winner of the second prize for the best review of the first "Morning Varieties" of December 30th. A similar contest will be held in connection with tomorrow's program.

Rotary Club

"Nowhere in the world has the depression affected Education as in the United States," said Newton's progressive superintendent of schools, John Lund, at the Newton Rotary Club, when speaking of the impending and deepening crisis in Education.

The depression reached our schools later than it did industry, trade, and agriculture, and it is causing great havoc in the schools after recovery has been evident in other phases of our national life. To substantiate his statement, Mr. Lund quoted actual conditions as learned by survey from Secretary of the Interior, Harold L. Ickes.

1. One hundred thousand more children are this year denied all educational opportunities because of closing schools.

2. Shortened school terms will put at least a million other children on learning rations close to the level of mental starvation.

3. One of every three teachers must work this year for less than the "blanket code" minimum for unskilled labor.

4. Twenty-five thousand teachers have been dropped, while a million more pupils have come into the schools.

As for salaries of teachers, few know how low they are. By comparison an unskilled factory worker laboring for a year at the minimum "blanket code" rate receives $728, which is little enough, and this year one of every three teachers will receive less than $750. per year for services in a profession which required a long period of training and a large capital outlay.

Today 93 of every 100 city children are enrolled in high school, and the abolition of child labor in industry by the N. R. A. puts another 100,000 children on the high school doorstep. Any industry faced with rapid increase in business would expect an increase in total operating costs. Schools, forced to carry an increased burden, are required to carry on with less funds. School enrollments have increased more than a million since 1930, but the total number of teachers has decreased 25,000. There never was such a demand for educational opportunity as today. With more children and less money, it has never been so difficult to satisfy the demand. Superintendent Lund said that these increased demands have been met by heavy burdens for teachers and sacrifices by reduced salaries and economy of operation.

The countries where few if any curtailments have been made in educational opportunities are Mexico, Australia, England and Wales, Irish Free State, New Zealand, and Chile.

In Newton, Mr. Lund felt the citizenry wanted to maintain the present standard for the schools by supporting the budget recently submitted. Every item has been carefully evaluated and all economies have been made through teacher salary reductions without serious curtailment of educational opportunities for the youth of Newton.

The club appointed a committee to support the present school budget. Announcement was made by Paul E. Ellicker, Principal of the high

Police News

Burglars broke into one store at Newton Corner about midnight last Friday and started to enter another. They got nothing for their efforts. Patrolman Taffe found the rear door of the Quality Market at 248 Washington street, open shortly after midnight. Entrance had been effected by breaking a window. The cash register had been opened, but no money had been left in it. The burglars had removed a grating from a window at the Mohican Market, adjoining, but apparently were scared away before they had a chance to enter the store.

Charles J. Cody, who for the past several years has been on house duty days at Newton police headquarters, has been appointed desk officer to succeed Henry Tibbetts. Patrick Burke, night desk officer at headquarters for many years, has been transferred to day duty to succeed Cody.

James Chandler of 1197 Washington street, West Newton, was fined $5 in the Newton court on Tuesday for assaulting James Hall because the latter refused to sell Chandler beer in a lunch room at West Newton. Serg. Leehan and Patrolman Jenkins witnessed the attack and arrested Chandler.

Patrolmen Dave Dalton and Joseph Smith of the Newton police qualified recently at the Needham police range to win the gold bar awarded by the New England Police Revolver League for proficiency in revolver shooting. The test was conducted before Richard I. Dwyer of the Newton Buick Company, who is official of the league.

MIAMI BEACH SALE BY BURNS OFFICE

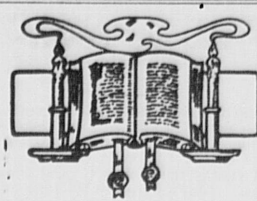

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report final papers having been passed in a transaction in far off Florida. Conveyance was made by Anna Rose Lefler of Newton to Edith Mendelson of Chicago. The property, comprising a mansion home of ten rooms, together with garage apartment with servants' quarters and sixteen thousand square feet of land, is located in the exclusive Biscayne district of Miami Beach, at 1734 Meridian ave. The entire property is valued at $20,000. The purchaser buys for a winter home.

ZONTA CLUB

Motion pictures was the subject for consideration by the Newton Zonta Club on Monday evening when Mrs. Mabel R. Edwards, Public Relations Motion Picture Advisor of the Massachusetts State Federation, gave many new side-lights on this much discussed subject. The meeting was held at the Iris Garden Tea Room, Lower Falls, Newton.

school, that the Newton Rotary and Newton Kiwanis Clubs, and their wives would meet with all other Rotarians and Kiwanians residing in Newton, at the high school on Monday evening, February 5, at 6:15 P. M. At that time Cameron Beck, the Personnel Director of the New York Stock Exchange, will speak on "Leadership for Tomorrow."

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The District Board of Education met last Thursday evening, January 18, at the home of Mr. Herbert C. Mayer of Auburndale. The date for the Annual Convention was decided upon, March 26, and the speakers who have accepted are Dr. Paul H. Voth of Yale, and Rev. Paul Bushmeier, who is pastor of the University church at Durham, New Hampshire.

The Young people of the Norumbega District will hold their annual conference on February 2-3 at Trinity church, Newton Centre, opening at 5 p.m. on Friday. The Saturday session will open at 2:30 p.m. and supper will be served on both nights.

The principal speakers for this young peoples conference are Rev. Carl Heath Kopt of Mt. Vernon church and Rev. Frank H. Stedman of the Boston Episcopal City Mission. The theme is "Adventures in Living."

Mothers' Rest Assn. Thanks Supporters

The Board of the Mothers' Rest Association takes this opportunity to thank the members of the Association and the Newton Dramatic Club who so heartily supported "Princess Marina," a musical fantasy given for the Association's benefit by the Newton Dramatic Club under the direction of Mrs. Everett W. Varney, at the Newton High School on Jan. 13th.

Mrs. E. Hoyt Weston, Finance Chairman, had charge of the activity and Mrs. Hazel Sands Welch, Entertainment Chairman, designed and trained all the dancing except that of Miss Miriam Catheron and Natalie Phaneuf. Mrs. Henry T. Patch had charge of the sale of tickets and was ably supported by captains from the various Newtons. Mrs. Earle E. Tilton, Treasurer of the Mothers' Rest Association, planned the program. Mrs. Austin C. Benton arranged for the publicity. Mrs. H. H. Cooley, President of the Junior Mothers' Rest Association, with her committee sold candy. Mrs. Charles E. Bailey and Mrs. Ralph Emery were in charge of ushers.

It has been the aim of the Association to be self-supporting. The annual budget is between $4000 and $5000 and the income from membership dues is about half of this amount. It is necessary therefore to have special activities to balance the expenditures. The Mothers' Rest Association is not included in the Newton Community Chest, as it would mean the loss of the support of the Mothers' Rest Club and the Junior Mothers' Rest for which purpose they were organized. It would also lose the identity of loyal membership which seems a very vital issue. Through co-operation and splendid management the budget was met last year and it is hoped that for the sake of those to whom moral and physical help is given that it will be met this year.

American Red Cross

A meeting of the Kenrick Club, the professional club of the Newton Home Economics teachers, was held at the Newton High School Monday afternoon, January 15th. Miss Charlotte Raymond, Nutritionist of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross was in charge of the meeting. Mr. Poulos of the Department of Public Welfare and Miss Ruth Chapin, General Secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau told of present policies in public and private relief agencies. There was an extensive exhibit of the foods of Italy, Central Europe and the Near East, and Miss Raymond told something of the racial backgrounds and customs and food habits of these countries. At the request of Miss Jeanie Kenrick, Head of the Home Economics Department of the Newton School, the exhibit was held over for two days and presented to the Home Economics classes at the Newton High School.

RADIO ROBINS TO PRESENT "PINAFORE"

The children's club known as the Radio Robins, of Newton Centre, a flourishing organization under direction of Mrs. Florence Wood Russell, are to attempt the heretofore unprecedented task of presenting the famous Gilbert and Sullivan opera "Pinafore" as their spring performance. While the dear old opera has often been given by young people of senior and even junior high school ages, rarely, if indeed ever, has it been given by children as young as the little "Robins" who average eight years. It will be a most interesting and delightful presentation, with many of the difficult parts eliminated and some of the most "adult" dialogue cut, but all the essential charm and beauty of song, action and spirit retained.

Several of the leading roles are already assigned, but auditions for chorus members will be held for a few weeks longer.

Central Church Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Central Congregational Church was held on Thursday evening, Jan. 18th, with an attendance of about two hundred and sixty. Rev. Randolph S. Merrill and Mrs. Merrill greeted the members and after dinner a number of announcements were made and reports read. A unique feature of the evening was a display of moving pictures taken by Mr. Chauncey Waldron called "Central Church in Action." These films showed various activities of several church groups. One of the most popular features was a film showing a group of men on the "highway squad" repairing the sidewalks of the manse and church. The picnic at Cedar Hill, the marionettes of Norman and Roger Harris, and scenes from the Christmas pageant were other interesting pictures. Mr. Waldron presented the films to the church as a tribute to the inspiring leadership of Mr. Merrill.

A gratifying report of the church finances was given by Mrs. J. B. Robinson, who retires as treasurer of the church after twenty-one years of highly competent and faithful service. Books for the year were closed with all bills paid and the church's debt reduced by more than $2000. "Mr. Merrill spoke on "What Your Minister Is Doing," and gave an account of a comprehensive program. A gain of seventy-six in the church membership was announced.

Officers for the year were elected as follows: Frederick L. Edmonds, moderator; James D. Bennett, treasurer; George A. Kell, auditor. Officers reelected were: G. Winthrop Brainerd, clerk, and Dan E. CHEVROLET AGENCY AT AUBURNDALE

The Silver Lake Chevrolet Company has opened a branch sales station at 415 Lexington street, Auburndale. H. Leslie Stiles will be the manager of the new establishment. The Silver Lake Chevrolet Company has been established at 444 Water-town street, Newtonville, for 16 years and has gained an enviable reputation for square dealing and efficient service. In addition to its sales facilities this company possesses modern equipment to do satisfactory repair work not only on Chevrolet cars and trucks, but on all makes of automobiles. Its Auburndale service station is located at 255 Auburn street, in the Melody Garage. Among the mechanics employed here is Jack McIsaac, well-known to Auburndale automobile owners.

Ladies Aid Gives Pageant of Quilts

A Beautiful pageant of old-fashioned quilts was given on Wednesday evening at the First M. E. church, Upper Falls, at the entertainment following the church supper.

Mrs. Frank Redman in costume, impersonated the Grandmother who told the history of the beautiful quilts to her grandchildren, represented by Mark Shedd and Barbara Sharot. The legend of the Indian quilt was followed by an Indian dance, the story of the Wedding Ring Quilt was followed by the entrance of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Newcomb to the melody of "O, Promise Me" sung by Miss Carrie Jowett. The Memory Quilt was followed by the solo "Memories" by Mrs. Frederick Newcomb. A beautiful minuet dance was given with the story of the Martha Washington quilt by six girls. The story of the log cabin quilt was followed by a baritone solo by Mr. Fred Newcomb. "On the Banks of the Wabash" and duet "My Old Kentucky Home" by Mr. and Mrs. Newcomb. The story of Aunt Dinah's quilt was followed by the solo "Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party" by Mr. Fred Newcomb.

A beautiful butterfly dance in costume followed the story of the butterfly quilt. The story of the long trail quilt was followed by a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Newcomb. The rose quilt was followed by a solo by Mrs. Newcomb, "Mighty Lak A Rose." The young girls who appeared in the dances were Marie Guaf, Ruth Link, Rose Manishian, Sarah Mandagian, Rose Madrosian and Sarah Garabedian. The quilts were loaned by residents of Upper Falls. The beautiful pageant was under the direction of Mrs. Albert Proctor. Mr. Sigmund Romaszkiwicz of Upper Falls, gave three violin solos during the entertainment.

PROCEEDS EXCEED $800

The many friends of the Newton Dramatic Club and of the Mothers' Rest Association will be interested to know that the amount of proceeds from the production of "Princess Marina" on January 13th was about eight hundred and fifty dollars. The Newton Dramatic Club in these last two years has given to Newton charities fourteen hundred dollars, making a truly community contribution of its service and talents.

SUNDAY CONCERT AT BRAE BURN

The Sunday concert at Brae Burn Club, West Newton for members and their guests will feature Norma Jean Erdman, soprano, with Aileen Grossart as accompanist and Einar Hansen, violinist, with Jeannette Giguere, accompanist. Miss Erdman will sing two groups of selections including Mozart's "Alleluia" and Leoncavallo's "Ballatella" (Pagliacci). Mr. Hansen will include in his program Schubert's "Ave Maria" and Beethoven's "Chorus of Dervishes".

EDUCATIONAL FADS

Dr. Payson Smith, State Commissioner of Education, gave a most interesting address in Newton last week upon the effects of the depression upon matters of education and upon the so-called "fads" included in the curricula of our schools. He decried the practice of requiring all students to take certain courses for which they never find use. It is such matters as these that are now occupying the attention of the Newton school authorities in the matter of educational guidance and research. This type of research and guidance should prove of inestimable value, particularly from the viewpoint of the parent and child whose greatest desire is to get the greatest value from the educational facilities offered by our schools.

Prof. Joad In Talk At West Newton Church

Says Civilization Is Lopsided—Warns Against War

Man must learn to make more intelligent use of the unprecedented power which modern science has placed in his hands if modern civilization is not to follow ancient Egypt, Babylon, Greece and Rome in decay, declared Professor C. E. M. Joad of the University of London, speaking at the Unitarian Church in West Newton on Sunday evening. He also said: "While we have outstripped Ancient Greece in science, invention and production, we still look to her for political and economic wisdom."

Professor Joad said that it is the duty of this generation to the next to point out several problems which must be solved in order to avert world disaster.

First, the "lopsidedness of our civilization must be corrected." Secondly, to impress upon the rising generation the danger that another war will destroy this civilization. Third, the distribution of goods which this machine age is able to produce.

The next lecture of the course will be given on Sunday evening, Feb. 4, by Dr. Bruno Roselli who will speak on the subject, "Wanted: Larger Men for a Smaller World." Because of better acoustics the lecture will be given in the Parish House.

Annual Report of The Stearns School Centre

The Annual report of the Clerk, Mrs. G. W. Auryansen, of the Stearns School Centre, is as follows: "The fourth year of the general depression finds us somewhat bewildered by the new alphabet of federal, state and local agencies for dealing with the situation. Just what they all mean we hardly know, but we of the character building agencies know that down at the end of the alphabet are x, y and z, the unknown quantities that we are trying to solve by means of the personal equation."

"The Mothers' Club opened the year with a paid membership of 41 and so many new members have come in that it seemed wise to wait until new material had been assimilated before taking in more. Early in the year Mrs. Gove of Waban, assisted by women from the Needlework Guild, met weekly with a group of the younger women and helped them in cutting and making dresses for themselves and their children. They had a good time, learned a lot, and formed new ties of friendship. This is an instance of excellent volunteer work."

"The Mothers' banquet in May was a very pleasant affair. Mrs. Harold Bond was the speaker and Mr. Antonelli, the husband of one of the members, sang delightfully. A harvest supper, cooked and served by the members enriched the treasury by $8, and in December they met at Mrs. George Auryansen's to hear Mrs. I. O. Palmer talk about California."

"The Senior Girls Club is mothered by Mrs. Frederick White who is finding them so many lines of service and of self-improvement as well as good times, that they are forgetting that once they cared more about 'going places.' In April a supper and style show brought an attendance of 108, a show worth noting with the girls acting as mannikins. In May the Club presented a very successful play, dramatics being an important feature of the work of the center, bringing out the various gifts of the performers and educating them in vocabulary, poise and team work."

"In the lovely pastime staged by the children at Christmas time, the back curtain was painted by three of them and their enthusiasm was voiced by one little boy who said, 'when you need an actor, call on me.' There will be a dramatic contest on February 11th, when three clubs will play for the silver cup given by Miss Lucy Cobb."

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

The five Newton High School boys who departed from their homes a couple of weeks ago to seek adventure were only doing what countless boys and youths have done in past generations. The difference is that there isn't much opportunity today for boys to see "life in the raw" unless they would resort to crime, and the boys referred to are not of that type. In the "Gay Nineties" youths who wanted to rough it had plenty of chances to satisfy such a desire. Many a young man in those years read one of Charlie Ballen's adventures, went into the old office on Hanover street, Boston, and signed up as a valet for steers on a cattle boat from Boston to Liverpool. And such adventures found the experience far different from the "home and mother" treatment they were accustomed to. Other opportunities for "life in the raw" in the old days were—signing as a green hand on a sailing vessel and receiving the gentle discipline which captains and mates on such boats gave their crews; working in a lumber camp in Maine or New Hampshire where one associated with the dilettantes who composed the personnel of such camps, and where table d'hôte meals were served. And some youngsters went West to work on ranches and become real cowboys. Such occupations were only a few of the rough and ready callings which the youth of the past generation "enjoyed." About the only real outdoor job available to a young fellow today is at some C. C. camp. And a youth can't hand such an assignment unless he is hard up. The world surely is humdrum today.

The postal service has been curtailed to a considerable degree to effect economies, but millions have been squandered in recent years by the Post Office Department in payments made for contracts to favored steamship and airplane companies. And the patient public stands for this sort of thing.

The work now being done, under one of Newton's C. W. A. activities, of digging 5000 holes in which trees will be planted during the next few years, is an excellent project. The beauty of this city and its attractiveness as a residential community in part years could be attributed in large part to the many thousands of trees which lined its streets. Many trees along the older streets in the city have died in recent years. Modern conditions made it hard for them to survive. Streets are so paved that water cannot reach the roots of trees in sufficient quantity; roots had to be cut when trenches were excavated for water, sewer and other projects. On the hundreds of new streets constructed in late years young trees were not planted profusely.

But unless a campaign is started in the public and parochial schools of Newton to enlist the co-operation of school children in protecting young trees, the planting of 5000 young trees in the city in the near future will be largely a waste of labor and effort. In past years many hundreds of young trees in Newton have been damaged and destroyed by boys. It might be a practical idea to appoint committees of school children in every neighborhood to serve as guardians of the young trees.

Do you remember a few years back when many enterprising individuals took their savings to go into business as owners of miniature golf courses with the expectation of making big profits? And instead of making big profits they lost practically all of the money they invested in this swift passing fad. A large number of hopeful persons have gone into the liquor business expecting to obtain large returns. Many of this new generation of liquor dealers, in addition to paying large amounts for their stock in trade and heavy license fees, have had to pay in some places (if reports are true) other appreciable amounts to obtain licenses. And, after all these expenditures, they are disagreeably surprised to find that trade is anything but brisk.

Business is not so good for a large percentage of the new liquor dealers because of several reasons. There is too much competition; millions of people who might buy liquor if times were prosperous, haven't enough money to meet their real needs; the alleged whiskey and other strong alcoholic liquors now on sale are largely of inferior quality, and persons who were accustomed to drinking liquor before 1919 won't buy or drink such stuff.

The population of Newton is composed largely of persons who have moved into this city in recent years. Many of these residents do not know (apparently) that there is a city ordinance which compels householders and occupants of business properties to clear snow and ice off sidewalks.

Section 161 of the City Ordinances reads: "Every owner, or occupant of a building or lot of land abutting upon a sidewalk covered with brick, stone or concrete in any street, place or way, in Ward 1, Ward 2, the whole of Precinct 2 of Ward 3, and in Washington st. of Precincts 1 and 3 of Ward 3, in Precinct 1 of Ward 4, upon the north side of Auburn st. from Melrose st. to Lexington st., and upon both sides of Lexington st. from Auburn st. to Commonwealth ave.; in Precincts 2 and 4 of Ward 5 north of Boylston st.; Precincts 1, 2 and 4 of Ward 6; and in Ward 7, shall cause the snow to be removed from such sidewalk within 24 hours after such snow has ceased to fall. The foregoing provision shall apply to snow which falls from buildings as well as that which falls from the clouds."

In recent years this ordinance has not been enforced to the degree that it should be by police men in Newton. Even in business districts and owners of buildings have, in many cases, consistently neglected to remove snow. The failure of persons to obey this ordinance has resulted in many residents of Newton falling on

Dr. Gilkey Talks At Central Church Newtonville

Tells of Conditions in Germany
And Russia

Dr. James Gordon Gilkey of Springfield lectured on "What is Happening in Germany and Russia" before a large audience in the chapel of Central Congregational Church on Tuesday evening, Jan. 23. Many illustrations and moving pictures which he had taken in those countries, were of rare beauty. By unusual good fortune Dr. Gilkey was unhampered by censorship in Russia and was permitted to bring away pictures of scenes not given by other travelers. He was with Sherwood Eddy, and felt that much freedom had been accorded them in their travels, as they could go places with or without guides, as they chose, giving them opportunity for meeting people and seeing all phases of life.

Dr. Gilkey suggested three "themes" which should be considered in an estimate of the Russian situation. The lavish extravagance of the former rulers in their expenditures on palaces and churches, the age long poverty of the people which would require many years to abolish, and the communistic government with its colossal projects for advancement. A number of pictures were shown of the backward rural villages where the people were living in very primitive conditions, without modern farming implements and no opportunities for education. He also found unemployment. The brighter side of the picture was given in the modern recreational and educational features of the life.

The Nazi demonstrations, views of ancient Nuremberg and Rothenburg, and of fair Königssee, were of much interest. The home coming during the hurricane of last August closed the series of pictures, which Dr. Gilkey had interpreted with rare comprehension.

sidewalks and receiving serious injuries. After the recent storm, Chief of Police Hughes instructed his subordinates to enforce the ordinance.

In happy contrast to the scandalous way in which C. W. A. activities have been misconducted in many cities and towns, is the efficient manner in which this relief program is being carried on in Newton. A large part of the credit for the proper handling of C. W. A. funds in this city should be accorded to Harold Young who, for the past few months, has served as secretary of the Mayor's Relief Committee, and uses the valuable experience thus gained to good effect in administering the C. W. A. projects in Newton.

Have you had the prevailing gripe yet? We have been enjoying it the past week.

Another old Newton industry has ceased. The Martin Manufacturing Company at West Newton, which for nearly 30 years gave employment to hundreds of Newton women and girls has gone out of business. Conducted by a Newton man who operated his business under excellent conditions and gave good wages, the passing of this industry is a severe blow to many in this city.

We talked with some policemen yesterday who were indignant about the remarks made the preceding evening by General Daniel Needham at the dinner of the Brown University Club in Boston. According to newspaper reports, General Needham, talking as head of the State Police, made some complimentary remarks regarding the efficiency of municipal policemen. The policemen who took exception to his criticisms were not members of the State Police, or the Boston police; the two departments which escaped Gen. Needham's criticism. Neither are they members of the Newton police. They are veteran members of a police force which has won during a long period of years a good reputation for efficiency. They commented, that a man who has been connected with police work actively for less than a year, is hardly qualified to presume to be an expert on matters pertaining to police.

General Needham is a lawyer by profession; a military man by avocation. He has had wide experience in both these activities and has sufficient knowledge of law and war to speak with authority on these subjects. But, it is natural that men who have been employed as policemen for many years, should resent adverse criticism on the part of one whose experience in this occupation has been very limited. The use of firearms is not the most important part of police work; if policemen use their heads they can accomplish much.

Incidentally, Gen. Needham will have accomplished something if he will cause members of the force he heads to be more in evidence patrolling State highways, than they have been for some years past. One of the principal reasons for the establishment of the State constabulary was to control traffic on State highways. If this activity had been given more attention it is quite probable that the appalling death rate from automobile accidents would have been less.

LECTURES ON WEST INDIES

Helen Freeman of 65 Mount Auburn Street, Cambridge, who has been lecturing before some of the large church and other organizations on her trip to the West Indies, has met with so much success that she has been persuaded to enter the professional lecture field. In order that her many acquaintances may have an opportunity to hear her she is offering to give the talk, which is illustrated with her own motion pictures and lantern slides for a limited number of times without charge, if a mutually agreeable evening can be arranged. Music accompanies the lecture. Mrs. Freeman is particularly interested in that most abused and lovely group of our own possession, the Virgin Islands.

By L. D. G. Bentley

Not so many Spring flowers 'bloom-in', but a pteuteous crop of political candidates.

Oddments

Boldly have I walked under ladders in defiance of the ancient superstition which tells us that to do so is likely to bring bad luck. Well, I did it once too often, if you must know. The result was that, having boastfully proceeded on my way I was stopped by a friend who said, "Where did you get that paint on your back?" Without delay I returned to have it out with the painters. It seemed to call for no ceremony so I asked, "Where is the turpentine?" They looked at me and said, "O, did you get splattered?" Before I was able to reply, one called, "Hey, Charley, bring the gasoline," and in another instance "Charley" was wiping the spots off. He did it pretty well, but it taught me a lesson and I hope you, gentle reader, may benefit.

Often have I heard the phrase, "getting down to brass tacks" but not until the other day did I actually come face to face with brass tacks. Understand, please, that I know that one is a metaphor and other a reality. In mixing these, as I have, I wish to emphasize my opinion that I believe in sticking to the matter in hand even if that procedure is referred to as "getting down to brass tacks." Call it what you will it is a good idea. But the reference to brass tacks meant little to me until I saw workmen removing a carpet that had been laid many years ago—a generation or more. They used brass tacks when that particular floor covering was placed in position. These tacks were at least two inches long. The ones alongside the walls had to be filled with holes, neatly accomplished with the aid of a gimlet, I expect, and into these holes were the tacks driven. Brass must have been cheaper in those days for ordinary tacks are deemed sufficient nowadays. All this proves that there is always something to be learned providing we watch our step on carpeted floors and elsewhere.

"How Many Are Coming?"

The one who really needs our sympathy and who seldom gets it is the man who has to make all the arrangements for the annual dinner of his pet organization. You might think it a happy duty and one in which there was much pleasure to be found. Well, if you have any such notion it must be that you have never "taken charge."

People who will ordinarily answer yes or no to most any question seem to become mute and completely without understanding when asked if they plan to attend the annual banquet of their club, fraternity, lodge or what-not.

To extract a direct reply to the query, "Do you expect to attend?" requires extraordinary powers and few individuals have them. Letters, telephone calls and personal visits frequently produce nothing more than, "Well, I don't know yet. I'd like to come but I'm not sure whether my wife hasn't something planned for that evening. I'll let you know."

Of course he never does let anybody know, except himself and then, finally deciding to attend, shows up at the last minute, greatly surprised to learn that he wasn't expected and that his appearance has upset the secretary, head-waiter and many others.

The indifferent creature laughs. The secretary is careful to hold his tongue but inwardly wishes he had this man in a dark alley just long enough to deliver one sock on the jaw.

The easy-going guy who lets himself in for the job of secretary of a dinner committee is walking where wise men refuse to amble. When his job is over, however, he is filled with wisdom. If he repeats it is because he wants to get back at those who made trouble for him the first time. Then he shows no mercy to those he formerly trusted and who made him so much trouble.

From the moment the burden is placed on the shoulders of a dinner committee secretary until he has settled the last bill his mind is on nothing else. He finds it comparatively easy to prepare a list of speakers, engage musicians and buy song sheets but when it comes to determining the exact number for dinner—all dinners must be guaranteed and paid for—his life is a nightmare. All this because he is liable to be stuck anywhere from $10 to $25.

He gets on the telephone, makes personal visits, writes letters and does anything to round up the exact number. Then when the thing actually happens he goes without his own meal.

Loud, But Not Plain

Some people have a notion that in speaking to a foreigner with no knowledge of our language they should raise their voices. Instead of having the desired result it conveys to the stranger within our gates an impression that the speaker is angry. I have seen persons of kindest purpose striving to make clear English words to one who could well hear but not understand. If only a roaring voice contained powers of translation it might be some advantage. I never could grasp what was in the mind of a man who bellowed to make himself understood by a native of another country.

And yet it happens right along. Only a short time there was in our midst a prince of the realm from an Oriental monarchy. He was keenly intelligent but possessed little knowledge of American speech. One of the distinguished committee—a native of United States—thought he could dispense with the services of an interpreter if he used plenty of lung power. The scheme did not work but apparently the American had an idea he was accomplishing something. A group of newspapermen stood by. One asked his nearest companion, "What is the old boy using the loud speaker on the chink for?" "He's talking across the Pacific ocean," came the reply.

CENTRAL CHURCH CHOIRS ACTIVE

The young choirs of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville are both ambitious and unique. This group of eighty-six young people are divided into a "Junior choir" of boys and girls six years to ten—and the "Carol Choir" includes forty-four boys and girls ten to seventeen years of age. The Carol Choir already has two splendid broadcasts to its credit from station WBZ and will be heard again over that station in April. The choir, although but one year old is planning its second concert to be given in February. They also sing in church service each second and fourth Sunday of the month, the Junior choir singing with the Carol choir once a month except January and February. The Junior Choir also broadcast a Christmas program from station WBZ.

There is no reward for this splendid service rendered by these young singers other than the joy and pleasure derived from working together under the direction of Mrs. Nina Mae Forde, soloist of Central Church, and a well known concert artist.

Abigail Eliot at W. Newton Church

At the second meeting of the series planned by the Second Church in Newton Dr. Abigail A. Eliot will take for her topic "Discipline." The lecture, followed by a discussion, is to be held at eight o'clock on Tuesday, January 30, in the Parish House.
This series of lectures is offered by the church, of which Dr. Boynton Merrill is minister and Mr. Frank H. Grebe the director of religious education, especially to meet the interests of parents of preschool children. Because Dr. Eliot is a popular and well known speaker the meeting will be open to the public.

Dr. Eliot was among the first in this country to recognize the importance of the preschool child. She is now the director of the Ruggles Street Nursery School and the Boston Nursery Training School. She has recently been appointed Regional Advisor for New England under the Federal Emergency Relief Act which is establishing child study centers throughout the United States. Two of these centers have already been opened in Newton.
Future lectures in the series will be on topics of equal interest to the parents of preschool children.

Kiwanis Club

The weekly luncheon meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held at Charles River Country Club on Tuesday, January 23.

Mr. Ralph Robart, Director of the Department of the Necessaries of Life at the State House addressed the members. Mr. Robart, one of the few Republicans to receive renomination to his office, is imminently qualified for the important work he is doing. His department, maintained at the small expenditure of approximately $15,000 per year, is able to save Massachusetts citizens and the Commonwealth many thousands of dollars annually. Its importance has been brought to the attention of the public during the past year by its activities in getting necessities to the citizens during the period of the Bank Holiday and more recently by its activities during the milk difficulties. Mr. Robart's physical appearance and mental alertness make it easy to understand how he established such an enviable record in the World War.

After the address by Mr. Robart, President Jim Forbes asked George White to tell the club of the evening meeting next Tuesday at which 100 percent attendance is the goal. Following this announcement, Ray Greene announced that the Rotary Club had invited the Kiwanis Club to meet with them at the Newton High School on February fifth.

W. C. T. U.

SCHOOL CHATS

An authoritative article each week covering important and interesting phases of public school organization and activity. Prepared under the direction of the School Department.

EDUCATION FOR MENTAL HEALTH

It can be fairly said that the older and traditional type of education was primarily interested in the teaching of subjects. Today, modern education is interested primarily in the pupils and their personal and social development, and in subjects only as they contribute to this end. Education must teach an individual how to adjust himself harmoniously to the people around him, with whom he lives and works, rather than merely to give him knowledge about particular subjects. Education sees the individual, above all else, as a social being, and realizes that his happiness and efficiency depend upon his ability to make social adjustments.

MENTAL HEALTH AND SOCIAL LIVING

In this development of a social type of personality, mental health plays an indispensable part. It bears so directly on the molding of personality, on the art of social living, on personal efficiency and happiness, and social usefulness, that it becomes one of the most important means by which modern education accomplishes its social objective. This mental health approach to education is based upon the recognition that we live much more by our feelings than by our intelligence. Therefore, the problem of stimulating the growth of healthy feelings becomes a primary responsibility of the school.

The tragedy of the unadjusted school child has so frequently resulted in the even greater tragedy of the unadjusted adult and the delinquent, that early detection of maladjustment and its causes is imperative.

In Newton, the classroom teachers, because their contacts with the pupils are continuous and natural, are in a most strategic position to help pupils to develop free and natural relationships. They are ever alert to detect those early symptoms of maladjustments and ill-balanced personalities which may be the beginnings of problems of serious nature. If these incipient problems do not respond to their attempts to remedy them, the cases are referred to the Guidance Department, where more intensive study and treatment of individual children may be made.

The specific treatment applied to individual cases varies with the type of problem. In each case the attempt is made to find the source of the difficulty and eliminate it. Physical, social, environmental, emotional facts all play a part in the picture as a whole. Whatever is wrong is corrected so that harmony is restored. The work done with these problem cases can best be described by real life sketches out of the experience of the schools. Each represents the story of a human struggle into which we must probe deeply with patience, understanding and sympathy to find a way to restore the happiness that is rightfully the heritage of youth.

Next week we will begin the publication of a series of such real cases where the school has functioned helpfully.

TRUMBOUR—CASSIDY

Miss Marie L. Cassidy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Cassidy of 34 Carleton st., Newton, was married to Joseph Edmund Trumbour of Needham, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Trumbour, on Saturday morning, Jan. 20, at the Church of Our Lady, Newton. The nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. Robert Mantle. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Ellen Passamanti played the wedding music and the soloists were Mrs. Margaret Earls and Mrs. Desmond.

The bride wore ivory chiffon velvet with a veil draped from a lace cap and held with a bandeau of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilacs of the valley and roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Claire Leahy, a former classmate of the bride. She wore a gown of baby blue lace with a pink tulle turban and carried a bouquet of roses.

Philip Trumbour, brother of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were John J. Cassidy, brother of the bride, and Henry McGovern.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, following the ceremony. The couple were assisted in receiving by their parents. On their return from a wedding trip to Washington and New York, Mr. and Mrs. Trumbour will reside in Needham.

The bride is a graduate of Our Lady's School, and the Newton Hospital Training School for Nurses, class of 1931. The groom is a graduate of Our Lady's School and of the Bentley School of Accounting.

HARWOOD—GARRISON

Miss Faith Garrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd Garrison, Jr., of West Newton, was married to Reed Harwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Harwood of Brookline, on Saturday, January twentieth, at the home of her parents, 65 Sterling street, West Newton. Rev. Boynton Merrill performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin which was her mother's wedding gown, with a veil of ivory tulle and carried a bouquet of the valley and orchids. Miss Edith Lloyd Garrison, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a gown of cream and the bridesmaids, Miss Mary Harwood and Miss Mary A. Cushman, wore gowns of turquoise blue and carried spring flowers.

Sydney Harwood, brother of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were John Harwood, David Garrison and John Garrison.

On their return from a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Harwood will reside at 20 Berkeley Court, Cambridge.

The bride attended Miss Winsor's School and Wellesley College. The groom is a graduate of Harvard, 1929, and is now attending Harvard Medical School. He is a member of the D. U. and Hasty Pudding Club.

PEARSON—BROWN

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Chaffee of Providence, Rhode Island, of the marriage of Mrs. Chaffee's daughter, Miss Natalie Virginia Brown, a former resident of Newtonville, to Mr. Nathan Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Walter Pearson of Church Street, Newton. The ceremony was performed in Brooklyn, Connecticut, April 8, 1933.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearson expect to reside in Newton.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

"LITTLE WOMEN"

Monday evening, the 29th of January, is Club Night for the performance of "Little Women" at the Newton Paramount Theatre. This picture which is to be shown for the four days, the 28th through the 31st of January, is being sponsored as one of the excellent films that all should see, by the clubwomen of the city, through the Newton Federation of Women's Club, in its Moving Picture Committee, of which Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, of West Newton, is chairman.

There is no more effective way of proving to motion picture producers that really fine pictures are desired than by attendance at those which come up to the standard that theatre-goers everywhere are hoping and longing to see. Clubwomen and their families—and friends—now have a four-day opportunity to see one of the outstanding pictures not only of the year, but of many years. Their support of this picture will be a proof of their sincerity in waiting to see good pictures made, and of their appreciation of the management of the Newton theatre which is placing this picture at their disposal through their request.

Efforts to secure better productions, and to see banished from the screen in disgrace the cheap, vulgar, and trashy, have gone through many years of what may have seemed well-nigh hopelessness since January 1925, when Newton claimed the distinction of making the first public effort in this respect in this state. At that time your Club editor, Emma D. Coolidge, was Legislative chairman of the Newton Community Club and of the Newton Federation as well, and she brought before the State Legislature a bill to make the block system illegal, conducting a hearing at which several hundred prominent people went on record as favoring this legislation. Motion picture theatre managers prayed that she might succeed in this legislation, and so be relieved of the unpleasant compulsion of taking all pictures, however undesirable, of one producer, in order to secure the good ones they wanted. While the bill did not pass, one great step forward was gained by this pioneer work. Miss Coolidge secured the influence of the moving picture companies' lawyer who gained from them consent to what the Will Hays organization called at that time "The Open Door," by which clubwomen were invited to write to this organization and express their opinions of pictures then being shown. From this grew the even more effective Preview Committee of the General Federation and other societies which view pictures in Hollywood and New York before their release, and issue a pamphlet which gives adequate, fair, and frank statement upon the merits and demerits of each picture. Those who see this pamphlet have information that will direct them to the pictures they want to see, and show them, also, what pictures to avoid, either for themselves or for their children.

To return to "Little Women," the picture at the Paramount Theatre. Seats may be reserved for the Monday evening performance, the 29th, by club members and their friends, at no advance in price from the schedule of 40 cents for orchestra and 30 cents for balcony seats. The evening is sure to be a gala one, with clubwomen turning out for an evening's enjoyment together with their families.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will hold a "Special Day" on Monday, the 29th, with Miss Marion B. Morse as hostess at her home, 161 Allerton Rd. "The Unconquerable Tristram," by B. M. Steigman, will be reviewed by Mrs. Isaac Goddard. Music will be rendered from the works of Wagner and Brahms by Miss Isadore Hatch, Violinist; Miss Margaret Hooper, Pianist; and Miss Dorothy L. Goddard, Soprano. The committee in charge of the program includes Mrs. Goddard, chairman; Mrs. Francis A. Rugg, Miss Morse and Mrs. R. Earle Tinkham.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The third in the series of Literary Afternoons under the leadership of Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden and Mrs. Charles A. Richardson will be at the home of Mrs. Edward K. Titus, 23 Otis street, on January 29th, at 2:30 o'clock. An unusually good program is promised and anyone interested in Round Table Talks on Books is invited to attend.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands is sponsoring the organization of a Junior Woman's Club. This is a project in which the president of the Club, Mrs. Theron B. Walker, is greatly interested. Already a preliminary meeting of young women has been held. On Monday evening, the 29th, the Club invites all young women over eighteen years of age to attend a meeting at the Workshop, at 8 o'clock, when a Junior Club will be organized. Those who join at this time will have the honor of being Charter members. Mrs. O. C. Mackay, of the Woman's Club, is adviser for this group, and she will preside at this meeting.

Social Science Club

Mrs. Robert G. Howard will read a paper to the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning, January the 31st. Her subject will be "Broadcasts from the Field of Archaeology." The hostesses will be Mrs. Marvin Perry and Mrs. Joe W. Gerrity.

Shakespeare Club

Miss Mary L. Sweeney of 20 Columbus street will be the hostess for the Shakespeare Club at the next meeting Saturday afternoon, February 3rd, at 2:30 o'clock.

The reading of King Richard II will be completed, and a general discussion of the whole play will be led by Mrs. William E. Moore.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

On Friday, February 9th, the West Newton Women's Educational Club will have an evening meeting, instead of the usual one in the afternoon. More than usual advance notice is given, as the Club members are asked to bring members of their families and friends for a program which will be unusually attractive. This meeting will take place in the Odd Fellows' Hall Building, North Gate park, West Newton. There will be a delicious supper, served by the supper committee, for which there will be a nominal charge. After supper, the program will be an entertaining and amusing one; following which there will be tables for bridge and contract for the card players, and for those who prefer a different form of amusement, bowling may be enjoyed. Mrs. John S. Franklin is chairman for the evening.

State Federation

RADIO. For the program of tomorrow, the 27th, at 1:15 a. m., over Station WBZ, the division of Interracial Union, Mrs. William I. MacAulay, chairman, will present as guest speaker Harland Carpenter, of the Inter-racial Reading Service, whose subject will be "Library Service for Racial Groups." Music will be by Edith Irene Marshall, Pianist. Mrs. David R. Goodin, director of the Sixth district, will speak on "The Humanitarian Outlook."

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CONFERENCE. Miss Helena B. Shipman, chairman, will preside at the Conference of the division of International Relations to be held at the Twentieth Century Club, Boston, on February 2nd. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, Mrs. John H. Kimball, Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, Mrs. David A. Westcott, and Mrs. F. S. Davis will be guests of honor at the luncheon at 12:30 o'clock. Manley O. Hudson, Professor of International Law at Harvard, will speak on "Can the League of Nations be a Success?" Mrs. Lewis Rose, world traveler, writer, and lecturer, on "Russia Today"; and Mr. Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary, National Council for Prevention of Wars, Washington, D. C., will take as his subject "On What Does International Security Depend?" A question period will follow each speaker. Luncheon tickets, at 75 cents, must be procured before January 31st from Mrs. Charles Valentine, 362 Walcott street, Auburndale.

MID-WINTER MEETING. The Mid-Winter Meeting of the State Federation will be held at Hotel Bradford, Boston, on February 14th. Mrs. Russell A. Cone, chairman of the division of Legislation, will be in charge of the session, and it is expected that Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield, Mayor of Boston, will be present and speak. Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam is also scheduled for a brief address. The afternoon speaker is to be Dr. Albert Edward Wiggam, author and scientist, of New York City. Dr. Wiggam's subject will be "An Educated Woman in This Changing World."

CLUB INSTITUTES. The next Club Institute will be held at the Boston Y. W. C. A., on February 1st, at 10 o'clock, with Mrs. George A. Mellen, presiding. Mrs. Carl L. Schrader will tell about the recent General Federation Board Meeting. Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth will bring greetings from the State Federation, and Mrs. Joseph E. Davison will conduct a lesson in Parliamentary Law. Mrs. William R. Leslie, of Melrose Highlands, is to speak on "The Art of Program Making"; and "The Place of Music on Club Programs" will be dealt with by Mrs. Roy C. Baker of Clinton. Mrs. James H. Troy, of Milton, will handle the subject "What Place Shall Current Events Problems Have in the Programs of Women's Clubs?" Mrs. John H. Kimball will speak on "Headquarters," and Mrs. Frank W. Gurney, of Marlboro, on "How We Plan Our Programs"; while Mrs. William E. Austin, of Framingham, will tell of "A Program That Clubs Will Enjoy." A question period and announcements will close the Institute.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Community Club

The Children's Moving Picture morning, inaugurated by the Newton Community Club for the benefit of the Club Philanthropic Fund, proved a great success, the Paramount Theatre at Newton being crowded to overflowing with an audience of children and clubwomen and fathers in gay spirits. Late comers seated themselves Turk-fashion in the aisles, until they could find more comfortable places when the lights dispelled darkness.

Mrs. Frederick White officiated in the box office, and Mrs. Sterling Loveland directed affairs hither and yon. Club officers and Committee chairmen assisted valiantly by selling tickets before the event. To Mr. Snider, the theatre manager, is due much thanks and gratitude for his co-operation and his many courtesies.

Junior girls, some of them attired in charming Priscilla costumes of laced bodices and peaked white caps, acted as ushers, and sold candy during the intermission. Candy, candy, more candy, one wondered if the boys and girls would ever be filled up—pop corn balls, hard candies, lolly pops, Necco rolls of mints—a feast of sweets to augment the enjoyment on the screen. Mrs. Frederick G. Holcomb, director of Junior Membership, found her minutes amply filled, as she planned for the following candy girls: Minnie Spiers, Eleanor Collins, Alice Mansfield, Julia Dwight, Jane Weber, and Betty Tobey; and the following ushers: Lucille Holmes, Janet Hollis, Marjorie Clapp, Lucy Bradshaw, Marian Fraser, Verling Rawson, Margaret Wilson, Janet McFee, Jane Black, Muriel Ray, Margaret Flood, Harriet Conel, Audrey Smith, and Eleanor McAleer.

"Three Little Pigs" with its tuneful music and clever drawings by Walt Disney, was especially enjoyed. The children were mightily amused by the events of Mickey's Nightmare, and the views of behind the scenes in circus quarters gave many informative "sidelights" in the "sawdust." The western drama, "Drum Taps," was a thrilling story, with the hero and his lovely horse, cattleman, Mexicans, and rustlers. Boy scouts as assisting heroes was a happy choice in this picture for this children's program. It was heartening to note that the children had the right reaction to ethics, in their sympathy for "the good guy," and their dislike of "the bad guys," that the ejaculations being heard on all sides as good and ill fortune befell their hero, or fortune seemed to favor for a moment the villains.

Quite aside from the success of the experiment as to swelling the Philanthropic Fund of the Club, the sponsors, which comprised the Executive Board, may well feel that this experiment is worth repeating as an opportunity to bring the better grade pictures to the children of the city.

On Wednesday afternoon, January 17th, in the Unitarian Parish House, the Community Service Club of West Newton had as guests the members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club.

In greeting the sister club, the president, Mrs. Henry B. Patrick, glancing backward over the 53 years which have elapsed since the formation of the Women's Club in Newton, cited interesting changes in West Newton, difficult for Clubwomen of today to visualize.

The afternoon's program opened with five enjoyable numbers by the Club Chorus, under the leadership of Mrs. Marion Kingsbury, with Mrs. Frank S. Ford as piano accompanist. Frank S. Ford, as piano accompanist, was delightfully assisted in two Brains numbers by her little daughter, Barbara. Members of the Chorus included Mrs. Clifford M. Brewer, Mrs. Shepherd H. Crain, Mrs. W. W. Edwards, Mrs. W. C. Dort, Mrs. Ethel P. Coty, Mrs. Loretta Aldrich, Mrs. John Shade Franklin, Mrs. W. C. North, Mrs. Margaret Kilburn, Miss Theresa Cram, and Miss Julie Bacon.

The speaker for the afternoon was Dr. Clarence Skinner, head of the Tufts College School of Religion, and active in the Community Church of Boston, his subject being "What Are the Prospects for World Peace?" Dr. Skinner, who spent the summer in Europe, said that war is a common topic of talk in different parts of the world, and comparing conditions between 1914 and the present, he stated that there is much more in the world today to make for war than in 1914. He believes in looking forward to, and realizing, existing conditions, the strained relations, danger of conflicts, suspicions and hatreds between countries, and the new experiments in governments, but on the brighter side, he stated that there are more organization and more people weary of war and working for peace than were before, and trying in every way to smooth out difficulties as they arise. In conclusion the speaker expressed the hope that if a great enough effort is made, the methods of war can be supplanted and superseded by the methods of peace.

Tea and coffee were served during a social hour following the program, arrangements for which were directed by Mrs. Edwin I. Rogers, with Mrs. Edward S. Abbott, Mrs. G. M. Irvine, and Mrs. Henry C. Mitchell presiding as hostesses.

A Food Sale, in charge of Mrs. Thomas Cooper, Jr., was held before and after the meeting.

To Broadcast
Series of Seven Lectures on Art

General Federation Woman's Clubs Sponsors Feature

Beginning Saturday night, February 3rd, at 8 o'clock, Clubwomen may hear over the National Broadcasting system a series of Art lectures that is sure to be most interesting and informative. This project, initiated by Mrs. Henry Ness, chairman of Art in the General Federation of Women's Clubs, was organized under the auspices of such noteworthy institutes as the American Federation of Arts, the Art Institute of Chicago, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Museum of Modern Art, the Carnegie Corporation, and the National Advisory Council on Radio in Education. This series of Art Appreciation by radio is by far the biggest and most far reaching project ever attempted to take art to the people. Count René d'Harnoncourt is directing the series.

The entire presentation will be divided into two parts. The first, broadcast weekly from February 3rd to May 19th, sponsored by the Metropolitan Museum of Art, deals with Art in America, and will cover the subject up to the middle of the nineteenth century. The Art Institute of Chicago will contribute programs on the European background, on the Museum visitor in America, and the History of Collecting in the United States. Dialogue drama will show the listener a way to better understanding and appreciation of works of art and artistic principles. The second part will be given in the fall of 1934, prepared by the Museum of Modern Art, covering the subject from the middle of the nineteenth century to the present time.

Since the only measurement of the success of broadcasts is in the amount and quality of "fan mail," Mrs. Ness asks clubwomen who find these programs of interest to write to the chairman or to the radio station.

The lecture titles are as follows:
Feb. 3—The Painter Reporters of the New World.
Feb. 10. The Early Settlers and Their Homes.

Feb. 17. The First American Portraits.
Feb. 24. How They Lived in Colonial America.

Mar. 3. John Singleton Copley, Our First Eminent Painter.
Mar. 10. The Background of American Art.

Mar. 17. An American Studio in London.
Mar. 24. Peale and His Museum.

Mar. 31. Gilbert Stuart and the Washington Portrait.
Apr. 7. The Classic Arts of the New Republic.

Apr. 14. Thomas Jefferson, Last of the Gentlemen Builders.
Apr. 21. The First American Sculptors.

Apr. 28. Steamboat Gothic and Romantic Curves.
May 5. The Hudson River School and Its Heirs.

May 12. The Goodwins' 100 Years of Picture Collecting in America.
May 19. Art and the Public.

the historical antecedents of Richard III from his grandfather Edward III, putting special emphasis on lineage of the Dukes of Lancaster, York and Gloucester.

She stressed, also, the facts that the central interest of the play is strictly national, expressing the difficulties of the country, and, although Richard II falls from his throne, unkingly as it is, it gathers distinction and dignity from the glamour of poetry which Shakespeare sheds about it.

Auburndale Woman's Club Garden Club

A great deal of interest was evidenced by the attendance at the Little Show which the Auburndale Garden Club put on at the home of Mrs. Paul Chandler, 62 Vista avenue, on Monday, January 22nd. The idea of the Show was to prove that material is available out-of-doors at this time of year, or if flowers are the preference, that the small rain of flowers can buy a showing of flowers if placed in the proper container. Also, many lovely brocades and shawls were lent as back-grounds, which added greatly to the beauty of the display.

The classes for winter bouquets and flower arrangements for dining table or living room table were displayed in the reception room.

The sun room presented exhibits of house-plants, dish gardens, and terrariums.

Those who alternated at the tea table throughout the afternoon were Mrs. Guy Winslow, Mrs. Arthur Lane, Mrs. Ernest Drew, Mrs. F. F. Davidson, Mrs. Florence Tower and Miss Anne Bunker. Mrs. Ralph Keyes was chairman of the afternoon. Mrs. Charles Grover is general chairman of the Garden committee which includes Mrs. Guy Winslow, Mrs. Wilbur Gilpatrick, Mrs. Elbridge Minard, Mrs. Paul Chandler, Mrs. John Brown, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Ferguson and Mrs. Ralph Keyes.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

A three-act play, "Tourists Accommodated," was read by nine of the club members at the close of the business meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on Monday evening, January 22nd. In the absence of the chairman of the evening Mrs. Mary Wiczorek, who was out of town, Mrs. Thomas A. Aiken and Mrs. Albert Proctor had charge of the play-reading.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Walter F. Stevens of the Legislative committee, explained somewhat the bills before the state of Massachusetts for action and study. Mrs. Evans, the president, gave a short report of the Newton Federation meeting held at Newton Highlands on January 16th.

At the close of the meeting the members were interested to view the re-modeled kitchenette for use of club and school. The Club, through a former president, was instrumental in furnishing and installing the gas stove.

Twenty-nine of the members and friends visited the First National Stores at Somerville on January 17th, where they enjoyed seeing how the products were assembled and handled to be distributed to the various stores in New England.

Newton Federation

The January meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs was a long and most interesting session when it convened on the 22nd at the Newton Library. The Board held no December meeting.

Outstanding in its interest was the report of Mrs. Robert Bonner, chairman of the Civics or Community Service committee. Mrs. Bonner has charge of perhaps the most important of the Federation's activities at the present time, and together with her efficient committee, accomplishes much more than the distribution of clothing from the Chest at City Hall. Calls upon her are many and varied and Mrs. Bonner's committee however repeats the appeal for clothing and bedding, as the supply must be replenished if the distribution of articles and garments is to be continued throughout the cold season. The need is exceedingly great, and this work should be facilitated as much as possible when the committee is endeavoring so earnestly, and is demonstrating such genuine interest in the welfare of Newton residents.

The Board voted unanimously to accept the finance committee's proposed budget which was revised after the last meeting and which was presented by Mrs. Harry E. Moore.

At the proposal of Mrs. Victor P. Ratzburg, Program chairman, it was decided to hold a meeting of Program chairmen this spring, similar to that of a year ago. Mrs. Ratzburg suggested that the group be enlarged this year to include the clubs in the twelfth district, rather than just those of Newton.

The Health Christmas Seals committee was represented by its chairman, Miss Elizabeth P. Bartlett, who gave a report of receipts to date, and regretted that in many cases no response had been received to letters enclosing seals which were mailed at Thanksgiving time. Miss Bartlett would be very pleased to receive the purchase price of the seals, but requests of those who do not wish to make this contribution that they return the seals so that her accounting may be complete. There is urgent need for all the funds that can possibly be raised for this work in combating tuberculosis, much of it preventive work.

Mrs. J. Porter Russell reported that there is to be a branch of the Boston League of Women Voters established in Newton, and that Mrs. Walter Hart-stone, of Newton Centre, will direct its activities.

After bespeaking a good attendance at the performance of "Little Women" at the Newton Paramount Theatre on January 28th, 29th, 30th and 31st, Mrs. D. Earl Brackett, chairman of the Motion Picture committee, recommended the accompanying picture, "My Lips Betray," as also being a worthwhile production, and of the Cherrilla type.

The Board gave a few minutes to Mr. H. Lawrence Robinson, who represented the Boston Civic Children's Theatre. It is the wish of his organization to present plays which will be a wholesome diversion for children of the age attending the elementary grades of school. This group of players, it will be recalled, presented Jack and the Beanstalk recently in the auditorium of the R. H. White Company, and it would like to produce Hansel and Gretel for their first offering in this city. Mr. Robinson wished for the approval of the presentation of plays of this type and the endorsement and recommendation of the women's club members. The Board was favorably impressed with Mr. Robinson's plan.

There were informal discussions on several matters, among them the question of the possibility of the City taking the Albemarle Country Club property as a municipal playground and recreation center. There was considerable discussion, but the Board did not go on record in this matter.

To the Women's Club of Newton Highlands, through its president, Mrs. Theron B. Walker, the Executive Board of the Federation expressed its deep appreciation of the Club's hospitable entertainment on the occasion of its Mid-Winter meeting.

THEATRE ENTERTAINS LOCAL BOYS

The Loew's State Theatre of Boston will entertain a number of the local Saturday Evening Post boys this coming Saturday. The feature picture will be "Eskimo," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture filmed by W.
S. Van Dyke, the director of Trader Horn. Eighteen months were required to produce this epic of the north, in which all of the actors are native Eskimos. It is a true picture of Eskimo life, showing such unusual shots as birds being harpooned in mid-air, a wolf in mortal combat with a man, and a giant whale being hunted by men. It is acclaimed by critics as superior to the picture Trader Horn and the boys are looking forward with keen anticipation to seeing this picture at Loew's State. The following boys, all well known in the community and outstanding Saturday Evening Post salesboys expect to attend:
Gilbert Gould, Fred Condon, Robert
McClure, Robert Doherty, George Hamilton, Maxwell Patterson, Walter Imrie, William Williams and Charles Prescott.

RADIO ROBINS ANNUAL CONCERT

The Radio Robins' annual concert will be given in the auditorium of the Mason School, on the evening of Saturday, February third, at half after seven. The program will include several choruses by the entire club. Two little plays will be given by members of the "Little Players' Club," a recently formed addition to the "Robins." There will be vocal solos by Gloria Florin, Mary Mandile, a Dutch dance in costume by Sheila Richardson; a Chinese dance and song in appropriate garb by Marian Cappadona, and a reading by Ruth Nord-strom. As an added attraction Mr.
T. H. Russell of Brookline has consented to repeat his ventriloquist act, which he gave for the children last winter at their concert in Trinity Parish House. He will bring his talking doll "Johnnie," who will entertain the children and their elders with his jokes and songs and wise sayings.

—"A Crime at Blossoms," a three-act play by Mordaunt Shafrin, will be presented by the Elliot Players in the Elliot Church Chapel on Friday and Saturday evenings, February 9th and 10th, at 8:15 o'clock. This play offers most unusual treatment of a mystery plot and pictures the psychological developments in the people who inhabit the house where a murder has been committed. The production is directed by Miss Bessie Stratton, assisted by Mrs. Albert N. Walker and Miss Marion Graham.

"Artists Night" at Mrs. A. Hubbard's

The first of a series of Artists' Nights was a very pleasant affair at the home of Mrs. Allan Hubbard, Montvale road, Newton Centre, on Jan. 19. Among the Newton Centre artists present were Mr. and Mrs. William Paxton, Mr. John Hilliard, Miss Priscilla Ordway, and Mrs. Clyde Stafford. A group of Greater Boston artists whose studios are in Boston also attended.

During the evening several talented young musicians entertained the party. Mrs. Montague Ford accompanied Mr. Armen Carapetian, violinist and then played piano solos, one of which was her own composition. Mr. Alan Scott Hovaness of Boston, composer and pianist played his own compositions.

The next supper and musicale will be on the evening of Feb. 23, at Mrs. Hubbard's. This is the opening day of an exhibition at the Newton Centre Woman's Club house of paintings by Younger Artists of Greater Boston.

CUNARD AGAIN CARRIES MOST PASSENGERS

According to the Cunard Line's report of passengers carried during 1933, it develops that for the eleventh successive year, the Cunard and Associated Lines have carried more passengers than any other line or group of lines.

The total passengers carried during 1933 by the Cunard and Associated Lines reach 127,065.

A feature of the year was the "Mauritania" list of twelve day cruises to the West Indies and South America, by virtue of which the cruise carryings of the Line for the year also exceeded those of 1932. Thirteen of these cruises were operated and a total of 7,393 passengers were carried. The cruises covered the months of January, February and March for the Winter Season, and July, August and September for the Summer Vacation Season.

Dickens Lecture at Newton M.E. Church

Mr. Edward F. Payne, Boston, an authority on Charles Dickens, will Crayon Lecture on "Dickens the Humanitarian" at the Newton Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of Centre and Wesley Streets, the Rev. Harry Belmont Hill, Minister, this coming

Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Payne is an author, artist, and lecturer. He has written books on Dickens that are accepted as standards. His comic "Billy the Artist," which has appeared in the Sunday Globe for the past twenty years makes his name a household word to our boys and girls. He has lectured in most of the states of the Union and for the past eight years has given a lecture at the Boston Public Library on some phase of Dickens' life. At present he is the President of the Dickens Club of Boston. His crayon sketches and impersonations of Dickens' characters will ever live in your memory. Avail yourself of the opportunity of hearing this notable personality. Mrs. Harry Belmont Hill will sing solo numbers.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS

The U. S. Civil Service Commission announces open competitive examinations for Toolmaker at 80c an hour (less 15%) and Helper, Machinist, at 50c an hour (less 15%) to fill vacancies in the Ordnance Department at Large, War Department, Watertown Arsenal, Watertown, Mass. Preference in certification will be given to local eligibles.

Competitors will not be required to report for a written examination, but will be rated on their experience and fitness. Applicants for Toolmaker must have completed a four-year apprenticeship in the trade of toolmaker or have had four years of practical experience in such trade, the substantial equivalent of completed apprenticeship. Applicants for Helper, Machinist, must have had at least six months of experience in the occupation of helper, machinist.

Information and applications may be obtained from the Secretary, Board of Civil Service Examiners, Watertown Arsenal, Watertown, Mass.; or the Manager, First Civil Service District, U. S. Post Office and Courthouse Building, Boston, Mass. Applications must be filed with the local secretary at the Watertown Arsenal by Feb. 1, 1934.

HUDSON TERRAPLANE CARS POPULAR

Myrton F. Evans, Terraplane and Hudson dealer for this vicinity, has returned from the Terraplane and Hudson dealers' convention held in New York City.

"Never in my history as an automobile dealer," said Mr. Evans, "have I attended a more enthusiastic trade meeting than the Terraplane and Hudson meeting held in New York. The new Terraplanes and Hudsons for 1934 are roomier, larger and finer in appearance than their predecessors, and in spite of the fact that they are bigger in every respect will out-perform even the famous cars of this line for 1933."

"The cars are ultra-modern in every respect. They incorporate features which are distinctive of this line alone. Although these cars are bigger and more luxuriously appointed than ever, not one iota of their performance ability has been sacrificed. In fact, the contrary is the case."

Hubbard Pharmacy Wins First Prize in State Wide Contest

Wilfred Chagnon Gets Silver Cup at Worcester

The Hubbard Pharmacy at 425 Centre street, Newton, won another distinct honor on Monday when it was awarded first prize in the State wide contest for drug store displays in competition with 2200 drug stores throughout Massachusetts. The competition included both window and store displays and was conducted last October during National Pharmacy Week. The window display at the Hubbard Pharmacy featured an old style display of herbs and drugs and was arranged by George A. One, one of the staff of registered pharmacists at Hubbard Pharmacy. More than 350 herbs were displayed, together with descriptive photographs and cards. An interesting feature of the display was a map of the United States showing where the various herbs grow.

At the meeting of the Mass. State Pharmaceutical Association at Worcester on Monday the prize, a large silver cup was presented to Wilfred Chagnon, proprietor of the Hubbard Pharmacy. Mr. Chagnon told the assembled pharmacists that drug stores should endeavor to function more as pharmacies and less as grocery and hardware stores.

He said that drug stores have a definite place in a community and they will regain prosperity sooner by concentrating on the particular type of service they formerly rendered. The Hubbard Pharmacy was established in 1887 by Fred A. Hubbard and Harry Proctor and has always enjoyed a high reputation. It carries one of the most complete stocks of herbs and biologicals of any drug store in Massachusetts and its staff includes five registered pharmacists.

W. C. T. U. INSTITUTE

Among the Newton women who have a place on the program of the annual Middlesex County Institute of the W. C. T. U. to be held in Cambridge Y. W. C. A. on Temple Street are Mrs. John A. Groves, County chairman of Legislators and County Treasurer, who will speak on Institutions, Why, When and Where; Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley who will conduct the Quiz; Mrs. Katherine L. S. Goddard, who will offer the noonday prayer; and Dr. N. Louise Rand, State Secretary of the Young People's Branch on the work for the Y. P. B.

Mrs. Anna W. Berkitt of Wesley and Mrs. Annie M. Bennett of Brookline, who will present a model Union will also have a part in this varied program. It will be an all day meeting on Tuesday, January 30, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. with luncheon in the Y. W. C. A. dining room or nearby restaurants, and not only the several hundred W. C. T. U. women in Newton are urged to be present but all interested in this work will be cordially welcomed.

ENTERTAINS AT BRAE BURN

A representative group of all Newton women met at the Brae Burn Club on Tuesday afternoon as the guests of Mrs. L. M. S. Miner.

Mrs. Weeks, wife of Mayor Sinclair Weeks and Mrs. Saltonstall, wife of Speaker Leverett Saltonstall graced the coffee table.

Miss Wheeler, the head of the Out-patient Department of the Newton Hospital, spoke of the work of the hospital and the organizations in Boston are needed to augment it.

Mrs. Joel Barnes, cashier of the Red Cross Motorcade, expressed the great need of Volunteer drivers in Newton.

Mr. Burroughs, founder of Burroughs News Boys Foundation, gave a most inspiring talk, closing with the thought:

"All that you lost, is gone; all that you have may be taken away; but all that you give, you can never lose."

PENNY SALE

To the many members of Notre Dame Alumnae of the Boston Academy who are residents of Newton, an announcement of interest has been made by the president, Mrs. G. Warren Benninghof, of a Penny Sale, to be held at the Hotel Somerset on Monday evening, Jan. 29th. The proceeds of the sale will be devoted to charity. Miss Evelyn G. Collins is chairman and is assisted by a large committee.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Next Saturday evening there is to be a dinner bridge at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill, at which the following Newton ladies are among those entertaining: Misses D. Earl Brackett, West Newton; Whitney E. Harmon, Newton; J. W. F. Kennedy, Chestnut Hill; Harry E. Moore, Newton Centre; Maurice E. Peters, West Newton, and D. D. Scott, Newton Centre.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

The club work at the Bigelow Junior High School offers the pupils a large field of interesting activities. Twice a year each pupil has the privilege of indicating his choice of club. The work done in these clubs has a recreational as well as educational value. Here hobbies and outside interests may be developed.

The school has two Book Clubs; one for the seventh grade and one for the eighth and ninth grades. The aim of these clubs is to interest children in reading the best books for their age, and to learn the different types of novels and short stories as well as the various merits and styles of the authors.

The purpose of the Boys' Club is to interest boys in current events especially those things that concern recreation and leisure time activities.

The aims of the Science Club are to give an opportunity for individual experiment, to present fields of science not covered in the regular course, and to develop a scientific attitude and a scientific mind.

The Illustration Club is composed of those pupils who have some artistic and creative ability. Individual members design the cover and illustrations for each issue of the school magazine. The members also become familiar with linoleum block tools through their use in cutting their own designs. Some opportunity is given to develop originality in the production of posters advertising different school activities.

The Hobby Club was formed to develop hobbies already existing and to interest boys in other hobbies besides their own.

The purpose of the Junior Red Cross Club is to interest pupils in performing services for others and to give them opportunities to do so. The Junior Red Cross Club furnished Thanksgiving dinner, donated and repaired 100 toys for Christmas giving, and canvassed shoes and clothing for many needy children.

There are two Dramatic Clubs: one open to eighth and ninth grade pupils and one for the seventh grade. Here the pupils develop better diction and stage presence by participation in plays.

The Travel Club aims to create interest in the world about us through imaginary trips to remote places of historical and general interest and actual trips to places near at hand. The Expression Club is for those pupils who wish to improve their command of English, to acquire poise, and to learn how to be interesting among a group of people.

The Aviation Club is open to seventh grade boys who are interested in the construction and knowledge of airplanes. It also aims to instill in its members a realization of the need of strong bodies, steady nerves, and complete concentration in everyday life.

The aim of the Glee Club is to afford personal satisfaction through singing, to supplement the work in the regular music classes, and to give opportunities for individual self-expression.

Day Jr. High School

On Jan. 8th the Day boys' varsity teams defeated the teams from Warren. The first team led by the score of 34 and the second team by the score of 25-5.

Keen interest was shown in the Jan. 24th assembly. Bernard Erickson introduced Capt. Jack Wallace, well-known deep-sea diver. Capt. Wallace explained the different parts of a diver's suit, while his assistants put them on to Bernard Erickson.

The P. A. Day was indeed fortunate on Jan. 24th in being one of the schools whose bands were conducted by the famous Edwin Frank Goldman.

Mr. Goldman, who was introduced by Richard Whitney, spoke briefly of the value of music.

Mr. Samuel Thurber was judge at an exciting spelling bee which took place in the January 10th assembly between division B of the ninth grade and division A of the eighth grade. Throughout the entire contest the teams were very evenly matched, but finally Joan Merrill of the eighth grade spelled down Nancy Bates of Grade Nine.

The official basketball season did not open very auspiciously for the Day team which suffered defeat in the first game with Bigelow by the score of 18-15.

Home room basketball teams have been formed for both boys and girls. Inter-room games are now in progress.

Scenic beauties and animal oddities were presented on the screen at an afternoon assembly on January 16th when Capt. Stanley Osborne lectured about Australia and New Zealand. Capt. Osborne, who served in the British army during the World War, is a native of Australia. His pictures and anecdotes were thoroughly enjoyed by a most attentive audience.

Staff members of the "Daytonian" will attend the winter meeting of the League of Junior High School Publications, to be held in Arlington. William Nelson and Weston Haskell will talk at that time on the topic of Linoleum Block Printing, emphasizing the designing and cutting of the blocks.

Room 28, an eighth grade home room, was responsible for the January 17th assembly. Helen Sleeper, as chairman, introduced the numbers on the program, which consisted of a piano duet by Gladys Cameron and Betty King, a cello solo by Daphne Kenway, a humorous recitation by Robert Caswell, a piano solo by Lillian DeRubers, a boy's chorus of eight "cowboys", a dialogue between Penrod and Sam by George Hutchings and Dulby Tarnese, and movies of Spain, northern Africa, and Italy. The latter were records of a trip taken by Nancy Flagg who talked about the pictures as they were shown.

Weeks Junior H. S.

Members of the Campercraft Club were in charge of the assembly program on Wednesday, January 24th. George Hickman was in charge of the program. Alfred Low spoke on "Going Light," Edward MacDonald on "Whittling" and Robert Hunting on the "Reforestation Work of the C.C.C." Cedric Schofield, James McLean, Phyllis Whiting, Florence Capobianco, Carleton Billings, Fred Young, Robert Simpson, and Alexander Murphy assisted in demonstrating.

At the second assembly on Wednesday morning Edwin Frank Goldman, renowned band leader, was the guest speaker. He conducted the Weeks band in a stirring march. Richard Lo, well introduced Mr. Goldman and Jane Ely, one of the drum majors, presented the band to its guest conductor.

The first meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the John W. Weeks Junior High School for 1934 was held in the school auditorium on Wednesday evening, January 17. More than two hundred members and friends of the school attended.

Mr. Tressler Callihan, the president of the organization, introduced Miss Florence Barnard of Brookline as the speaker of the evening. Miss Barnard, who has achieved a national reputation in connection with the teaching of thrift in the public schools of the country, spoke on "Money Management—An Index to Life Management."

Before Miss Barnard's talk, a double quartet composed of Mesdames McKillop, Sutton, Karl Bowman, and Harold Bowman and the Messrs. Thayer, Kirby, Breitzke, and Moore sang two selections, accompanied by Mrs. Kirtley Mather at the piano.

Six members of the staff of the Weeks Junior World will attend the second meeting of the League of Junior High School publications this afternoon in Arlington. The members of the Weeks' School will make formal application on behalf of their school publication for membership in the league.

Room 209, after many hard-fought games, succeeded in winning the eighth grade boys' basketball championship for the first half of the year's schedule, and will meet the winner of second half for the first championship in a game to be played on February 26.

The Alumni basketball team (the 1933 varsity) defeated the present 1934 varsity by a score of 49 to 14. The 1933 junior varsity defeated the 1934 junior varsity to the tune of 30 to 8.

The 1934 Boys' Varsity Basketball team is captained by Harvey Isham and managed by Harvard Crabtree. Harry Campbell is captain of the Junior Varsity while Robert Whelden is manager. Baxter Richardson and James Dealy perform the duties of assistant managers and Richard Palmer is the official scorer.

History in the making and the ghosts of Halloween instructed and amused the assembled student body at the weekly assembly on Wednesday, January 17.

The IIE Social Studies Class performed a colorful one act play entitled "The Compromise of the Ages." This production was an original creation from the pens of Jane Ely and Earle Vaughan, members of IIE, and Wednesday's performance was the first dramatization of this play on any stage.

The cast includes Earle Vaughan, Donald Ball, Paul Newcomb, Roy Spillman, Charles Stonemetz, Murdock Bowman, Robert Norr, Jan Hughes, Carol Stiles, Phyllis Schwab.

The stage manager was Jane Ely. Ardith Lakin was in charge of the costumes and Natalie Phaneuf, the stage properties.

Screams, thunder and lightning, weird figures, a fussy aunt, the superstitions of a colored maid, and the tribulations of a young man and woman kept the audience alternately breathless and laughing when the "chanteleers," one of the ninth grade drama clubs, gave their first play of the season. The cast of this play included Joan Marble, Marjorie Hesselein, Jane McKnight, Everett Daniels, Selma Michaelis, Thomas Larkin.

Julia Mather directed the play and introduced the players to the audience. Constance Summers was stage manager, Ray Wisner, her assistant; while Francis Mackin, James Ingalls, and Dean Proctor contributed the lighting and sound effects.

Widow Seeks City Pension

Mrs. Flora Marchant of 53 Pearl st., Newton, widow of Benjamin Marchant, a former employee of the Newton Fire Department, has applied for a pension from the City of Newton. Her husband died on October 10, 1933, and through her lawyer, Hugh Boyd, she states that his death was caused by an injury to his kidney, received 10 days before his death, and caused by Mr. Marchant having been thrown to the ground by the slipping of a cable he was handling. According to the provisions of the Newton Retirement Act, the widow of any employee who dies from an injury received in the performance of duty, is entitled to receive the pension he would have received, plus the money he paid into the Retirement Association fund. If Mrs. Marchant's claim is allowed, she would receive about $1000 per year pension.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

The annual winter carnival of Lasell Junior College will be held Saturday evening when the Queen of the Carnival will be announced. Nominees for the honor are being voted upon this week by the entire student body and include: Emily Ingwersen, Flossmoor, Ill.; Carol Morehouse, Darien, Conn.; Helen Hall, Moorestown, N. J.; Helen Allen, Massena, N. Y.; Phyllis Atkinson, Carlisle; and Jean Gilbert, West Medford. These girls have been chosen because they are the most active and the most popular at the college. The Carnival, under auspices of the athletic department, will include winter sports in the afternoon, conditions permitting, and a costume party in the chapel in the evening.

Lasell Junior College is planning its second excursion to the White Mountains. The Bellevue Hotel, Intervale, N. H., has been reserved for the weekend of Feb. 9 to 12 for the Lasell party. In the heart of the mountains the girls will enjoy skating, trailing, skiing, tobogganing, snowshoeing, sliding and hiking. Evenings will be devoted to sleighing parties and hikes through Cathedral Woods to the Bassett Hut where dyanjacks and syrup will be served. This will be Lasell's twenty-fourth visit to Intervale.

The second vesper service of the year sponsored by the Lasell Missionary Society will be held Sunday evening when the speakers will be Dr. and Mrs. Arthur O. Rinden, who for six years were directors of Evangelistic work under the American Board of Foreign Missions at Fu Chow, China.

MUSIC SCHOOL TO GIVE RECITALS

Pupils of the All-Newton Music School will give a series of five recitals and a final concert during the remainder of the school year. The first recital will be for the elementary and junior grades of the Claffin Branch this evening. A demonstration of the work of the Theory Classes will be given as part of the program. On Friday, Feb. 2nd, the elementary and junior grades of the Pierce Branch will give their recital at 7:30 to 8.

Recitals for the intermediate grades of the two branches will be given in March with that of the Claffin Branch to be held on March 16th and that of the Pierce Branch on March 23rd.

The senior pupils recital for both the Claffin and Pierce Branches will be held on Sunday evening, April 8th, at 7:45 at the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville. The final concert of the entire school will be held on Monday, May 28th at 7:45 in the assembly hall of the high school at Newtonville. This concert will be similar to the semi-popular character of the concert given in December which was so well liked.
